Texas Tough Robert Perkinson,2010-03-11 A vivid history of America s biggest baddest prison system and how it came to lead the nation s punitive revolution In the prison business all roads lead to Texas The most locked down state in the nation has led the way in criminal justice severity from assembly line executions to isolation supermaxes from prison privatization to sentencing juveniles as adults Texas Tough a sweeping history of American imprisonment from the days of slavery to the present shows how a plantation based penal system once dismissed as barbaric became the national template Drawing on convict accounts official records and interviews with prisoners guards and lawmakers historian Robert Perkinson reveals the Southern roots of our present day prison colossus While conventional histories emphasize the North s rehabilitative approach he shows how the retributive and profit driven regime of the South ultimately triumphed Most provocatively he argues that just as convict leasing and segregation emerged in response to Reconstruction so today s mass incarceration with its vast racial disparities must be seen as a backlash against civil rights Illuminating for the first time the origins of America s prison juggernaut Texas Tough points toward a more just and humane future Turning Teaching Inside Out S. Davis,B. African American Perspectives on Political Science Wilbur Rich,2007-01-15 Race matters in both national and international politics Starting from this perspective African American Perspectives on Political Science presents original essays from leading African American political scientists Collectively they evaluate the discipline its subfields the quality of race related research and omissions in the literature They argue that because Americans do not fully understand the many faceted issues of race in politics in their own country they find it difficult to comprehend ethnic and racial disputes in other countries as well In addition partly because there are so few African Americans in the field political science faces a danger of unconscious insularity in methodology and outlook Contributors argue that the discipline needs multiple perspectives to prevent it from developing blind spots Taken as a whole these essays argue with great urgency that African American political scientists have a unique opportunity and a special responsibility to rethink the canon the norms and the directions of the discipline

denigrate men as perpetrators and focus on stopping the problematic behavior Building a Better Man tries to understand the external forces that impinge on the developmental experiences of boys men and broadens the scope of inquiry into their behavior by reviewing a range of external societal forces that contribute to the problems Clinicians and group leaders will find that the approach laid out in Building a Better Man leaves clients feeling understood more than judged which provides a different motivation for change and can set treatment on an entirely different and infinitely more productive path

Hillbilly Nationalists, Urban Race Rebels, and Black Power Amy Sonnie, James Tracy, 2011 The historians of the late 1960s have emphasized the work of a small group of white college activists and the Black Panthers activists who courageously took to the streets to protest the war in Vietnam and continuing racial inequality Poor and working class whites have tended to be painted as spectators reactionaries and even racists Tracy and Amy Sonnie have been interviewing activists from the 1960s for nearly 10 years and here reject this narrative showing how working class whites inspired by the Civil Rights Movement fought inequality in the 1960s

The Twilight of Equality? Lisa Duggan, 2012-04-03 By now we've all heard about the shocking redistribution of wealth that occurred during the last thirty years and particularly during the last decade But economic changes like this don't occur in a vacuum they're always linked to politics The Twilight of Equality searches out these links through an analysis of the politics of the 1990s the decade when neoliberalism free market economics became gospel After a brilliant historical examination of how racial and gender inequities were woven into the very theoretical underpinnings of the neoliberal model of the state Duggan shows how these inequities play out today In a series of political case studies Duggan reveals how neoliberal goals have been pursued demonstrating that progressive arguments that separate identity politics and economic policy cultural politics and affairs of state can only fail Ultimately The Twilight of Equality not only reveals how the highly successful rhetorical maneuvers of neoliberalism have functioned but more importantly it shows a way to revitalize and unify progressive politics in the U.S. today

Locked Out Jeff Manza, Christopher Uggen, 2008-04-17 Mr Manza and Mr Uggen wade into one of the most contested empirical debates in political science How many if any recent American elections would have gone differently if all former felons had been allowed to vote The Chronicle of Higher Education Jeff Manza and Christopher Uggen who understand the vastness of the jailers reach follow the story out of the cell and into the voting booth Locked Out examines how the disenfranchisement of felons shapes American democracy hardly a hypothetical matter in an age of split electorates and hanging chads Exacting and fair their work should persuade even those who come to the subject skeptically that an injustice is at hand The New York Review of Books 5.4 million Americans 1 in every 40 voting age adults are denied the right to participate in democratic elections because of a past or current felony conviction In several American states 1 in 4 black men cannot vote due to a felony conviction In a country that prides itself on universal suffrage how did the United States come to deny a voice to such a large percentage of its citizenry What are the consequences of large scale disenfranchisement for election outcomes for the reintegration of former offenders back into their communities and for public policy more generally Locked Out exposes one of the most important yet little known threats to the health of American democracy today It reveals the centrality of racial factors in the origins of these laws and their impact on politics today Marshalling the first real empirical evidence on the issue to make a case for reform the authors path breaking analysis will inform all future policy and political debates on the laws governing the political rights of criminals

Black Silent Majority Michael Javen Fortner,2015-09-28 Aggressive policing and draconian sentencing have disproportionately imprisoned millions of African Americans for drug related offenses Michael Javen Fortner shows that in the 1970s these punitive policies toward addicts and pushers enjoyed the support of many working class and middle class blacks angry about the chaos in their own neighborhoods
