Fish Tales Ramona DeFelice Long,2011-03-01 Bottomfeeder Taras Grescoe,2011-01-15 Dividing his sensibilities between Epicureanism and ethics Taras Grescoe set out on a nine month world wide search for a delicious and humane plate of seafood Along the way he explains the cultural and commercial implications of fish production on our environment our health and our seas At once entertaining and illuminating Bottomfeeder is a thoroughly enjoyable narrative about the world's cuisines and an examination of the fishing and farming practices we take too easily for granted The Diet Detective's Calorie Bargain Bible Charles Stuart Platkin,2008-04-29 Platkin known as the Diet Detective returns to show readers how to turn their favorite foods into calorie bargains with this easy to follow road map for healthy eating The Ecological Detective Ray Hilborn,Marc Mangel,2013-02-15 The modern ecologist usually works in both the field and laboratory uses statistics and computers and often works with ecological concepts that are model based if not model driven How do we make the field and laboratory coherent How do we link models and data How do we use statistics to help experimentation How do we integrate modeling and statistics How do we confront multiple hypotheses with data and assign degrees of belief to different hypotheses How do we deal with time series in which data are linked from one measurement to the next or put multiple sources of data into one inferential framework These are the kinds of questions asked and answered by The Ecological Detective Ray Hilborn and Marc Mangel investigate ecological data much as a detective would investigate a crime scene by trying different hypotheses until a coherent picture emerges The book is not a set of pat statistical procedures but rather an approach The Ecological Detective makes liberal use of computer programming for the generation of hypotheses exploration of data and the comparison of different models The authors attitude is one of exploration both statistical and graphical The background required is minimal so that students with an undergraduate course in statistics and ecology can profitably add this work to their tool kit for solving ecological problems Fish Preferred Pelham Grenville Wodehouse,1929
