Harrier, Hawks of the Marshes Frances Hamerstrom, 1986 Harrier, Hawk of the Marshes Frances Hamerstrom, 1986

Discusses the physical characteristics and habits of the Northern harrier hawk as revealed in a twenty five year study

Raptors of New Mexico Jean-Luc E. Cartron, 2010-08-16 No book has ever before specifically focused on the birds of prey of New Mexico Both Florence Bailey 1928 and J Stokley Ligon 1961 published volumes on the birds of New Mexico but their coverage of raptors was somewhat limited In the ensuing years a great deal of new information has been collected on these mighty hunters distribution ecology and conservation including in New Mexico The book begins with a history of the word raptor The order of Raptatores or Raptores was first used to classify birds of prey in the early nineteenth century derived from the Latin word raptor one who seizes by force The text then includes the writings of thirty seven contributing authors who relate their observations on these regal species For example Joe Truett recounts the following in the chapter on the Swainson s Hawk From spring to fall each year at the Jornada Caves in the Jornada del Muerto Swainson s hawks assemble daily to catch bats The bats exit the caves actually lava tubes near sundown The hawks swoop in snatch bats from the air and eat them on the wing Originally from France Jean Luc Cartron has lived and worked on several continents finding his passion in the wide open spaces of New Mexico He became fascinated by the birds of prey and has studied their ecology and conservation for nearly twenty years Raptors of New Mexico will provide readers with a comprehensive treatment of all hawks eagles kites vultures falcons and owls breeding or wintering in New Mexico or simply migrating through the state This landmark study is also beautifully illustrated with more than six hundred photographs including the work of more than one hundred photographers and more than twenty species distribution maps Birds of Lake, Pond, and Marsh John Andrew

Eastman, 1999 Describing how 39 common water and wetland birds of eastern North America nest mate and rear their broods this book takes a seasonal approach to bird study and is an appealing guide for birders of any skill level 72 illustrations Mice in the Freezer, Owls on the Porch Helen McGavran Corneli, 2002-12-01 Mice in the Freezer Owls on the Porch is in many ways a love story about a quiet scientist and his flamboyant wife but also about their passions for hunting for wild lands and for the grouse and raptor species that they were instrumental in saving from destruction From the papers and letters of Frederick and Frances Hamerstrom the reminiscences of contemporaries and her own long friendship with this extraordinary couple who were her neighbors Helen Corneli draws an intimate picture of Fran and Hammy from childhood through the genesis and maturation of a romantic creative and scientific relationship Following the Hamerstoms as they give up a life of sophisticated convention and comfort for the more civilized as Aldo Leopold would have it pleasures of living and conducting on the spot research into diminishing species Corneli captures the spirit of the Hamerstoms their profession and the natural and human environments in which they worked A nuanced account of the labors adventures and achievements that distinguished the Hamerstoms over the years and that inspired a generation of naturalists this book also provides a dramatic account of conservation history over the course of the twentieth century particularly in Wisconsin during the eventful years from the 1920s through the 1970s

The Eastman Guide to Birds John Eastman, 2000 Available for the first time in an electronic format this volume contains three classic guides to birds Birds of Forest Yard and Thicket Birds of Lake Pond and Marsh and Birds of Field and Shore These books pick up where the typical field guide leaves off covering each species close relatives typical behaviors through the year and place in the local ecology Readers will learn how the 151 birds covered in these guides nest mate feed and migrate and when and where to observe them Exquisite line illustrations instruct and delight

The Wild Mammals of Wisconsin Charles Alan Long, 2008

HARRIER HAWK OF MARSHES PB Frances Hamerstrom, 1986-07-17 Discusses the physical characteristics and habits of the Northern harrier hawk as revealed in a twenty five year study

The Raptors of Arizona Richard L. Glinski, 2021-11-16 Thousands of birdwatchers come to Arizona each year seeking rare or intriguing species and for those watching the skies the additional sighting of a bird of prey is a reward in itself The Grand Canyon state boasts the most dramatic assortment of raptors in North America hawks eagles falcons kites and owls plus vultures and condors Here can be found nearly all the raptor species of the continental United States and also established populations of species associated with Mexico such as the Gray Hawk Common Black Hawk Zone tailed Hawk and Whiskered Screech Owl Arizona s raptors are found in an unrivaled diversity of habitats from saguaro cactus forests where tiny Elf Owls nest to the Vermilion Cliffs where the gigantic California Condor was introduced in 1996 Yet many species live in habitats that are now jeopardized by degradation or development making an understanding and appreciation of raptors crucial to their survival The Raptors of Arizona brings together the knowledge and insights of 29 raptor and wildlife authorities who provide original information and syntheses on Arizona s 42 raptor species with an emphasis on aspects of their natural history in Arizona A chapter on each bird includes its description a range map and information on its distribution habitat life history and status Additional chapters cover conservation habitats where and when to watch raptors and the sport of falconry The book is enhanced by 42 full color illustrations by Richard Sloan one of the premier wildlife artists in North America whose paintings were commissioned by the Arizona Wildlife Foundation specifically for this project Co published with the Arizona Game and Fish Department

Raptors in Human Landscapes David M. Bird, Daniel E. Varland, Juan Jose Negro, 1996-02-08 This book is a collection of papers highlighting ways in which Raptors have successfully adapted to man made landscapes and structures The coverage of Raptors in Human Landscapes is broad ranging from the impact of human activity on country wide scales to the particular conditions associated with urban cultivated and industrial landscapes as well as to the various schemes specifically directed towards the provision of artificial nest sites and platforms The cases described hail from a wide geographic range including North and South America Europe Africa and elsewhere and from a broad spectrum of species groups such as the falcons accipiters eagles kites and many others This is a book of immense value not only to ornithologists and conservation biologists but also to engineers and managers involved in all kinds of building and environmental work in cities power and water works agriculture and forestry Serves as a good introduction to all aspects of the subject Focuses on successful adaptations of Raptors to environmental change

Raptor James Macdonald Lockhart, 2017-04-07 This illuminating book serves as homage to a brilliant naturalist and extraordinary birds If you loved H Is for Hawk put this next on your reading list Kirkus Reviews starred review From the merlin to the golden eagle the goshawk to the honey buzzard James Macdonald Lockhart's stunning debut is a quest of beak talon wing and sky On its surface Raptor is a journey across the British Isles in search of fifteen species of birds of prey but as Lockhart seeks out these elusive predators his quest becomes so much more an incomparably elegant elegy on the beauty of the British landscape and through the birds a journey toward understanding an awesome power at the heart of the natural world a power that is majestic and frightening in its strength but also fragile Linking his journey to that of his muse nineteenth century Scottish naturalist and artist William MacGillivray Lockhart shares his own encounters with raptors ranging from the scarce osprey to the successfully reintroduced red kite a species once protected by medieval royal statute revealing with poetic immediacy the extraordinary behaviors of these birds and the extreme environments they call home Creatures both worshipped and reviled raptors have a talon hold on the human heart and imagination With his book Lockhart unravels these complicated ties in a work by turns reverent and euphoric an interweaving of history travel and nature writing at its best A hymn to wanderers to the land and to the sky and especially to the birds Raptor soars Lockhart's soaring debut is a perfect synthesis of travel writing and natural history Financial Times

Birds of Field and Shore John Eastman, 2000 A field guide which describes 42 common birds found in Eastern North America which includes information on their habitats behavior migration habits evolutionary adaptations and use in nature lore

Stories from the Leopold Shack Estella B. Leopold, 2016-05-13 In 1934 conservationist Aldo Leopold and his wife Estella bought a barn the remnant of a farm and surrounding lands in south central Wisconsin The entire Leopold clan five children in all worked together to put into practice Aldo's land ethic which involved ecological restoration and sustainability In the process they built more than a pleasant weekend getaway they established a new way of relating to nature In 1948 A Sand County Almanac was published and it has become a beloved and foundational text of the conservation movement Decades later Estella B Leopold the youngest of the Leopold children she was eight when they bought the land now reflects on the Shack as they called the repurposed barn and its inhabitants and recalls with clear eyed fondness the part it played in her and her siblings burgeoning awareness of nature's miracles season by season In Stories from the Leopold Shack Sand County Revisited she unforgettably recalls the intensity of those days the taste of fresh honey on sourdough pancakes the trumpeting arrival of migrating Canada geese the awesome power of river ice driven by currents and each description is accompanied by stunning photographs by her brother A Carl Leopold As the Leopolds worked to restore degraded farmland back to its original prairie and woods they noted and celebrated all of the flora and fauna that came to share the Shack lands As first evoked in A Sand County Almanac and now revisited in Stories from the Leopold Shack the Leopold family s efforts of ecological restoration were among the earliest in the United States and their work collectively and individually continues to have a profound impact on land management and conservationism All of Aldo and Estella Leopold s children went on to become distinguished scientists and to devote themselves to a life of conservation their work continues through the Aldo Leopold Foundation Estella B Leopold book offers a voyage back to the place where it all began Biology and Conservation of Owls of the Northern Hemisphere James R. Duncan, David H. Johnson, Thomas H. Nicholls, 1997 Publications Available from Northern Prairie Wildlife Research Center Northern Prairie Wildlife Research Center, 1993 Raptors Keith L. Bildstein, 2017-05-02 Raptors are formally classified into five families and include birds such as eagles ospreys kites true hawks buzzards harriers vultures and falcons that are familiar and recognized by many observers These diurnal birds of prey are found on every continent except Antarctica and can thrive in seemingly inhospitable spots such as deserts and the tundra They have powerful talons and hooked beaks for cutting and tearing meat and keen binocular vision to aid in their hunting prowess Because of their large size distinctive feeding habits and long distance flight patterns raptors intrigue humans and have been the subject of much general interest as well as extensive scientific research Keith L Bildstein has watched and studied raptors on five continents and is well prepared to explain their critical importance not only as ecological entities but also as inspirational tokens across natural and human dominated landscapes His book offers a comprehensive and accessible account of raptors including their evolutionary history their relationships to other groups of birds their sensory abilities their general natural history their breeding ecology and feeding behavior and threats to their survival in a human dominated world Biologically sound but readable Raptors is a nontechnical overview of this captivating group It will allow naturalists birders hawk watchers science educators schoolchildren and the general public along with new students in the field of raptor biology to understand and appreciate these birds and in so doing better protect them Available Publications from Northern Prairie Wildlife Research Center ,1990 Publications Available from Northern Prairie Science Center Northern Prairie Science Center (U.S.), 1994 Publications Available from Northern Prairie Science Center ,1994
