Building News ,1892      Literature and Architecture in Early Modern England Anne M. Myers,2013-01-01 Our built environment inspires writers to reflect on the human experience discover its history or make it up Buildings tell stories Castles country homes churches and monasteries are documents of the people who built them owned them lived and died in them inherited and saved or destroyed them and recorded their histories Literature and Architecture in Early Modern England examines the relationship between sixteenth and seventeenth century architectural and literary works By becoming more sensitive to the narrative functions of architecture Anne M Myers argues we begin to understand how a range of writers viewed and made use of the material built environment that surrounded the production of early modern texts in England Scholars have long found themselves in the position of excusing or explaining England's failure to achieve the equivalent of the Italian Renaissance in the visual arts Myers proposes that architecture inspired an unusual amount of historiographic and literary production including poetry drama architectural treatises and diaries Works by William Camden Henry Wotton Ben Jonson Andrew Marvell George Herbert Anne Clifford and John Evelyn when considered as a group are texts that overturn the engrained critical notion that a Protestant fear of idolatry sentenced the visual arts and architecture in England to a state of suspicion and neglect      Berthold Lubetkin's Highpoint II and the Jewish Contribution to Modern English Architecture Deborah Lewittes,2018-05-15 In 1935 the Russian born Jewish architect Berthold Lubetkin and his firm Tecton designed Highpoint a block of flats in London which Le Corbusier called revolutionary Three years later Lubetkin completed a companion design Yet Highpoint II felt very different and the sense that the ideals of modernism had been abandoned seemed hard to dispute Had modern architecture failed to take root in England This book challenges the belief that English architecture was on hiatus during the 1930s Using Highpoint II as a springboard Deborah Lewittes takes us on a journey through the defining moments of modern English architecture the high points of the period surrounding Highpoint II Drawing on Lubetkin's work and his writings the book argues that he advanced influential lasting theories which were rooted in his design for Highpoint II Lubetkin's work is explored within the context of wider Jewish emigration to London during the interwar years as well as the anti-Semitism that pervaded Britain during the 1930s As Lewittes demonstrates this decade was anything but quiet Providing a new perspective on twentieth century English architecture this book is of interest to students and scholars in architectural history urban studies Jewish studies and related fields      Analysing Architecture Simon Unwin,2020-12-29 Now in its fifth edition Analysing Architecture has become internationally established as the best introduction to architecture Aimed primarily at those studying architecture it offers a clear and accessible insight into the workings of this rich and fascinating subject With copious illustrations from his own notebooks the author dissects examples from around the world and all periods of history to explain the underlying strategies in architectural design and show how drawing may be used as a medium for analysis In this new edition Analysing Architecture has been revised and expanded Notably the chapter on How Analysis Can Help Design has been redeveloped to clearly explain this crucially important aspect of study to a beginner readership Four new chapters have been added to the section dealing with Themes in Spatial Organisation on Axis Grid Datum Place and Hidden Material from the Case Studies in previous editions has been redistributed amongst earlier chapters The Introduction has been completely rewritten and the format of the whole book has been adjusted to allow for the inclusion of more and better illustrative examples Works of architecture are instruments for managing orchestrating modifying our relationship with the world around us They frame just about everything we do Architecture is complex subtle frustrating but ultimately extremely rewarding It can be a difficult discipline to get to grips with nothing in school quite prepares anyone for the particular demands of an architecture course But this book will help
