Geographies And Moralities International Perspectives On Development Justice And Place:

Geographies and Moralities Roger Lee, David M. Smith, 2011-07-22 This topical book addresses contemporary concern with the interconnections between geography and morality. Covers both the geographical context of morality and moralities in geographical methods and practices. Contains up to date case studies based on original research. Deals with controversial issues such as problems of globalization, European integration, human rights in Nigeria, territorial conflict in Israel and land reform in post apartheid South Africa. The editors are well published leading international authorities. The contributors are drawn from Australia, Eastern Europe, Israel, South Africa, the UK and the US.

Interrogating Alterity Roger Lee, Mr Andrew E G Jonas, Mr Duncan Fuller, 2012-11-28 Alternative ways of thinking, analysing and performing economic geographies have become increasingly significant in recent years, partly due to the recent financial crisis which has had social and political consequences throughout the world. Yet there is a danger that the debate about alternatives may become simply a way of fixing global capitalism in its present crisis-ridden form. Instead, the analysis of alternative economic spaces must continue to offer a critique of the very notion of capitalism as a universal if variable set of social relations. This important book brings together critical analyses of alterity from across the social sciences and humanities, refining and advancing what alternative economies and polities are, how they are formed, what difficulties and problems they face, and how they might be sustained. A central theme is the need to examine critically both the material contexts and the conceptual categories deployed in the making of alternative economies.

Property, Planning and Protest: The Contentious Politics of Housing Supply Quintin Bradley, 2023-03-17 The struggle for the right to housing is a battle over property rights and land use. For housing to be provided as a human need, land must be recognised as a common right. Property, Planning and Protest is a compelling new investigation into public opposition to housing and real estate development. Its innovative materialist approach is grounded in the political economy of land value and it recognises the conflict between communities and real estate capital as a struggle over land and property rights. Property, Planning and Protest is about a social movement struggling for democratic representation in land use decisions. The amenity groups it describes champion a democratic planned system that allocates land for social and environmental goals. Situating this movement in a history of land reform and common rights, this book sets out a persuasive new vision of democratic planning and affordable housing for all.

Taking Care of the Future Oliver Pattenden, 2018-03-06 Taking Care of the Future examines the moral dimensions and transformative capacities of education and humanitarianism through an intimate portrayal of learners, volunteers, donors and educators at a special needs school in South Africa and a partnering UK-based charity. Drawing on his professional experience of inclusive education in London, Oliver Pattenden investigates how systems of schooling regularly exclude and mishandle marginalized populations, particularly exploring how street kids and poverty-afflicted young South Africans experience these dynamics as they attempt to fashion their futures. By unpacking the ethical terrains of fundraising voluntourism Christian benevolence human rights colonial legacies and the post apartheid transition Pattenden analyzes how political economic and social aspects of intervention materialize to transform the lives of all those involved Global Shift

Aitken, 2016-02-17 Change is inevitable we are told A job is lost a couple falls in love children leave home an addict joins Narcotics Anonymous two nations go to war a family member's health deteriorates a baby is born a universal health care bill is voted into law Life comprises events over which we have considerable partial or little or no control The distance between the event and our daily lives suggests a quirky spatial politics Our lives move forward depending upon how events play out in concert with our reactions to them Drawing on nearly three decades of geographic projects that involve ethnographies and interviews with and stories about young people in North and South America Europe and Asia and using the innovative technique of ethnopoetry Aitken examines key life changing events to look at the interconnections between space politics change and emotions Analysing the intricate spatial complexities of these events he explores the emotions that undergird the ways change takes place and the perplexing spatial politics that almost always accompany transformations Aitken positions young people as effective agents of change without romanticizing their political involvement as fantasy and unrealistic dreaming Going further he suggests that it is the emotional palpability of youth engagement and activism that makes it so potent and productive Pulling on the spatial theories of de Certeau Deleuze Massey Agamben Rancière Žižek and Grosz amongst others Aitken argues that spaces are transformative to the degree that they open the political and he highlights the complexly interwoven political economic social and cultural practices that simultaneously embed and embolden people in places If we think of spaces as events and events encourage change then spaces and people become other through complex relations Taking poetry to be an emotive construction of language Aitken re visualizes contours and arranges people's words and gestures to Property and Community Gregory S.

Alexander, Eduardo Moisés Peñalver, Eduardo M. Peñalver, 2010 Property and Community fills a major gap in the legal literature on property and its relationship to community The essays included differ from past discussions including those provided by law and economics by providing richer accounts of community By and large prior discussions by property theorists treat communities as agglomerations of individuals and eschew substantive accounts of justice favoring what Charles Taylor has called procedural conceptions These perspectives on ownership obscure the possibility that the community might have a moral status that differs from neighboring owners or from non owning individuals This book examines a variety of social practices that implicate community in its relationship to property These practices range from more obvious property based communities like Israeli kibbutzim to surprising examples such as queues Aspects of law and community in relationship to legal and social institutions both inside and outside of the United States are discussed Alexander and Peñalver seek to mediate the distance between abstract theory and mundane features of daily life to provide a rich textured treatment of the relationship between law and community Instead of defining community in abstractly theoretical terms they approach the subject through the lens of concrete institutions and social practices In doing so they not only enrich our empirical understanding of the relationship between property and community but also provide important insights into the concept of community itself Culture and Communication in Thailand Patchanee

Turner, Hannah Wolf, Gregor Fitzi, Jürgen Mackert, 2020-04-07 At times of triumphant neo liberalism cities increasingly become objects of financial speculation Formally social and political rights might not be abolished yet factually they have become inaccessible for large parts of the population The contributions gathered in this volume shed light on the clash between the perspectives of restructuring and reordering urban environments in the interest of investors and the manifold and innovative agencies of resistance that claim and stand up for the rights of urban citizenship Renewed waves of urban transformation employ state coercion to foster the expulsion of poor and marginalised inhabitants from those urban spaces that attract interest from speculators The intervention of state agencies triggers the work of hegemonic culture for reframing the housing issue and implementing moral and political legitimation as well as legislation that restricts urban citizenship rights The case studies of the volume comparatively show the different and sometimes contradictory patterns of these conflicts in Berlin Sydney Belfast Jerusalem Amsterdam and Istanbul as well as in metropolises of Latin America and China Innovative resistance agencies emerge that paint possible paths for the re establishment of the right to the city as the core of urban citizenship
