Harmonial Conceptions Of Man:

Dostoevsky's Conception of Man Peter McGuire Wolf, 1997-10 Dostoevsky's novels have contributed to a conception of man that reverberates in the conclusions of prominent twentieth century philosophical anthropologists Max Scheler Martin Heidegger Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty and Albert Camus among others have admitted that the works of Dostoevsky had an influence on the manner in which they learned to conceive of human nature and the world in which humans live Our aim in this dissertation is to ask what is there in the novels of Dostoevsky concerning the nature of man of which certain philosophers could claim that in their philosophical conceptions of man they were positively influenced by him The main thesis is substantiated with a careful analysis of four novels Notes From the House of the Dead Zapiski iz mertvogo doma Notes From the Underground Zapiski iz podpol'ia Crime and Punishment Prestuplenie i nakazanie and The Brothers Karamazov Brat'ia Karamazovy These novels were chosen partly because I have come to the conclusion that these novels more than others concretely show in what sense the leading characters appear to have made themselves be what they had freely chosen to be under the circumstances in which they had to live and that they were fully aware of the responsibility they had to bear for the implications and consequences of what they had thus decided Based upon a close reading four interpretive chapters employ the most significant criticism from English Russian and French literary scholarship Dostoevsky's philosophical conception of man is compared and contrasted with the conception that Scheler and Heidegger hold i.e. that freedom is man's essence Sartre's atheistic humanism and Camus thought The following conclusions are consonant with Dostoevsky's work freedom is constitutive for the being or the mode of being essence of man it is an inalienable duty one must become oneself Man strives to overcome himself and to exceed his freedom but in so doing invariably loses it Man exceeds himself only in the sense that he realizes an ideal human possibility The Dostoevskian man reveals not only the absence of human nature but also the enormous power which man possesses for achieving his ideal human possibility

Harmonial Conceptions of Man Andrew Jackson Davis, 2005-12 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original Due to its age it may contain imperfections such as marks notations marginalia and flawed pages Because we believe this work is culturally important we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting preserving and promoting the world's literature in affordable high quality modern editions that are true to the original work China in Search of a Harmonious Society Sujian Guo, Baogang Guo, 2008-08-15 The problems of corruption social injustice public unrest disparity in income and regional development shortage of energy and resources unemployment aging population inadequate social and economic safety network pollution etc are poised to jeopardize political stability and cast a shadow on the moral foundation of economic reform How to cope with these new problems is a daunting task facing the Chinese leadership and people in the twenty first century The new generation of leadership under Hu Jintao has begun to search for solutions and directions Building a harmonious society based on a scientific view of development has become a new catch phrase in political and academic discourse in China and a newly adopted program by the Chinese government It is in this context that this edited volume brings together a group of China scholars to discuss the concept and goal of building a harmonious society This book will be of interest to professors and students of China studies as well as policy makers and researchers

A Study on the Concepts of Harmony Embodied in the Ancient Chinese Architecture Ling Li,Jun Li,Kefeng Ji,2024-10-31 This book explores the core concept of Chinese ancient architecture from a multidisciplinary perspective It aims to contribute to the development inheritance and protection of Chinese ancient architectural culture while also benefiting the sustainable development of modern architecture This book follows a main line of inquiry exploring the rich and harmonious ideas present in Chinese ancient architecture It combines the traditional Chinese culture and architectural ideas and examines the original thought that forms the foundation of the traditional Chinese architectural culture of harmony from various aspects Firstly the book describes the Taoist theory of the harmony between man and nature as expressed through different architectural elements Secondly it discusses the system of harmony among people influenced by Confucianism Lastly it explores the significance of Buddhism in Buddhist architecture Finally it also examines the difference in the embodiment of harmonious ideas between Chinese and Western architectures This book studies and analyzes the type and characteristics of Chinese ancient architecture the architectural objects and the simple ecological environment views contained within the architectural concept It not only analyzes the historical development context but also provides physical examples of architectural types and explores the influence of regional environmental factors The target audience for this book includes scholars in universities and scientific research departments particularly those studying architectural aesthetics history and philosophy it is also suitable for the ordinary readers who have interest in Chinese traditional architectural culture

Chinese Conceptions of Democratic Education Wenchao Zhang,2024-06-10 This book draws on a rich ethnographic study to examine Chinese democracy and its practices in democratic education As the first book to interrogate practices of democratic education from an insider perspective it offers a unique model of Chinese democratic education based in school practices It illuminates connections between the school practices of Chinese democratic education the Chinese democratic system and the effects of globalizations As such it analyses the particular ways in which educators can and must balance global needs and local cultures Ultimately arguing that comprehension of Chinese democracy and its educational practices should take root in the specific social and cultural context in which it was developed it advocates that a more comprehensive understanding of democracy and democratic education can be achieved Building on this premise it outlines ways to guide enhanced critical analysis and cultivate mutual cultural respect thereby contributing to the pursuit of a more peaceful world Drawing on rich and detailed narratives dialogue observation and reflexivity the author successfully situates the Chinese experience within a global landscape and challenges the mainstream understanding of democracy on the global stage Promoting tolerance of other cultures and opening up new ways of thinking from a globally diverse perspective it will appeal to researchers postgraduate students and educators with interests in global citizenship education social studies education democracy and international education European Dispute over the Concept of Man Michał Gierycz, 2021-01-11

The book represents original research in a field of study rarely pursued while analysing the intellectual dimensions of disputes over ethically sensitive issues that occur in European Union politics These disputes are generally analysed at ideological ethical economic and interstate levels However these references do not suffice in understanding the issue which is related to a divergent perception of the essence of humanity and thus the subject matter of anthropology The main research objective of the monograph is therefore to reconstruct the sources and the specific European Union way of thinking about the human being Methodologically the book expands the understanding of political anthropology within political science and presents a range of suitable instruments for pursuing anthropological research At the theoretical level it proposes an anthropological typology of the main currents of European political thought and reveals their prominence for the anthropological orientation of the EU's axiology Empirically it provides an analysis of the anthropological features of European Union institutions and policies in addition to discussing the relation between the axiological and anthropological positions of the main political and national groups within the EU Heinrich Schenker's Conception of Harmony Robert Wesley Wason, Matthew Brown, 2020 The first detailed study of Schenker's pathbreaking 1906 treatise showing how it reflected 2500 years of thinking about harmony and presented a vigorous reaction to Austro-Germanic music theory ca 1900 What makes the compositions of Handel Bach Haydn Mozart Beethoven Schubert Schumann Chopin and Brahms stand out as great works of art Heinrich Schenker 1868-1935 set out to answer this question in a series of treatises beginning with a strikingly original work with the deceptive title Harmonielehre roughly Treatise on Harmony 1906 Whereas other treatises of the period associated harmony with the abstract principles governing chords and chord progressions Schenker's treated it as the conceptual glue that allowed the individual elements of a work melodies motives chords counterpoint etc to work together locally and globally Yet this book though renowned and much cited has never been studied systematically and in close detail Heinrich Schenker's Conception of Harmony approaches Schenker's 1906 treatise as a synthesis of ancient ideas and very new ones It translates for the first time two preparatory essays for Harmonielehre and describes his later views of harmony and the ways in which they influenced and also were ignored by the 1954 edition and translation entitled simply Harmony Though problematic Harmony was the first published translation of a major work by Schenker inaugurating the study of his writings in postwar America and Britain where they continue to be highly influential Theological Encyclopedia and Methodology Revere Franklin Weidner,1885 Product-Service System Design for Sustainability Carlo Vezzoli,Cindy Kohtala,Amrit Srinivasan,Liu Xin,Moi Fusakul,Deepta Sateesh,J.C. Diehl,2017-09-08 This book based on a huge European and Asian research project is a state of the art examination of the theory and practice of system innovation through Product Service System PSS design for sustainability from a trans cultural viewpoint PSS design incorporates innovative strategies that shift businesses away from simply designing and selling physical products to developing integrated systems of products and services that satisfy human needs The book provides background advice and tools for designers interested in sustainable PSSs and has a wealth of case studies for practitioners to digest The Problem of Free Harmony in Kant's Aesthetics Kenneth F. Rogerson,2008-01-01 In this book Kenneth F Rogerson explores the first half of Kant s Critique of Judgment entitled the Critique of Aesthetic Judgment Rogerson provides an interpretation of arguably the most important issue in Kant s aesthetic theory namely a free harmony of the imagination and understanding He uses this interpretation to explore several other important issues in Kant s aesthetic theory including his distinction between art and natural beauty the doctrine of aesthetic ideas and the connection between beauty and morality The Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse Andrew Jackson Davis,1910 The Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse Andrew Jackson Davis,1880 Divine Travail in Nature, Man and the Bible John Coutts,1905 The Encyclopædia Britannica: Harmony-Hurstmonceaux ,1910
