Love Cristi Hegranes, 2013-10-01 Nepal is far more than a few video nights in Kathmandu and a brief taste of the Himalayas. This book gives a tempting and comprehensive view of where to go and what to do in the farthest reaches of this little known country. With tips on learning Nepali where to spend a day or two as a volunteer where to embark upon a course of meditation as well as favorite places to eat shop and explore. To Nepal With Love gives travelers the chance to enjoy and experience the country as residents and knowledgeable travelers do. Tales from the Tijuana Jails Sam Warren, 2008 The Mexican jail in which the author was unjustly confined was like nothing any American would expect. Co-ed with young children running about shops selling all manner of goods including drugs condos for the privileged and others sleeping on the out in the open. It would strike anyone as bizarre as the bar in the first Star Wars movie. Inside the 20 foot concrete and barbed wire high walls the large block in eastern Tijuana was truly a little city and each inmate there had his or her own fascinating story to tell about their encounter with the system in Mexico. A Brief History of the Relationship Between Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism Zhongjian Mou, 2023-01-01 Chinese traditions of Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism have a profoundly philosophical dimension. The three traditions are frequently referred to as three paths of moral teachings. In this book Mou provides a clear account of the textual corpus that emerges to define each of these traditions and how this canonical axis was augmented by a continuing commentarial tradition as each generation reauthorized the written core for their own time and place. In his careful exegesis Mou lays out the differences between the more religious reading of these traditions with their defining practices that punctuate the human journey through life and the more intellectual and philosophical treatment of the texts that has and continues to produce a first order culture of annotation that become integral to the traditions themselves. At the center of the alternative religious experience reflected throughout the teachings of Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism is the project of personal cultivation as it comes to be expressed as robust growth in family and communal relations. For Mou these three highly distinctive and yet complementary ways of thinking and living constitute a kind of moral ecology wherein each of them complements the others as they stand in service to a different dimension of the human need for an educated spirituality. Ellen Glasgow and a Woman's Traditions Pamela R. Matthews, 1994 Ellen Glasgow wrote and published nineteen novels as well as poems short stories essays reviews and an autobiography published posthumously in a career that spanned nearly fifty years. Until now her writings have not been subject to feminist revaluation in the way that works of such writers as Charlotte Perkins Gilman or Willa Cather have been. In Ellen Glasgow and a Woman's Traditions Pamela R. Matthews initiates such a revaluation by taking into account not only Glasgow's gender and her perception of her role as a woman writer but the reader's gender and mis-understanding of Glasgow. Using current feminist psychological theory she assesses what Glasgow faced as a woman writer caught between the nineteenth and twentieth centuries examines the traditions in place at these times and analyzes the influence on Glasgow of her female friendships.
