Equal Heart And Mind Letters Between Judith Wright And Jack Mckinney:

The Equal Heart and Mind Judith Wright, Jack Philip McKinney, 2004 The Equal Heart and Mind is an intimate portrait of poet Judith Wright and philosopher Jack McKinney Set in Brisbane and at Mt Tamborine where they lived for almost twenty years these letters vividly recreate their intertwined lives and also paint an unforgettable picture of postwar Brisbane with its lively cabals of writers artists and intellectuals For decades Judith Wright kept secret this cache of letters giving them late in life to her daughter Meredith McKinney Meredith and Patricia Clarke have edited the letters interspersing them with poems a selection of family album photographs and facsimiles of some of the handwritten and typescript letters Meredith also contributes a special memoir of her parents and the book concludes with Judith's moving account of Jack's death in 1966 These letters poems and commentaries along with the illustrations together make an exquisite addition to the field of Australian literary biography

With Love & Fury Judith Wright, 2006 This wide range of letters reminds us of Judith Wright's deep engagement with life her love of the world and of friends and the fine fury that led her to battle so courageously on the world's behalf

The Unknown Judith Wright Georgina Arnott, 2016 Judith Wright 1915-2000 remains a giant figure within Australian art culture and politics Her 1946 collection of poetry The Moving Image revolutionized Australian poetry She helped to establish the modern Australian environmental movement and was a key player in early campaigns for Aboriginal land rights A friend and confidante of artists writers scholars activists and policy makers she remains an inspiration to many And yet as Georgina Arnott is able to show in this major new work the biographical picture we have had of this renowned poet activist has been very much a partial one This book presents a more human figure than we have previously seen and concentrates on Wright's younger years New material allows us to hear directly thrillingly the feisty voice of a young Judith Wright and forces us to reconsider the woman we thought we knew Thoroughly reader friendly in organization and presentation The Unknown Judith Wright is unreservedly recommended for community and academic library Literary Studies collections in general and supplemental studies reading lists in the subject areas of Australian History Art Poetry Gender Studies Literary Criticism and Biographies Midwest Book Review Library Bookwatch January 2017 Subject Australian History Art Poetry Gender Studies Literary Criticism Biography

Judith Wright Georgina Arnott, 2022-03-01 Judith Wright 1915-2000 is one of the best known Australian poets of her generation Born into a pioneering bush family her commitments to environmental protection history writing and obtaining recognition for First Nations people drew her in new directions and assumed a major role in her life She was the first president of the Wildlife Preservation Society of Queensland a founder of the Australian Conservation Foundation and a member of the Aboriginal Treaty Commission This selection of her nonfiction the first of its kind brings together essays speeches family history correspondence memoir and criticism to reveal the personal and philosophical threads that bind together her work and life It makes plain the shifts and transformations in her thinking and the female friendships in particular with writer and activist

Oodgeroo Noonuccal that opened her to new perspectives and connections This addition to the Australian Thinkers series shows what happens when a poet talks about a nation It reveals a way of thinking about Australia its land history and culture that draws on the best of human possibility Judith Wright and Emily Carr Anne Collett, Dorothy Jones, 2021-01-28 Knitting together two fascinating but entirelyly distinct lives this ingeniously structured braided biography tells the story of the lives and work of two women each a cultural icon in her own country yet lesser known in the other s Australian poet Judith Wright and Canadian painter Emily Carr broke new ground for female artists in the British colonies and influenced the political and social debates about environment and indigenous rights that have shaped Australia and Canada in the 21st century In telling their story ies this book charts the battle for recognition of their modernist art and vision pointing out significant moments of similarity in their lives and work Although separated by thousands of miles their experience of colonial modernity was startlingly analogous as white settler women bent on forging artistic careers in a male dominated world and sphere rigged against them Through all this though their cultural importance endures two remarkable women whose poetry and painting still speak to us today of their passionate belief in the transformative power of art Christian Mysticism and Australian Poetry Toby Davidson, Australian poetry is popularly conceived as a tradition founded by the wry secular and stoic strains of its late nineteenth century bush balladeers Adam Lindsay Gordon Henry Lawson and Banjo Paterson consolidated into a land based vigour in publications such as the Bulletin Yet this popular conception relies on not actually consulting the poetry itself which for well over one hundred and fifty years has been cerebral introspective feminine and highly even experimentally religious This book casts Australian poetry in a new light by showing how Australian Christian mystical poetics can be found in every era of Australian letters how literary hostilities towards women poets eroticism and contemplation served to stifle a critical appreciation of mystical poetics until recent decades and how in the twentieth century one Australian Christian mystical poet began to influence another and share their appreciations of Dante Donne Traherne Blake Wordsworth Bront Rossetti Hopkins Yeats Eliot and Lowell Nine Lives Susan Sheridan, 2011 In the decades after World War II the literary scene in Australia flourished local writers garnered international renown and local publishers sought and produced more Australian books The traditional view of this postwar period is of successful male writers with women still confined to the domestic sphere In Nine Lives Susan Sheridan rewrites the pages of history to foreground the women writers who contributed equally to this literary renaissance Sheridan traces the early careers of nine Australian women writers born between 1915 and 1925 who each achieved success between the mid 1940s and 1970s Judith Wright and Thea Astley published quickly to resounding critical acclaim while Gwen Harwood s frustration with chauvinistic literary editors prompted her pseudonymous poetry Fiction writers Elizabeth Jolley Amy Witting and Jessica Anderson remained unpublished until they were middle aged Rosemary Dobson Dorothy Hewett and Dorothy Auchterlonie Green started strongly as poets in the 1940s but either reduced their output or fell silent for the next twenty years Sheridan considers why their careers developed differently from the careers of their male counterparts and how they balanced marriage family and writing This illuminating group biography offers a fresh perspective on mid twentieth century Australian literature and the women writers who helped to shape it

Speaking the Earth's Languages Stuart Cooke,2013 Speaking the Earth s Languages brings together for the first time critical discussions of postcolonial poetics from Australia and Chile The book crosses multiple Languages landscapes and disciplines and draws on a wide range of both oral and written poetries in order to make strong claims about the importance of a nomad poetics not only for understanding Aboriginal or Mapuche writing practices but more widely for the problems confronting contemporary literature and politics in colonized landscapes The book begins by critiquing canonical examples of non indigenous postcolonial poetics Incisive re readings of two icons of Australian and Chilean poetry Judith Wright 1915 2000 and Pablo Neruda 1904 1973 provide rich insights into non indigenous responses to colonization in the wake of modernity The second half of the book establishes compositional links between Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics and between such oral and written poetics more generally The book s final part develops an emerging synthesis of contemporary Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics with reference to the work of two of the most important avant garde Aboriginal and Mapuche poets of recent times Lionel Fogarty 1958 and Paulo Huirimilla 1973 Speaking the Earth s Languages uses these fascinating links between Aboriginal and Mapuche poetics as the basis of a deliberately nomadic open ended theory for an Australian Chilean postcolonial poetics The central argument of this book the author writes is that a nomadic poetics is essential for a genuinely postcolonial form of habitation or a habitation of colonized landscapes that doesn t continue to replicate colonialist ideologies involving indigenous dispossession and environmental exploitation

Literary Activists ,2009-09 Uniquely examining the link between Australian writers and social change this study investigates the motives behind literary figures who strive to become activists and social intellectuals Exploring this intimate connection this resource asks what such a bond reveals about Australian literature and the power of the written word With fresh insight this guide delves into the activism careers and writings of Judith Wright Patrick White Oodgeroo of the tribe of Noonuccal Les Murray Helen Garner David Malouf and Tim Winton

The Purpose of Futility Clare Rhoden,2015 In The Purpose of Futility Clare Rhoden surveys Australian Great War narratives demonstrating their particularly Australian features which help to explain the unique and disputed position of the Great War in Australian history Provided by publisher

Dark Trophies Simon Harrison,2014-05-01 Many anthropological accounts of warfare in indigenous societies have described the taking of heads or other body parts as trophies But almost nothing is known of the prevalence of trophy taking of this sort in the armed forces of contemporary nation states This book is a history of this type of misconduct among military personnel over the past two centuries exploring its close connections with colonialism scientific collecting and concepts of race and how it is a model for violent power relationships between groups

The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve,2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature's responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts Australian Book Review ,2005 Overland ,2007

Emperors in Lilliput Jim Davidson,2022-10-05 Lilliput in this dual biography is the world of literary magazines in Australia between the 1940s and the 1980s Here Clem Christesen and Stephen Murray Smith of the journals Meanjin and Overland were determined driven visionaries Both were very human and occasionally bruised believers in and workers for a better nation The book ranges from before the Menzies era and the Cold War through the Whitlam period and beyond to the challenges of the 1980s It shows how the editors constantly aimed for a culture more liberal diverse and developed than the one then prevailing Their publications may have lacked resources and economic return but they nonetheless possessed authority regularly providing stimulation for their readers and for the nation In finely wrought detail Jim Davidson the second editor of Meanjin traces the commitment of Christesen and Murray Smith to this ambitious cultural project and how it attracted many of the key writers and thinkers of those years There are pen portraits of many of them as the reader is taken behind the scenes Emperors in Lilliput exhibits the enlightened creative spirit animating these journals at their best It is at once captivating biography and rich social history Networked Language Philip Mead,2008 A revelation in literary criticism Philip Mead's Networked Language offers absorbing new perspectives on Australian poetry and its cultural life This study presents new ways of understanding Australian poetry drawing on an equal fascination with the artifice of poetry and the complexity of culture It is about the ways poetry changes in relation to its social political and historical contexts the way poetic communities and the readerships of poetry have changed through history and continue to change in the present
