Guide To Phlamoudhi:

Guide to Phlamoudhi Joanna S. Smith, 2005-01-01 Views from Phlamoudhi, Cyprus Joanna S. Smith, 2008 Includes 76 b w figures Fieldwork in the village of Phlamoudhi Cyprus from 1970 1973 by the Columbia University Expedition to Phlamoudhi recorded the only systematically excavated evidence for Middle to Late Bronze Age and Iron Age settlement north of the Kyrenia Mountains Halted by the war of 1974 that divided the island most of the discoveries in Phlamoudhi remained unpublished until 2000 when the Phlamoudhi Archaeological Project began the systematic study analysis and publication of the material This book s chapters cover the two main excavated sites the hilltop site of Vounari and the larger settlement at Melissa the region s patterns of settlement in the Bronze and Iron Ages and the Hellenistic through Medieval periods and the geology and palaeobotany of the region Chapters with perspectives on the excavations by original team members the history of work in the area and an overview of archaeology on Cyprus before and after the war place the fieldwork in historical perspective This volume derives from papers at a symposium that was held together with an exhibition of the finds from Phlamoudhi in 2005 It is the first in the final publication series A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund, 2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M. Weeks, Jason de Medeiros, 2014-11-25 The archaeological study of the ancient world has become increasingly popular in recent years A Research Guide to the Ancient World Print and Electronic Sources is a partially annotated bibliography The study of the ancient world is usually although not exclusively considered a branch of the humanities including archaeology art history languages literature philosophy and related cultural disciplines which consider the ancient cultures of the Mediterranean world and adjacent Egypt and southwestern Asia Chronologically the ancient world would extend from the beginning of the Bronze Age of ancient Greece ca 1000 BCE to the fall of the Western Roman Empire ca 500 CE This book will close the traditional subject gap between the humanities Classical World Egyptology and the social sciences

anthropological archaeology Near East in the study of the ancient world This book is uniquely the only bibliographic resource available for such holistic coverage The volume consists of 17 chapters and seven appendixes arranged according to the traditional types of library research materials bibliographies dictionaries atlases etc The appendixes are mostly subject specific including graduate programs in ancient studies reports from significant archaeological sites numismatics and paleography and writing systems These extensive author and subject indexes help facilitate ease of use Egypt and Cyprus in Antiquity D. Michaelides, Vasiliki Kassianidou, Robert S. Merrillees, 2009-10-30 The international conference Egypt and Cyprus in Antiquity held in Nicosia in April 2003 filled an important gap in historical knowledge about Cyprus relations with its neighbours While the island's links with the Aegean and the Levant have been well documented and continue to be the subject of much archaeological attention the exchanges between Cyprus and the Nile Valley are not as well known and have not before been comprehensively reviewed They range in date from the mid third millennium B C to Late Antiquity and encompass every kind of interconnection including political union Their novelty lies in the marked differences between the ancient civilisations of Cyprus and Egypt the distance between them geographically which could be bridged only by ship and the unusual ways they influenced each other's material and spiritual cultures The papers delivered at the conference covered every aspect of the relationship with special emphasis on the tangible evidence for the movement of goods people and ideas between the two countries over a 3000 year period Report of the Department of Antiquities, Cyprus Cyprus. Tmēma Archaïotētōn, 2008 Faunal Extinction in an Island Society Alan H. Simmons, 2006-01-22 The multidisciplinary research program at Akrotiri Aetokremnos is important in my opinion for three reasons two empirical and one conceptual Quite apart from the archaeology work at the site is a major contribution to island biogeography in that the Phanourios sample certainly the best from Cyprus and probably the best anywhere in the world has already provided and will continue to provide important ecological and behavioral data on these intriguing creatures Dwarfed island faunas are important to our understanding of the complex factors that shape natural selection in ecologically closed environments over the evolutionary long term At Aetokremnos we seem to have the end of a long sequence of hippo evolution on the island With comparative studies of other Cypriot hippo faunas we should be able to pin down the interval of initial colonization by what were presumably normal sized hippos and if the other sites can be dated document the dwarfing process in considerable detail Aetokremnos would still be a significant paleontological locality even in the absence of evidence of a human presence there While reading the text of the monograph a number of questions strictly related to the paleontology occurred to me One was how to model the colonization process There seems to be little question that the large mammals colonized the island by swimming to it because I gather Cyprus has not been connected to the mainland for roughly 5.6 million years Guide American Anthropological Association, 2008 Cahier du centre d'études chypriotes Centre d'études chypriotes, 2008 Ritual Failure Vasiliki G. Koutrafouris, Jeff Sanders, 2013-12-31 Ritual Failure is a new concept in archaeology adopted from the discipline of anthropology Resilient religious systems disappearing strict believers and faithful practitioners not performing their rites entire societies changing their customs how does a religious ritual system transform change or disappear leaving only traces of its past glory Do societies change and then their ritual Or do customs change first in turn provoking wider cultural shifts in society Archaeology possesses the tools and methodologies to explore these questions over the long term from the emergence of a system to its peak and then its decay and disappearance and in relation to wider social and chronological developments The collected papers in this book introduce the concept of ritual failure to archaeology The analysis explores ways in which ritual may have been instrumental in sustaining cultural continuity during demanding social conditions or how its functionality might have failed resulting in discontinuity change or collapse The collected papers draw attention to those turbulent social times of change for which ritual practices are a sensitive indicator within the archaeological record The book reviews archaeological evidence and theoretical approaches and suggests models which could explain socio cultural change through ritual failure The concept of ritual failure is also often used to better understand other themes such as identity and wider social economic and political transformations shedding light on the social conditions that forced or introduced change This book will engage those interested in ritual theory and practices but will also appeal to those interested in exploring new avenues to understanding cultural change From transformations in the use of ritual objects to the risks inherent in practicing ritual from ritual continuity in customs to sudden and profound change from the Neolithic Near East to Roman Europe and Iron Age Africa this book explores what happens when ritual fails 2009, 00000-0000

Nitovikla Reconsidered Gunnel Hult,1992 0000 00000 000 Joseph Aviram,2009 New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology Catherine Kearns,Sturt W. Manning,2019-04-15 New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology highlights current scholarship that employs a range of new techniques methods and theoretical approaches to questions related to the archaeology of the prehistoric and protohistoric periods on the island of Cyprus From revolutions in radiocarbon dating to the compositional analysis of ceramic remains to the digital applications used to study landscape histories at broad scales to rethinking human environment climate interrelationships the last few decades of research on Cyprus invite inquiry into the implications of these novel archaeological methods for the field and its future directions This edited volume gathers together a new generation of scholars who offer a revealing exploration of these insights as well as challenges to big questions in Cypriot archaeology such as the rise of social complexity urban settlement histories and changes in culture and identity These enduring topics provide the foundation for investigating the benefits and challenges of twenty first century methods and conceptual frameworks Divided into three main sections related to critical chronological transitions from earliest prehistory to the development of autonomous kingdoms during the Iron Age each contribution exposes and engages with a different advance in studies of material culture absolute dating paleoenvironmental analysis and spatial studies using geographic information systems From rethinking the chronological transitions of the Early Bronze Age to exploring regional craft production regimes of the Middle and Late Bronze Ages to locating Iron Age cemeteries through archival topographic maps these exciting and pioneering authors provide innovative ways of thinking about Cypriot archaeology and its relationship to the wider discipline
