The ten articles in this book illuminate a wide range of topics of interest to Geography education. In their article Skarstein and Wolff discuss how the interplay between the environment, society and economy pillars of sustainability thinking play out on scales of time, space and multitude and how geography teachers can support the students' understanding of sustainability. Yli Panula et al. analysed used teaching and learning methods to find out good ones for promoting sustainability in geography. The same idea can be found in Duffin's and Perry's article on Place Based Ecology Education. In their article Dr. and Keller discuss the topics of quality of life, sustainability and global justice based on the goals of Education for Sustainable Development. Evaluation is an important part of learning. It is reviewed by Schauss and Sprenger regarding climate change education. The following two articles deal with students' views of landscapes worth conserving. In both studies students expressed concern about the state of the environment. Yli Panula et al. found that the Mexican students seldom considered their own activities in relation to the environment while Yli Panula et al. stated that only some of the Finnish and Swedish students act as observers while others actively care for their environment. The remaining three articles deal with teaching methods and models. Benninghaus et al. present a benchmark method which allows statements about the quality of the maps, diagrams in general. Ivarez Otero and De L. zaro y Torres on the other hand describe their Technological Pedagogical Content Knowledge model. Kopnina and Saari discusses student assignments reflecting on the documentary film through critical pedagogy and ecopedagogy.

Current Topics in Czech and Central European Geography Education Petra Karvánková, Dagmar Popjaková, Michal Vančura, Jozef Mládek, 2016-10-19 This book discusses current challenges related to teaching geography mainly at the secondary school and higher education level. Focusing on a range of current topics, different methods, techniques, materials, applications and approaches to geography education with a regional Central European perspective, the book makes an original contribution to the field. Most of the chapters aim at the practical development of the themes such as geography curriculum. Part I: global education, inquiry based education, project based learning, case studies, powerful teaching. Part II: using of information and communication technologies. Part III: in geography teaching. The final part, Part IV, covers some geopolitical and socio-geographical aspects of the aforementioned Central European former communist countries from the point of view how to teach them with various methods. Therefore the book can appeal to many geography or science students.
