Franck, 2019-03-26 This book uses extensive empirical analysis to explore the direct costs of investment treaty arbitration seeks to identify elements most likely to drive costs and proposes opportunities for process efficiency cost containment and equality of treatment to promote consistency predictability and rule of law Culture and Propaganda Sarah Ellen Graham, 2016-03-09 Throughout the twentieth century governments came to increasingly appreciate the value of soft power to help them achieve their foreign policy ambitions Covering the crucial period between 1936 and 1953 this book examines the U S government's adoption of diplomatic programs that were designed to persuade inform and attract global public opinion in support of American national interests Cultural diplomacy and international information were deeply controversial to an American public that been bombarded with propaganda during the First World War This book explains how new notions of propaganda as reciprocal exchange cultural engagement and enlightening information paved the way for innovations in U S diplomatic practice Through a comparative analysis of the State Department's Division of Cultural Relations the government radio station Voice of America and the multilateral cultural educational and scientific diplomacy of Unesco and drawing extensively on U S foreign policy archives this book shows how America's liberal traditions were reconciled with the task of influencing and attracting publics abroad Formal Organizations Peter Michael Blau, W. Richard Scott, 2003 Upon its publication in 1962 this book became one of the founding texts of organizational sociology Bringing together diverse approaches it presented a new focus of interest the Levine, Nathan H. Levine, 2023-03-24 Edward Conze's The Psychology of Mass Propaganda presents a commentary on the psychology of propaganda during the rise of fascism in Europe in the 1930s It discusses the conditions which generate vulnerability to misinformation in human societies and thus offers insight into how propaganda may be withstood Completed in 1939 during the period of Conze's own inflection from Marxist philosophy to Buddhist studies the original manuscript was never published and is now in print for the first time Presenting a unique historical perspective while also appealing to an acutely topical interest in the conditions under which autocracy and fascism arise the book examines the psychology of mass propaganda through copious contemporary and historical examples Conze focuses especially on recent news articles and the statements of the propagandists of many of the governments that would go on to participate in the Second World War including Germany Italy the USSR USA and UK all of which he interprets through the lens of recent psychological and historical research The book has been edited and includes a new introduction by Richard N Levine and Nathan H Levine also featuring a foreword by American legal scholar Laurence H Tribe and an afterword by actor director writer and Buddhist priest Peter Coyote This is a fascinating opportunity for scholars across several disciplines including political scientists and psychologists historians and sociologists to access one of Conze's previously unpublished works It will also be of importance to those interested in Conze's work on Buddhist philosophy and in the psychology of propaganda more broadly A Psychological Operations Bibliography American University (Washington, D.C.). Special Operations Research Office, Carl Berger, Howard C.
