twentieth century The story begins just after World War I as more households were electrified and fewer middle class housewives could afford to hire maids In the 1920s popular mainstream plays staged the plight of women seeking escape from the daily grind African American playwrights meanwhile argued that housework was the least of women s worries Plays of the 1930s recognized housework as work to a greater degree than ever before while during the war years domestic labor was predictably recruited to the war effort sometimes with gender bending results In the famously quiescent and anxious 1950s critiques of domestic normalcy became common and African American maids gained a complexity previously reserved for white leading ladies These critiques proliferated with the re emergence of feminism as a political movement from the 1960s on After the turn of the century the problems and comforts of domestic labor in black and white took center stage In highlighting these shifts Chansky brings the real home Black World/Negro Digest ,1967-03 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement

Haile, 2020-04-15 Outstanding Academic Title CHOICE The Buck the Black and the Existential Hero Refiguring the Black Male Literary Canon 1850 to Present combines philosophy literary theory and jazz studies with Africana studies to develop a theory of the black male literary imagination In doing so it seeks to answer fundamental aesthetic and existential questions How does the experience of being black and male in the modern West affect the telling of a narrative the shape or structure of a novel the development of characters and plot lines and the nature of criticism itself James B Haile argues that since black male identity is largely fluid and open to interpretation reinterpretation and misinterpretation the literature of black men has developed flexibility and improvisation termed the jazz of life Our reading of this literature requires the same kind of flexibility and improvisation to understand what is being said and why as well as what is not being said and why Finally the book attempts to offer this new reading experience by placing texts by well known authors such as Frederick Douglass Ralph Ellison and Colson Whitehead in conversation with texts by those who are less well known and those who have for the most part been forgotten in particular Cecil Brown Doing so challenges the reader to visit and revisit these novels with a new perspective about the social political historical and psychic realities of black men      Ebony , 1980-03 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine      The Logic of Racial Practice Brock Bahler, 2021-02-08 The title of this collection The Logic of Racial Practice pays homage to the work of Pierre Bourdieu who coined the term habitus to name the pretheoretical embodied dispositions that orient our social interactions and meaningfully frame our lived experience The language of habit uniquely accounts for not only how we are unreflectively conditioned by our social environments but also how we responsibly choose to enact our habits and can change them Hence this collection of essays edited by Brock Bahler explores how white supremacy produces a racialized modality by which we live as embodied beings arguing that race and racism is performative habituated and enacted We do not regularly have to think about race since race is a praxis producing embodied habits that have become sedimented into our ways of being in the world and that instill within us racialized and racist dispositions postures and bodily comportments that inform how we interact with others The construction of race produces a particular bodily formation in which we are shaped to viscerally perceive through a racialized lens images words activities and events without any self reflective conceptualization and which we perpetuate throughout our day to day choices The contributors argue that eradicating racism in our society requires unlearning these racialized habitus and cultivating new anti racist habits
