Economic Analysis Of Information And Contracts:

Economic Analysis of Information and Contracts Gerald A. Feltham, Amin H. Amershi, William T. Ziemba, 2012-12-06
The three coeditors knew John Butterworth for many years and had worked closely with him on a number of research projects We respected him as a valuable colleague and friend We were greatly saddened by his untimely death This book is an attempt to remember him We dedicate the volume to John with thanks for the contributions he made to our research to the Faculty of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of British Columbia and to the accounting profession This volume contains twelve invited papers on the general topic of the economic theory of information and contracts We asked leading scholars who had known John to contribute papers The response was very gratifying The authors provided us with new strong research papers that should make a lasting contribution to the accounting and information economics research literature and make us all proud to have put this volume together The research papers in the volume are in three sections information evaluation in multi person contexts contracting in agencies under moral hazard and contracting in agencies with private information We begin part I with Jerry Feltham's review of John Butterworth's pioneering contributions to the accounting and information economics literature This is followed by an introduction to the papers in the volume and the papers themselves

Economic Analysis of Contract Law Sugata Bag, 2018-01-24 This book examines the main issues arising in economic analysis of contract law with special attention given to the incomplete contracts It discusses both the main features of contract law as they relate to the problem of economic exchange and how the relevant legal rules and the institutions can be analysed from an economic perspective Evaluate the welfare impacts analyses the effects and the desirability of different breach remedies and examines the optimal incentive structure of party designed liquidated damages under the different dimensions of informational asymmetry Overall the book aims to contribute to the legal debate over the adoption of the specific breach remedies when the breach victim's expectation interest is difficult to assess and to the debate over courts reluctance to implement large penalties in the event of breach of contracts

Economic Analysis of the DCFR Filomena Chirico, Pierre Larouche, 2010-03-12 The Economic Impact Group EIG was created to support the work on the DCFR with insights from law and economics It brings together a number of leading European law and economics scholars The Group looked at the main elements of the DCFR with two questions in mind from an economic perspective is it sensible to harmonize private law across Europe for this specific element and is the solution chosen in the DCFR optimal This book presents the outcome of the work of the EIG It deals with key issues such as the function of contract law contract formation good faith non discrimination specific performance versus damages standard contractual terms and consumer protection in contract law The EIG complements the work of the drafters of the DCFR with insightful and critical assessments based on the well established law and economics literature

Applied Economic Analysis of Information and Risk Moriki Hosoe, Iltae Kim, 2020-03-25 This book examines interesting new topics in applied economics from the perspectives of the economics of information and risk two fields of economics that address the consequences of asymmetric information environmental risk and uncertainty for the nature and efficiency of interactions between individuals and organizations In the economics of information the essential task is to examine the condition of asymmetric information under which the information gap is exploited For the economics of risk it is important to investigate types of behavior including risk aversion risk sharing and risk prevention and to reexamine the classical expected utility approach and the relationships among several types of the changes in risk Few books have ever analyzed topics in applied economics with regard to information and risk This book provides a comprehensive collection of applied analyses while also revisiting certain basic concepts in the economics of information and risk The book consists of two parts In Part I several aspects of applied economics are investigated including public policy labor economics and political economics from the standpoint of the economics of asymmetric information First several basic frameworks of the incentive mechanism with regard to transaction specific investment are assessed then various tools for market design and organization design are explored In Part II mathematical measures of risk and risk aversion are examined in more detail and readers are introduced to stochastic selection rules governing choice behavior under uncertainty Several types of change in the random variable for the cumulative distribution function CDF and probability distribution function PDF are discussed In closing the part investigates the comparative static results of these changes in CDF or PDF on the general decision model incorporating uncertain situations in applied economics

Contract Law Minimalism Jonathan Morgan, 2013-11-07 Commercial contract law is in every sense optional given the choice between legal systems and law and arbitration Its doctrines are in fact virtually all default rules Contract Law Minimalism advances the thesis that commercial parties prefer a minimalist law that sets out to enforce what they have decided but does nothing else The limited capacity of the legal process is the key to this minimalist stance This book considers evidence that such minimalism is indeed what commercial parties choose to govern their transactions It critically engages with alternative schools of thought that call for active regulation of contracts to promote either economic efficiency or the trust and co operation necessary for relational contracting The book also necessarily argues against the view that private law should be understood non instrumentally whether through promissory morality corrective justice taxonomic rationality or otherwise It sketches a restatement of English contract law in line with the thesis Agriculture and
