Flash Of Life:

Hot Flashes: 101 Reasons to Laugh at Life Sue Langenberg, 2010-12 Humor writer Sue Langenberg has written a weekly humor column for more than ten years in various newspapers often winning placement in HumorPress.com contests. In her book Hot Flashes she has compiled 101 timely examples that represent one goofy hag's take on life using wry and sometimes edgy humor. She never forgot anything in her Boomer life that made her laugh but rather stored it until the time was right. The stories begin as an ordinary observation of reality and rapidly turn into a wild ride full of laughs all within some 600 words of wit that strike a chord with young, old, teen, and like hags. There is something to laugh about for everyone in her musings.

Scientist's Guide to Physical Chemistry Marc R. Roussel, 2012-04-05 Motivating students to engage with physical chemistry through biological examples, this textbook demonstrates how the tools of physical chemistry can be used to illuminate biological questions. It clearly explains key principles and their relevance to life science students using only the most straightforward and relevant mathematical tools. More than 350 exercises are spread throughout the chapters covering a wide range of biological applications and explaining issues that students often find challenging. These, along with problems at the end of each chapter and end of term review questions, encourage active and continuous study. Over 130 worked examples, many deriving directly from life sciences, help students connect principles and theories to their own laboratory studies. Connections between experimental measurements and key theoretical quantities are frequently highlighted and
