Hate Crimes Revisited Americas War On Those Who Are Different:

Hate Crimes Revisited Jack Levin, Jack McDevitt, 2002-09-13 The authors of Hate Crimes The Rising Tide of Bigotry and Bloodshed 1993 take another look at the subject Particular attention is paid to violence based on nationality and country of origin which appears to be on the rise following the terrorist attacks of September 11 Levin and McDevitt both Northeastern U argue that hate crimes hurt not only the victim but damage society as a whole Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Hate Crimes Revisited Jack Levin, Jack McDevitt, 2009-03-25 Hate crimes violence aimed at individuals because they are members of a particular group were once considered the rare illegal actions of a small but vocal assortment of extremists who thrived on hating minorities No more In this new book by two of the country s leading experts on hate crimes published ten years after their classic book of the same name these most recognized authorities and media commentators reinterpret this scourge of our generation hatred based on race religion sexual orientation ethnicity gender and even citizenship In the aftermath of the worst act of terrorism in this country s history the bombing of the World Trade Center on September 11 2001 the authors probe the causes and characteristics of such acts of hatred and most vitally their consequences for all of us

Proof, Evidence and Hate Crime Tshepo Bogosi Mosaka, 2025-07-18 Proof is the property of a disputed fact being established inferentially from an extant fact This book explicates the structural components of this phenomenon in the context of hate crimes across various jurisdictions around the world It departs from the orthodox conception of evidence and proof as being a general value neutral or non normative and epistemic subject and offers a relativistic conception of this area of law The core argument is that proof is both semantically and methodologically determined by three conditions of materiality process and probativity This argument is then justified by the context specific application of this relativistic theory of proof to hate crimes This theoretical application of proof is sustained throughout the book using multiple examples and illustrations of hate crimes around the world The discussion both at the level of proof and hate crimes while focusing on the grounds of race religion and ethnicity specifically is framed in jurisprudential cross jurisdictional and interdisciplinary terms The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of criminal law legal philosophy and procedural law

The Measurement of Hate Crimes in America Frank S. Pezzella, Matthew D. Fetzer, 2020-10-23 Using data from the Uniform Crime Reporting Hate Crime Statistics Program and the National Crime Victimization Survey this brief highlights the uniqueness of hate or bias crime victimization It compares these to non bias crimes and delineates the situational circumstances that distinguish bias from non bias offending The nuances of under reporting shed light on bias group and victim reasons for not reporting By examining measurement issues associated with data collection systems this brief helps explain why eighty nine percent of participating law enforcement agencies report zero hate crimes each year It describes patterns and trends in reporting the volume of general bias motivations and specific bias types as the most prevalent hate crime offense types and most likely victims and offenders With recommendations to address issues in measurement and under reporting including an action plan by the Enhance the Response to Hate Crimes Advisory Committee and the International Association of Chiefs of Police a best practice model by the Oak Creek Police Department and other promising law enforcement reporting models this brief provides an increasingly critical resource for law enforcement practitioners and researchers dealing with hate crimes Victims of Crime Robert C.
