

LE PARDON N'EST PLUS UNE OPTION !

Au début des années 70, les affrontements civils se multiplient en Irlande du Nord. Franchement recruté par un gang local, Alister Little n'est encore qu'un adolescent lorsque il exécute le frère aîné de Joe Griffin afin de faire ses preuves.

20 ans plus tard, Little a définitivement fermé son livre sur son passé. Mais Joe est loin de partager le même sentiment. Lorsque les deux hommes se retrouvent à nouveau face à face, la confrontation est alors inévitable.

Oliver HIRSCHGEL, le magistral réalisateur de LA CHUTE, nous sert ici un thriller psychologique unique, couronné des prix de la meilleure réalisation et du meilleur scénario au Festival de Sundance 2009. Jougé entre vengeance et rédemption, les splendides LIAM NEESON (Gladiator, Taken) et JAMES NESBITT (Arrested Development) achèvent de convaincre.

COFFEE BREAKS, Short Stories and Poems Bett Taylor, 2013-03 COFFEE BREAKS Everyone likes a Coffee Break Morning Tea or Smoko Either socially communally from work or just as a reward for no reason at all Coffee Breaks are taken worldwide and depend on circumstance of how why and where but they all have their place in the structure of our lives SHORT STORIES These stories are for those who like to read a whole story at a sitting and cover fiction religion politics romance lifestyle and the whole gambit of relationships with one another POETRY Poems about observance of nature both human and natural the leafy bits About seeing feeling and responding to life Seeking a Unified Universe Gordon Ziegler, 2013-12-05 My earliest memory was of a bath in the middle of the day I was accustomed to baths early in the morning or late in the evening I was not expecting a bath in the middle of the day Mom's purpose was to prepare me for a birthday party I don't remember the party or the boy honored or even the bath just the unusual fact of it It was an exception to a rule Across the street from our apartment in north Seattle Washington was a school Seattle Junior Academy My mother Inas Ziegler taught there The school had nice large swings on the playground that I loved to swing in I am sure my mother and my father J G Ziegler both frequently pushed me on the swings But I do not remember that I remember my Grandma Grace Ziegler pushing me on the swings Another exception to a rule My next memory was being babysat in the evening with my brother Jim in an older couple's home What made that memorable was that they ate cold cereal in the evening I had only eaten it in the morning Another exception to a rule My father and mother had gone out for the night conducting evangelistic meetings playing the piano singing making chalk drawings preaching and showing slides on the screen My parents were very successful in their efforts and attracted a lot of favorable attention from the higher ups in our church Growing up in such a family was an exception to the general rule in the church It tended to make one either rebellious or specially conformant to what one perceived as the truth I early chose the latter approach My next memories were from our next home in a peach orchard in Kirkland Washington

An Ecofeminist Perspective on Ash Wednesday and Lent Sylvia A. Sweeney,2010 An Ecofeminist Perspective on Ash Wednesday and Lent develops a conversation between classical historical Lenten practices and contemporary Christian ecofeminism Building on David Tracy's definition of a religious classic it includes a historical examination of the development of Lent and the Ash Wednesday rites beginning from wellsprings in the early church traditions of penance catechumenal preparation and asceticism through medieval and reformation expressions of the rite to their twentieth century Episcopal iteration in the 1979 Book of Common Prayer In the discussion of ecofeminism women's death experiences and current ecofeminist writings are used to develop an ecofeminist hermeneutic of mortality

Glocal Ireland Juan F. Elices Agudo,Marisol Morales Ladrón Soledad,2011-05-25 The transformations undergone by Ireland in the last decades have relocated the country within that liminal space of the local and the global The country of the deeply rooted rural traditions the severely religious impositions and the fragile economic system became in the 1990s a world referent due to its unprecedented and impressive growth However the emergence of the so called Celtic Tiger and the recognition that Ireland had become one of the most globalised nations in the Western world met a dramatic downfall that has left the country pre occupied with matters concerning its re positioning and re definition within a wider European framework The cultural and artistic productivity of this nation has also moved away from the topical insularity of the past adopting more transnational and universal subjects at the same time that it has struggled to retain its genuine values and its own signs of identity For in Ireland the more this global progress has grown to be unavoidable the more evocatively the local has befallen Therefore the editors of this volume contend that the global and the local should be understood not as opposed concepts but as two ends of a continuum of interaction Within this state of affairs this volume comprises a series of articles that revolve around the issue of glocality in Irish literature culture and cinema in order to disentangle the complexities that underlie this concept and which are inextricably related to the drastic changes undertaken by Ireland in the years before and after the economic boom and posterior bailout
