Subcommittee on Military Construction Appropriations, 1989 President Bush's budget revisions United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Military Construction Appropriations, 1989 The imperial premiership Sam Goodman, 2016-10-24 Recent votes in the House of Commons on British military intervention have put foreign policy at the heart of public consciousness This book spans British foreign policy over the last fifty years and nine premierships from Harold Wilson to David Cameron Based on the author's first hand interviews with former foreign secretaries Cabinet ministers senior civil servants party officials military chiefs and diplomats it offers a unique account of the growing role of the prime minister in foreign policymaking and its impact Written by a senior parliamentary researcher it offers an insider account of votes on military intervention in Syria The prime minister now spends more time on foreign policy than any previous period outside war yet the public and MPs themselves remain relatively ill informed of foreign policy outside of crises If we are to avoid the mistakes of the past and utilise our country's full capacity on the world stage we need a societal change in how we vet those who seek the office and in educating the electorate Perilous Partners Ted Galen Carpenter, Malou Innocent, 2015-09-22 American leaders have cooperated with regimes around the world that are to varying degrees repressive or corrupt Such cooperation is said to serve the national interest But these partnerships also contravene the nation's commitments to democratic governance civil liberties and free markets During the Cold War policymakers were casual about sacrificing important values for less than compelling strategic rationales Since the 9/11 attacks similar ethical compromises have taken place although policymakers now seem more selective than their Cold War era counterparts Americans want a foreign policy that pursues national interests while observing American values How might that reconciliation of interest and morality be accomplished In Perilous Partners authors Ted Galen Carpenter and Malou Innocent provide a strategy for resolving the ethical dilemmas between interests and values faced by Washington They propose maintaining an arm's length relationship with authoritarian regimes emphasizing that the United States must not operate internationally in ways that routinely pollute American values It is a strategy based on ethical pragmatism which is the best way to reconcile America's strategic interests and its fundamental values Perilous Partners creates a strategy for conducting an effective U.S. foreign policy without betraying fundamental American values An Overview of the Administration's Federal Research and Development Budget United States. Inwood,2005-01-01 Free trade has been a highly contentious issue since the Conservative government of Brian Mulroney negotiated the first deal with the United States in the 1980s Tracing the roots of Canada s contemporary involvement in North American free trade back to the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada in 1985 also known as the Macdonald Commission Gregory J Inwood offers a critical examination of the commission and how its findings affected Canada s political and economic landscape including its present day reverberations Using original research including content analysis interviews archival information and surveys of relevant literature Inwood argues that the Macdonald Commission created an atmosphere and political discourse that made the continentalization of Canada possible by way of free trade agreements with the U S and Mexico Through the use of a suspect research program and with the aid of a select oligarchy within the Commission and the government bureaucracy opposition to continentalism from both the majority of the Canadian population and even several commissioners was ignored Accessible to readers interested in Canadian politics policy or economy Continentalizing Canada offers a thorough examination into the Macdonald Commission and the resulting discourse in the Canadian political economy      Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer,Bernardo P.
