The Idea of Education in Golden Age Detective Fiction Roger Dalrymple, Andrew Green, 2024-07-05 This book presents an exploration of how Golden Age detective fiction encounters educational ideas particularly those forged by the transformative educational policymaking of the interwar period Charting the educational policy and provision of the era and referring to works by Agatha Christie Dorothy L Sayers Edmund Crispin and others this book explores the educational capacity and agency of literary detectives the learning spaces of the genre and the kinds of knowledge that are made available to inquirers both inside and outside the text It is argued that the genre explores a range of contemporaneous propositions on the balance between academic curriculum and practicum length of school life and the value of lifelong learning This book's closing chapter considers the continuing pedagogic value for contemporary classrooms of engaging with the genre as a rich discursive and imaginative space for exploring educational ideas Framing Golden Age detective fiction as a genre profoundly concerned with learning this book will be highly relevant reading for academics postgraduate students and scholars involved in the fields of English language arts twentieth century literature and the theories of learning more broadly Those interested in detective fiction and interdisciplinary literary studies will also find the volume of interest Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2003 The Routledge Handbook of Crime Fiction and Ecology Nathan Ashman, 2023-10-27

The Routledge Handbook of Crime Fiction and Ecology is the first comprehensive examination of crime fiction and ecocriticism Across 33 innovative chapters from leading international scholars this Handbook considers an emergent field of contemporary crime narratives that are actively responding to a diverse assemblage of global environmental concerns whilst also opening up classic crime fictions and writers to new ecocritical perspectives Rigorously engaged with cutting edge critical trends it places the familiar staples of crime fiction scholarship from thematic to formal approaches in conversation with a number of urgent ecological theories and ideas covering subjects such as environmental security environmental justice slow violence ecofeminism and animal studies The Routledge Handbook of Crime Fiction and Ecology is an essential introduction to this new and dynamic research field for both students and scholars alike On the Borders of Convention Aleksandra Nikčević Batrićević, 2010-05-11

The research presented in this book is authored by scholars coming from as distant regions as South Africa the United States of America Great Britain France Italy Belarus the Balkans Needless to say that one of the good things about this international cooperation is that owing to their different socio cultural backgrounds these scholars have contributed to producing an extremely varied picture of ways of approaching the challenge of a changing world The papers on literature and culture collected in this book contribute a further element of rigour into the discussion of numerous and always varying and changing borders of convention in a literary text literary genre and literary theory as well as in general culture and everyday paths of life Starting with oral cultures over the classic literary masters modernist and postmodernist textual and theoretical phenomena the twentieth century flouting of numerous social and gender convention through painting film dance contemporary music as well as graffiti We have sought to stress that what is most noticeable from the evidence of their studies is that scholars today concern these issues through a dynamic global process and beyond any preconceived design or any strict set of theoretical prescriptions which would otherwise lead them to ignore the ever shifting borders in literature and culture as well as in global socio cultural reality in general The variety and complexity of these essays offer fresh views to the problem posed in the title of the book Therefore we trust that they will stimulate intellectual confrontation and circulation of ideas within the field of literature and cultural studies

Constellations of Reading Carlo Salzani, 2009 How to read Walter Benjamin today This book argues that the proper way is through an approach which recognizes and respects his own peculiar theorization of the act of reading and the politics of interpretation that this entails The approach must be figural that is focused on images and driven by the notion of actualization Figural reading in the very sui generis Benjaminian way understands figures as constellations whereby an image of the past juxtaposes them with an image of the present and is thus actualized To apply this method to Benjamin's own work means first to identify some figures The book singles out the Fl neur the Detective the Prostitute and the Ragpicker and then sets them alongside a contemporary account of the same figure the Fl neur in Juan Goytisolo's Landscapes after the Battle 1982 the Detective in Paul Auster's New York Trilogy 1987 the Prostitute in Dacia Maraini's Dialogue between a Prostitute and her Client 1973 and the Ragpicker in Mudrooroo's The Mudrooroo Miller Project 1993 The book thereby on the one hand analyses the politics of reading Benjamin today and on the other sets his work against a variety of contemporary aesthetics and politics of interpretation

Siam's New Detectives Samson Lim,2016-02-29 Visual evidence is the sine qua non of the modern criminal process from photographs and video to fingerprints and maps Siam s New Detectives offers an analytical history of these visual tools as employed by the Thai police when investigating crime Covering the period between the late nineteenth century and the end of the Cold War the book provides both an extended overview of the development and evolution of modern police practices in Thailand and a window into the role of the Thai police within a larger cultural system of knowledge production about crime violence and history Based on a diverse set of primary sources police reports detective training manuals trial records newspaper stories memoirs archival documents and hard to find crime fiction the book makes two related arguments First the factuality of the visual evidence used in the criminal justice system stems as much from formal conventions proper lighting in a crime scene photo standardized markings on maps as from the reality of what is being represented Second some images once created function as tools helping the police produce truths about the criminal past This generative power makes images such as crime scene maps useful as investigative aids but also means that scholars cannot analyze them simply in terms of mimetic accuracy or interpret them in isolation for deeper meaning Understanding how modern legal systems operate requires an examination of the visual culture of the law particularly the aesthetic rules that govern the generation and use of documentary evidence By examining modern policing in terms of visual culture Siam s New Detectives makes important methodological contributions The book shows how a historical analysis of form can supplement the way many scholars have traditionally approached visual sources as symbols requiring a close reading By acknowledging the productive nature of images in addition to their symbolic functions the book makes clear that policing is fundamentally an interactive creative endeavor as much as a disciplinary one

Murder and Masculinity Rebecca E. Biron,2000 Rebecca Biron breaks new ground in this study of masculinity violence and the strategic construction of collective political identities in twentieth century Latin American fiction By engaging current sociological psychoanalytic and feminist theories Murder and Masculinity analyzes the cliché of proving virility through violence against women Biron develops her argument through close readings of five works Jorge Luis Borges s La intrusa Armonia Somer s El despojo Clarice Lispector s A Maca no Escuro Manuel Puig s The Buenos Aires Affair and Reinaldo Arenas s El Asalto Although men murdering women is often interpreted as nothing more than machista misogyny Biron argues that the five narratives addressed in this book show that healed masculinities are essential to the achievement of cultural identity and political autonomy in Latin America The introduction to this study deftly situates Biron s work in relation to previous theoretical arguments on the social and political dimensions of Latin American writing The five subsequent chapters offer superb analyses of the individual texts Like their male protagonists who experiment with the psychological and legal extremes of gender division these narratives risk nonconformity to the laws of genre in their quest for liberation from violent social and literary conventions In combining elements of detective stories crime narratives psychological case studies and magical or grotesque realism they offer metafictional commentary on a network of discourses that confuses images of masculinity national identity and political autonomy in postcolonial Latin America

Detective Fiction and the Rise of Forensic Science Ronald R. Thomas, 1999 This is a book about the relationship between the development of forensic science in the nineteenth century and the invention of the new literary genre of detective fiction in Britain and America Ronald R Thomas examines the criminal body as a site of interpretation and enforcement in a wide range of fictional examples from Poe Dickens and Hawthorne through Twain and Conan Doyle to Hammett Chandler and Christie He is especially concerned with the authority the literary detective manages to secure through the devices fingerprinting photography lie detectors with which he discovers the truth and establishes his expertise and the way in which those devices relate to broader questions of cultural authority at decisive moments in the history of the genre This is an interdisciplinary project framing readings of literary texts with an analysis of contemporaneous developments in criminology the rules of evidence and modern scientific accounts of identity

The Figures of Edgar Allan Poe Gero Guttzeit, 2017-05-08 The Figures of Edgar Allan Poe is the first study to address the rhetorical dimensions of Poe's textual and discursive practices It argues that Poe is a figure and figurer of the emergence of the modern understanding of literature in the early nineteenth century that resulted from the birth of the romantic author and the so called death of rhetoric Building on accounts of Poe as a skilled navigator of American antebellum print culture Gero Guttzeit reinterprets Poe as representative of the vital role that transatlantic rhetoric played in antebellum literature He investigates rhetorical figures of the author in Poe's critical writings tales poems and lectures to give a new account of Poe's significance for antebellum literary culture In so doing he also proposes a general rhetorical theory of theoretical poetical and performative figures of the author Beyond Poe studies the book intervenes in current debates on the romantic origins of the modern author and demonstrates that rhetorical theory offers new ways of exploring authorship beyond the nineteenth century

Afropolitanism and the Novel Ashleigh Harris, 2019-08-09 The place of the novel as a literary form in Africa is contested Its colonial origins and its unaffordability for most Africans make it a bad fit for the continent yet it was also central to the creation of most postcolonial African national literary canons These bipolar traditions remain unresolved in recent debates about Afropolitanism and the novel in Africa today This book extends this debate arguing that Africa's de-realization in global representation and the global economy is reflected in the African novel becoming dominated by Afropolitan rather than African aesthetics styles and forms Drawing on close readings of a variety of major African novels of the 2000s the volume traces the tensions between the novel's complicity with and resistance to such de-realization The book argues that current trends and experiments in African non-realist genres such as science fiction magical and animist realism Afro futurism and speculative environmentalism are the result of a preoccupation with such de realization The volume is a significant exploration into literary form and its social philosophical political and economic underpinnings It will be a must read for scholars students and researchers of African literature politics philosophy and culture studies Fatal Violence Ronald M. Baucekova, 2015-09-04 In the structuralist understanding as proposed by John G Cawelti a classical detective novel is defined as a formula which contains prescribed elements and develops in a predefined ritualistic manner When described in this way the crime fiction formula very closely resembles a recipe when one cooks they also add prescribed ingredients in a predefined way in order to produce the final dish This surprising parallel serves as the starting point for this book s analysis of classical detective novels by Agatha Christie Here a structuralist approach to Golden Age crime fiction is complemented by methodology developed in the field of food studies in order to demonstrate the twofold role that food plays in Christie s novels namely its function as an element of the formula a literary device but also as a cultural sign Christie employed food on various different levels of her stories in order to portray characters construct plots and depict settings What is more incorporating domesticity and food in her novels helped her fundamentally alter the rigid conventions of the crime fiction genre as it developed in the nineteenth century and enabled her to successfully introduce the character of the female detective and to feminise the detective novel as such Neo-Victorian Fiction and Historical Narrative L. Hadley, 2010-10-13

Placing the popular genre of neo Victorian fiction within the context of the contemporary cultural fascination with the Victorians this book argues that these novels are distinguished by a commitment to historical specificity and understands them within their contemporary context and the context of Victorian historical and literary narratives
