Fatal Female Figures in Three Plays Lola E. Jones, 1983      Contemporary African American Female Playwrights Dana A. Williams, 1998-06-30 Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun 1959 was a major dramatic success and brought to the world's attention the potential talent of African American women playwrights. But in spite of Hansberry's landmark contribution both the theater and the literary world have often failed to include contemporary African American female playwrights within the circle of production, publication, and criticism. In African American drama anthologies, female playwrights are seldom given the degree of attention that is accorded their male counterparts. And because of space constraints, anthologies of works by women playwrights are forced to exclude numerous female dramatists, including African Americans. Meanwhile, some scholars have argued that the works of African American female playwrights are seldom produced in the mainstream theater because these plays frequently challenge the views of white America. But as A Raisin in the Sun demonstrates, plays by African American women dramatists can have a powerful message and are worthy of attention. A comprehensive research tool, this annotated bibliography sheds light on the often neglected works of contemporary African American female playwrights. Included within its scope are those dramatists who have had at least one work published since 1959, the year of Hansberry's monumental achievement. The first section provides a listing of anthologies that include one or more plays written by an African American female dramatist. The second gives entries for reference works and for scholarly and critical studies of the dramatists and their plays. The third presents a listing of published plays by individual dramatists, along with a summary of each drama, the works of each playwright that are related to drama, and secondary sources that treat the dramatists and their plays. Entries are accompanied by concise but informative annotations, and the volume closes with a list of periodicals that frequently publish criticism of African American female playwrights, a section of brief biographical sketches of the dramatists, and extensive indexes.      The Reprint Bulletin, Book Reviews, 1982      American Book Publishing Record, 2006

Decadent Plays: 1890-1930 Michael Field, Lesya Ukrainka, Rachilde, Remy de Gourmont, Jean Lorrain, Leonid Andreiev, Djuna Barnes, Izumi Kyoka, Maurice Maeterlinck, Gabriele D'Annunzio, 2023-12-14 Poisoned minds and empires in the last of their decline and the most notorious kiss in dramatic history, decadent plays challenged the moral as much as the dramatic imagination of their own day and continue to probe horizons of taste and the possibilities of stagecraft. In the late 19th and early 20th centuries, many writers reacted to urban modernity by embracing decadent themes and styles, and dramatists were no exception. Decadence offered these writers a framework for exploring nonconformist identities and beliefs that challenged behavioural norms as much as the desirability of modern progress. Decadent plays were at once behind the times in their celebration of antiquity and forward thinking in their staging of themes that have become all the more timely in the 21st century, including queerness, unconventional eroticism, and critiques of empire and industrial progress. Equally, the diversity of decadent drama cannot be pigeonholed; many of these plays still have the capacity to offend worldviews and invite us to interrogate present day conventions and propriety International in scope and eclectic in content this edited anthology is an authoritative and accessible introduction to a fast expanding field of decadent literature The first publication of its kind to deal with decadent drama and featuring plays translated into English for the first time Decadent Plays 1890 to 1930 breaks new ground by foregrounding decadence as a dramatic sensibility in this most pivotal of periods in the history of modern drama Featuring canonical and little known works by Oscar Wilde Michael Field Lesya Ukrainka Rachilde Remy de Gourmont Jean Lorrain Leonid Andreyev Gabriele D Annunzio Maurice Maeterlinck Izumi Kyoka and Djuna Barnes this anthology is an essential introduction to decadent drama that will pique the interest of specialists and non specialists alike

Transgressing Women Jamaluddin Aziz, 2012-01-17 Transgressing Women focuses on the literary and cinematic representation of female characters in contemporary noir thrillers The book argues that as the genre has grown expanded and been subverted since its initial conception along with the changing definition of gender the representation of a female character has also inevitably gone through some dramatic changes So the book asks some important questions What links the female characters in canonical noir to their contemporary counterparts Is gender division still relevant in a text that transgresses gender boundaries What happens when it is the human body itself that betrays the traditional definition or constitution of a human being While many have written about the male protagonists and the femmes fatales in the noir genre little attention has been given to the other female characters who inhabit the noir world and are transgressors themselves The main concern of the book is to trace the transgressive female characters in contemporary noir thrillers both novels and films by engaging itself with some of the most topical debates within both post feminist and postmodernist theories The book is structured around two key concepts space and the body These temporal and spatial indicators are central in contemporary cultural theories such as postmodernism and post feminism along with other theorizations of gender and the noir genre This means that the analysis is drawn from the classical noir examples and will then arrive at the neo noir sub genre and then will move on to the most recent phenomenon in the genre future noir

Critical Perspectives on Contemporary Plays by Women Penny Farfan, Lesley Ferris, 2021-07-22 This book foregrounds some of the ways in which women playwrights from across a range of contexts and working in a variety of forms and styles are illuminating the contemporary world while also contributing to its reshaping as they reflect rethink and reimagine it through their work for the stage The book is framed by a substantial introduction that sets forth the critical vision and structure of the book as a whole and an afterword that points toward emerging currents in and expansions of the contemporary field of playwriting by women on the cusp of the third decade of the twenty first century Within this frame the twenty eight chapters that form the main body of the book each focusing on a single play of critical significance together constitute a multi faceted inevitably partial yet nonetheless integral picture of the work of women playwrights since 2000 as they engage with some of the most pressing issues of our time Some of these issues include the continuing oppression of and violence against women people of color LGBTQ people and ethnic minorities the ongoing processes of decolonization the consequences of neoliberal capitalism the devastation and enduring trauma of war global migration and the refugee crisis the turn to right wing populism and the impact of climate change including environmental disaster and species extinction The book is structured into seven sections Replaying the Canon Representing Histories Staging Lives Re imagining Family Navigating Communities Articulating Intersections and New World Order s These sections group clusters of plays according to the broad critical actions they perform or in the case of the final section the new world orders that they capture through their stagings of the seeming impasse of the politically and environmentally catastrophic global present moment There are many other points of resonance among and across the plays but this seven part structure foregrounds the broader actions that drive the plays both in the Aristotelian dramaturgical sense and in the larger sense of the critical interventions that the plays creatively enact In this way the seven part structure establishes correspondences across the great diversity of dramatic material represented in the book while at the same time identifying key methods of critical approach and areas of focus that align the book s contributors across this diversity The structure of the book thus parallels what the playwrights themselves are doing but also how the contributors are approaching their work Plays featured in the book are from Canada Australia South Africa the US the UK France Argentina New Zealand Syria Brazil Italy and Austria the playwrights include Margaret Atwood Leah Purcell Ya I Farber Paula Vogel Adrienne Kennedy Suzan Lori Parks debbie tucker green Lisa Loomer H l ne Cixous Anna Deavere Smith Lola Arias Lisa Kron and Jeanine Tesori Marie Clements Quiara Alegr a Hudes Alia Bano Holly Hughes Whiti Hereaka Julia Cho Liwaa Yazji Grace Pass Dominique Morisseau Emma Dante Frances Ya Chu Cowhig Lynn Nottage Elfriede Jelinek Caryl Churchill Colleen Murphy and Lucy Kirkwood Encompassing several generations of playwrights and scholars ranging from the most senior to mid career to emerging voices the book will be essential reading for established researchers a valuable learning resource for students at all levels and a useful and accessible guide for theatre practitioners and interested theatre goers

virtue and obedience fidelity and love work loose the fabric of patrilineal power that undergirds masculine privileges in marriage and signify a discursive shift that constitutes the site of agency within a system of oppression that ought to prohibit such agency That women s agency in the early modern period must be tied to the formations of power that officially demand their subjection need not undermine their acts In what Alfar calls Shakespeare s cuckoldry plays women s rhetoric of defense is both subject to the discourse of sexual honor and finds a ground on which to shift it as women take control of and replace sexual slander with their own narratives of marital betrayal

Unsettling Sexuality Jeremy Chow, Shelby Johnson, 2024-10-11 This book is also freely available online as an open access digital edition on Manifold here: <https://openpub.utd.edu/projects/unsettling-sexuality/> Unsettling Sexuality: Queer Horizons in the Long Eighteenth Century challenges the traditional ways that scholarship has approached sexuality, gender, nonconformity, and sex, as well as its absence in the long eighteenth century. Drawing from recent and emerging criticisms in Middle Eastern and Asian studies, Black studies, and Native American and Indigenous studies, the collected authors perform intersectional, queer readings, reimagine queer historiographic methods, and spearhead new citational models that can invigorate the field. Contributors read with and against diverse European, transatlantic, and global archives to explore mutually informative frameworks of gender, sexuality, race, indigeneity, ability, and class. In charting multidirectional queer horizons, this collection locates new prospective desires and intimacies in the literature, culture, and media of the period to imagine new directions and simultaneously unsettle eighteenth-century studies.
