Abundant Community John McKnight,2008-09-13 We need our neighbors and community to stay healthy produce jobs raise our children and care for those on the margin Institutions and professional services have reached their limit of their ability to help us The consumer society tells us that we are insufficient and that we must purchase what we need from specialists and systems outside the community We have become consumers and clients not citizens and neighbors John McKnight and Peter Block show that we have the capacity to find real and sustainable satisfaction right in our neighborhood and community This book reports on voluntary self organizing structures that focus on gifts and value hospitality the welcoming of strangers It shows how to reweave our social fabric especially in our neighborhoods In this way we collectively have enough to create a future that works for all Stewardship Peter Block,2013-05-20 Revised and expanded this classic guide to business leadership presents an original and profound new view on how to run an organization Library Journal Despite all the evidence calling for change most organizations still rely on patriarchy and control as their core form of governance The result is that they stifle initiative and spirit and alienate people from their work In Stewardship Peter Block calls for a dramatic shift in how we distribute power privilege and the control of money Stewardship he writes is the willingness to be accountable for the well being of the larger organization by operating in service rather than in control of those around us Block has revised and updated the book throughout including a new introduction addressing what has changed and what hasn t in the twenty years since the book was published It also includes a new chapter on applying stewardship to the common good of the wider community Speaking in practical terms about how stewardship transforms every function and department for the better Block also offers tactical advice on gearing up to implement these reforms
