thermodynamics and hydrothermal fluids It also discusses the multistage growth characteristics of various skarn minerals in which the varying compositions reflect the evolution of the hydrothermal fluid The multidisciplinary nature of this research sheds new light on reconstructing metallogenetic processes successfully It outlines the main aspects of skarn zonation based on the dominant contents of the skarn minerals and the wall rock compositions In addition it focuses on volatile rich minerals including tourmaline and hastingsite highlighting the importance of the volatile component in the skarn deposit Lastly it describes the regional tectonic magmatic evolutionary history to explain the metallogenetic principles which can be used to guide prospecting in the field

This book is the first systematic treatise of available data and view points obtained from geological and geochemical studies of the Mo deposits in Qinling Orogen China Qinling Orogen has a minimum reserve of 8 7 Mt Mo ranking the largest molybdenum province both in China and the world Incorporating all known Mo deposit types in the world it presents extensive studies of Mo deposits of world class and unusual types within tectonic settings The Qinling Orogen was finally formed during continental collision between Yangtze and North China cratons following the Triassic closure of the northernmost paleo Tethys It hosts 49 Mo deposits formed in seven mineralization events since 1850 Ma with all the world class deposits being formed during 160 105 Ma coeval with collisional orogeny These deposits are assigned to magmatic and metamorphic hydrothermal classes The magmatic hydrothermal class includes porphyries skarns and intrusion related veins carbonatite fluorite and quartz The porphyry Mo systems in Qinling Orogen are predominated by Dabie type formed in continental collision setting followed by Endako and Climax types formed in continental arcs and rifts respectively The metamorphic hydrothermal Mo deposits are only reported in Qinling Orogen and thus a new crustal continuum model for the orogenic class mineral systems is proposed A scientific linkage between ore geology and fluid inclusions is introduced and verified both by theory and case studies This is the first research book comprehensively displaying continental collision metallogeny This literature will benefit both Western and Chinese mineral explorers and miners as well as research scientists and students
