The Transmutation of Love and Avant-Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving, 2016-05-19 The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics is a probing examination of how the writing of sexual love undergoes a radical revision by avant garde poets in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Today the exploration of love by poets long a fixture of Western poetic tradition is thought to be in decline with love itself understood to be a mere ideological overlay for the more real entities of physical sex and desire In The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving claims that a key achievement of poetry by Ezra Pound H D Robert Duncan Kathleen Fraser Nathaniel Mackey and others lies significantly in their engagement with the synergistic relations between being in love and writing love These poets she argues have traded the cliché lover of yore for impersonal or posthuman poetic speakers that sustain the gloire and mystery of love poetry of prior centuries As Robert Duncan writes There is a love in which we are outcast and vagabond from what we are that we call falling in love Heuving claims that this writing of love is defining for avant garde poetics identifying how such important discoveries as Pound s and H D s Imagism Pound s Cantos and Duncan s open field poetics are derived through their changed writing of love She draws attention to how the prevailing concept of language as material is inadequate to the ways these poets also engage language as a medium as a conduit enabling them to address love afresh in a time defined through preoccupations with sexuality They engage love as immanent and change it through a writing that acts on itself The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics ascribes the waning of love poetry to its problematic form a genre in which empowered poetic speakers constitute their speech through the objectification of comparatively disempowered subjects or beloveds Refusing this pervasive practice the poets she highlights reject the delimiting one sided tradition of masculine lovers and passive feminine beloveds instead they create a more nuanced dynamic poetics of ecstatic exploration what Heuving calls projective love and libidinalized field poetics a formally innovative poetry in which one perception leads directly to the next and all aspects of a poem are generative of meaning Greek Erotic Epigram Maria Kanellou, 2025-03-19

Despite its small size epigram attracted some of the best poetic talents of antiquity exerting a strong influence on Latin literature and continuing to inspire poetic creativity until today During the last decades research on epigram flourished to an unprecedented degree Greek Erotic Epigram A Diachronic Approach draws on and engages with this renewed scholarly interest in the briefest of the ancient Greek genres By shifting focus away from a particular poet collection and the epigrammatic production of a specific historical period it explores diachronically erotic epigram from various interpretative angles treating the surviving material as an organic whole Four motifs drive diachronic research encompassing a wide chronological span from the Hellenistic up until the early Byzantine era the lamp sea and nautical imagery the beloved s comparison to Aphrodite and Eros and the Erotes By analysing how these motifs were shaped and adapted over the centuries the book illustrates the epigrammatists changing attitudes towards the material inherited from earlier poetic tradition and leads to a deeper appreciation of the narrative techniques adopted by them as well as of the inner dynamics of poetic imitation and competition Moreover the scrutiny of the motifs within wider literary and historical backgrounds reveals the influence exerted by different cultural and sociopolitical environments on the epigrammatists work in the course of centuries The book offers a model for the type of diachronic research that can be applied to other epigrammatic subgenres and other motifs and to Latin epigram Other Worlds Here Theresa Warburton, 2021-04-15

Other Worlds Here Honoring Native Women s Writing in Contemporary Anarchist Movements examines the interaction of literature and radical social movement exploring the limitations of contemporary anarchist politics through attentive engagement with Native women s literatures Tracing the rise of New Anarchism in the United States following protests against the World Trade Organization in 1999 interdisciplinary scholar Theresa Warburton argues that contemporary anarchist politics have not adequately accounted for the particularities of radical social movement in a settler colonial society As a result activists have replicated the structure of settlement within anarchist spaces All is not lost however Rather than centering a critical indictment of contemporary anarchist politics Other Worlds Here maintains that a defining characteristic of New Anarchism is its ability to adapt and transform Through close readings of texts by Native women authors Warburton argues that anarchists must shift the paradigm that another world is possible to one that recognizes other worlds already here stories networks and histories that lay out methods of building reciprocal relationships with the land and its people Analyzing memoirs poetry and novels by writers including Deborah Miranda Elissa Washuta Heid E Erdrich Janet Rogers and Leslie Marmon Silko Other Worlds Here extends the study of Native women s literatures beyond ethnographic analysis of Native experience to advance a widely applicable contemporary political critique
