人口政策與生育-新加坡個案研究,2005 30 Population Policy and Reproduction in Singapore Shirley Hsiao-Li Sun,2012 This book examines the relationship between population policies and individual reproductive decisions in low fertility contexts Using the case study of Singapore it demonstrates that the effectiveness of population policy is a function of competing notions of citizenship and the gap between seemingly neutral policy incentives and the perceived and experienced disparate effects Drawing on a substantial number of personal interviews and focus groups the book analyzes the developmental welfare state s overarching emphasis of citizen responsibility and examines population policies that reinforce social inequalities and ignore cultural diversity These factors combine to undermine elaborate state policy efforts in encouraging citizens biological reproduction The book goes on to argue that in order to facilitate positive fertility decisions the state needs to modify the economic production at all cost approach and pay much more attention to the importance of social rights This suggests that the Singapore government might profitably approach the phenomenon of very low fertility with major initiatives similar to those of other advanced industrialized societies This book offers a significant contribution to the literature on social policy East Asian and Southeast Asian studies International Bibliography of Sociology Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,2002-12 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge on the social sciences Urban Crisis M. Nadarajah,Ann Tomoko Yamamoto,2007 Unprecedented urban growth makes sustainability in cities a crucial issue for policy makers scholars and business leaders This emerging urban crisis challenges environment based and economic based approaches to sustainability and highlights the complex and critical role that culture plays in ensuring that cities are viable for future generations This publication assesses the use of cultural indicators as a tool for policymakers drawing on case studies of Patan Nepal Penang Malaysia Cheongju South Korea and Kanazawa Japan and offers fresh insights into the role of culture in fostering community development environmental awareness and balanced economic growth Managing Urban Futures Marco Keiner,2016-12-05 Urbanization is one of the most powerful forces influencing global sustainability It is dominated by three factors population growth rural urban migration and subsequent urban expansion Perhaps nowhere are these factors more dominant than in developing countries This volume brings together leading experts including Alan Gilbert John Friedmann Saskia Sassen and Janice Perlman to explore the conflicting challenges of rapid urbanization in developing countries While all have to contend with key issues such as social segregation poverty and loss of governability the ongoing forces of urban growth vary from country to country By comparing the challenges of urbanization in Africa Latin America Asia and the Pacific this book puts forward a new way of thinking about mega and million cities in developing countries one that promotes their vital function in society as engines of ideas technologies societal change democratic transformation and loci of political will to build a new regime of global sustainability Environmental Change and Security Project Report ,2001 Asian

Urbanization in the New Millennium Gayl D. Ness, Prem P. Talwar, 2005 This book brings together a concise statement of the process of urbanisation in 19 Asian countries from Pakistan through Japan It will present data on urbanisation for the past half century with projections for the next quarter century Each chapter is written by a recognised scholar on Asian urban and population dynamics Since the book will provide a basic set of comparable data for all countries and reflections on both the benefits and problems of urbanisation written by some of the region's best analysts the editors believe it will be of wide interest to scholars and urban administrators throughout the region It will also provide the basic statement on Asian urbanisation that will be relevant and in demand for the near future The book is sponsored by the Asian Urban Information Center of Kobe AUICK which has sponsored comparative research and training on Asian urban issues since 1989 Asian and Pacific Cities Ian F. Shirley, Carol Neill, 2013 The cities of Asia and the Pacific are at the epicentre of development in what is arguably the most populous culturally distinctive and economically powerful region in the world 16 major cities such as Tokyo Shanghai Manila Jakarta Bangkok Singapore Auckland Kuala Lumpur and Santiago located in countries as diverse as Mexico and Vietnam Samoa and India China and Australia exemplify the changing patterns of development across this vast region of the world By tracking economic and social trends the contributors to this collection reveal how a wide range of political and cultural factors have interacted over time to provide a powerful explanation for the shape and characteristics of the city today Based on a collaborative research programme and drawing on the work of local researchers this book examines the realities of city development characterised by domestic migration spatial and social fragmentation squatter settlements and gated communities economic experiments and the emergence of the Asian Tigers The collection as a whole records the way in which countries in this region have moved from underdevelopment to become global economic and political powers This book provides a fascinating journey through Asia and the Pacific by generating an insiders view of each city and an insight into national development As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the Asian and Pacific region in disciplines such as economics politics geography and sociology and in policy domains such as urban planning and economic development Routledge Handbook of Asian Demography Zhongwei Zhao, Adrian C. Hayes, 2017-12-14 Home to close to 60 per cent of the world's population Asia is the largest and by far the most populous continent It is also extremely diverse physically and culturally Asian countries and regions have their own distinctive histories cultural traditions religious beliefs and political systems and they have often pursued different routes to development Asian populations also present a striking array of demographic characteristics and stages of demographic transition This handbook is the first to provide a comprehensive study of population change across the whole of Asia Comprising 28 chapters by more than 40 international experts this handbook examines demographic transitions on the continent their considerable variations their causes and consequences and their relationships with a wide range of social economic political and cultural processes Major topics covered include population studies and sources of demographic data
