Equal Opportunities In Schools New Dimensions In Topic Work:

Equal Opportunities in Schools George Antonouris, Jack Wilson, 1989 Improving Teaching and Learning in the Humanities Martin Ashley, 2012-10-12 Focuses on religious education history geography and cross curricular planning in the primary school It includes discussion of the purpose of education and how the humanities fit with this purpose with particular reference to the 1998 Education Act and 1994 National Curriculum Review The book deals with the themes of time place values communication responsibilities and decision making These link the chapters and are fully complemented with case studies For each concept there are suggestions for practical classroom activities The reader will find the book invaluable in integrating the subjects across the National Curriculum Good Practice in Primary Religious Education Derek Bastide, 1992 Intended for the use of primary head teachers class teachers and teachers in training this book examines the requirements of the 1988 Education Reform Act in respect of religious education in schools It offers guidance on ways in which religious education can be developed successfully History and English in the Primary School Pat Hoodless, 2002-01-22 Changes to the primary curriculum over recent years have widened choice for all yet the current wave of thinking seems determined to retreat back to basics This vibrant volume examines the many ways in which history can include and complement the teaching of English to the greater benefit of both Enthusiastic practitioners explain how lively classroom activities can influence the level of children s literacy which means that the importance of the basics is recognised without compromising on the choice of subjects open to children History emerges as a wonderful tool for exploring not only language and literature but also as a way of stimulating the imagination and encouraging talk The contributors here are all passionate about this vital link between two complementary subject areas and will convincingly win you over The book is an invaluable companion for the student teacher primary teacher and teacher educator In Fairness to Children Morwenna Griffiths, Carol Davies, 2013-12-19 First Published in 1996 This innovative series is an ideal means of supporting professional practice in the post Dearing era when a new focus on the quality of teaching and learning is possible The series promotes reflective teaching and active forms of pupil learning The books explore the implications of these commitments for curriculum and curriculum related issues This volume is addressed to busy teachers to help them develop their own teaching and learning and everything discussed in the book actually took place as part of normal school life Children in Our Charge Mary John, 1996 This second book in this new series concentrates on the theme of providing for children in child centred ways It includes the philosophical background to thinking about children s rights vis a vis society s responsibilities and examines the effectiveness and dilemmas associated with the concept of the Best Interest of the Child Article three of the Convention of the Right of the Child states that all actions concerning children whether undertaken by public or private social welfare organisations courts of law administrative authorities or legislative bodies must hold the best interests of the child as the primary consideration Rarely however does a child have a say in what those interests are This volume redresses the balance and looks at provision and redistribution of resources as far as possible from the child's perspective. It looks at children in very disadvantaged circumstances such as in Romania but also at some of the issues arising from developments in the developed world. In addition to established areas this volume looks at two new issues as they concern the rights of the young: the possibilities of the information super highway and the rights of children born as a result of reproductive technologies.

Humanities in Primary Education Don Kimber, Nick Clough, Martin Forrest, Penelope Harnett, Ian Menter, Elizabeth Newman, 2013-11-26. First Published in 1995. This innovative series is an ideal means of supporting professional practice in the post Dearing era when a new focus on the quality of teaching and learning is possible. The series promotes reflective teaching and active forms of pupil learning. The books explore the implications of these commitments for curriculum and curriculum related issues. This book has emerged out of the collective experience of six colleagues who work together at the Faculty of Education of the University of the West of England in Bristol. The twin strands here are a social constructivist model of learning and a reflective teaching model of pedagogy. Through reflecting on our experiences and evaluating their intentions, practices and outcomes, not only do we learn but we also enrich the learning of those children, pupils and students with whom we are working.

The World in a Classroom Edwards, Viv, Angela Redfern, 1992. A comparative study of how British and Canadian schools have responded in recent decades to the needs of multilingual populations. In particular, it examines language policies, the teaching of English, classroom responses to linguistic and cultural diversity and community heritage language teaching.

Developing a European Dimension in Primary Schools Gordon H. Bell, 1991.

Schools and Work David Coffey, 1992.

Religious Education in the Primary School Elizabeth Hughes, 1994. The companion volume to Making a World of Difference takes a classroom teaching approach to the management of difference in religious belief and background. The author questions the adequacy of dealing with plurality simply through the RE curriculum and proposes a cross-curricular approach.

Improving Gender and Ethnic Relations Basil R. Singh, 1994.

The Prose and the Passion Morag Styles, Eve Bearne, Victor Watson, 1994.

Education and Community Garth Allen, Ian Martin, 1992.

At the Very Edge of the Forest Carol Fox, 1993.

World Religions and Educational Practice Witold Tulasiewicz, 1993.

Accountability in Practice John Lello, 1993.

Multicultural Education Don Bragaw, Scott D. Thomson, 1992.

Education and Meaning Paddy Walsh, 1993.

Psychology and the Teacher Dennis Child, 1993. This classic text, now in its fifth edition, provides a lucid and up-to-date introduction to psychology for teachers. Thoroughly revised, the text incorporates recent research and developments in psychology and education. It is accompanied by Dennis Child's Applications of Psychology for the Teacher, also published in the Cassell Education series. This fifth edition of Psychology and the Teacher considers issues of current concern whilst retaining the basic structure of the previous edition. There is completely new material on stress, learning to learn, metacognition, information processing and intelligence, and the new procedures for identifying children with special educational needs. Revised sections include those on assessment with reference to the current profiles and records of achievement careers education and the National Curriculum Other expanded topics include memory basic subjects at primary level the nervous system and computer assisted instruction References and suggestions for further reading have been updated Psychology and the Teacher is specifically designed to meet the requirements of students on BEd and PGCE courses and for those experienced teachers and educationalists who need to renew their acquaintance with psychology It is an invaluable guide for all those training to teach whatever their fields of instruction BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
