Fighting Words Australian War Writing:

Fighting Words: Australian War Writing Carl Harrison-Ford, 2002 Fighting Words, 1986 Poetry Boer War First World War Second World War Korean War Vietnam War Fighting Words Raymond Evans, 1999 With an open heart and inquiring intellect Raymond Evans sets out to uncover a past not studied in the school books of his youth Growing up in the 1950s he lived in a community devoid of Aboriginal presence It was an enclave of Welsh migrant families with all the rituals and traditions of a faraway Home His evolving historical consciousness was fired by the need to connect with these shadowy absences and to engage with his adopted homeland Interwoven with his personal journey is a revealing selection of race relations histories which cover a wide arena from the Aboriginal European conflicts of colonial Queensland to the anti Chinese riots of 1888 and civilian internment during World War I Evans also moves beyond frontier conflict into the long period of repressive government control of Aboriginal lives In writing on race gender and labour relations he illustrates how selective history can be by omitting the contribution of Aboriginal labourers men and women These form a critical bridge to understanding the complexities of race relations today Australian Soldiers in South Africa and Vietnam Effie Karageorgos, 2016-03-24 The South African and Vietnam Wars provoked dramatically different reactions in Australians from pro British jingoism on the eve of Federation to the anti war protest movements of the 1960s In contrast the letters and diaries of Australian soldiers written while on the South African and Vietnam battlefields reveal that their reactions to the war they were fighting were surprisingly unlike those on the home fronts from which they came Australian Soldiers in South Africa and Vietnam follows these combat men from enlistment to the war front and analyses their words alongside theories of soldiering to demonstrate the transformation of soldiers as a response to developments in military procedure as well as changing civilian opinion In this way the book illustrates the strength of a soldier's link to their home front lives Battle Scarred Craig Deayton, 2011-03-07 The dead and wounded of the 47th lay everywhere underfoot With these words Charles Bean Australia's Official War Historian described the battlefield of Dernancourt on the morning of the 5th of April 1918 strewn with the bodies of the Australian dead It was the final tragic chapter in the story of the 47th Australian Infantry Battalion in the First World War One of the shortest lived and most battle hardened of the 1st Australian Imperial Force's battalions the 47th was formed in Egypt in 1916 and disbanded two years later having suffered one of the highest casualty rates of any Australian unit Their story is remarkable for many reasons Dogged by command and discipline troubles and bled white by the desperate attrition battles of 1916 and 1917 they fought on against a determined and skilful enemy in battles where the fortunes of war seemed stacked against them at every turn Not only did they have the misfortune to be called into some of the A I F's most costly campaigns chance often found them in the worst places within those battles Though their story is one of almost unrelieved tragedy it is also story of remarkable courage endurance and heroism It is the story of the 1st A I F itself punished beaten sometimes reviled for their indiscipline they fought on fewer leaner and harder until final victory was won And at its end in an extraordinary gesture of mateship the remnants of the 47th Battalion reunited Having been scattered to other units after their disbandment the survivors gathered in Belgium for one last photo together Only 73 remained

Useless Beauty Ann Elias,2015-10-05 The story of Australian art does not begin and end with landscape This book puts flowers front and centre because they have often been ignored in preference for more masculine themes Departing from where studies of single flower artists leave off Useless Beauty embraces the general topic of flowers in Australian art and shines new light on a slice of Australian art history that extends from 1880 to 1950 It is the first book of broad chronology to discuss Australian art through blossoms which it does by addressing stories of major figures including Hans Heysen Margaret Preston and Sidney Nolan as well as specific objects such as surreal flowers Aboriginal flowers and war flowers Whether modern or conservative the artists in this study shared an intellectual and emotional passion for flora This was true for men as well as women despite blossoms being a more traditionally feminine subject Through spectacular reproductions of historical and contemporary artworks drawn from collections in Australia the United States Britain and New Zealand Useless Beauty explores how flowers influenced the psyche governed rituals defined identity and brought a psychological dimension to the everyday The peak years for flower centrality in Australian art were between 1920 and 1940 when flowers were known as the apotheosis of useless beauty

Breaker Morant Peter FitzSimons,2020-10-27 The epic story of the Boer War and Harry Breaker Morant drover horseman bush poet murderer or hero Most Australians have heard of the Boer War and of Harry Breaker Morant a figure who rivals Ned Kelly as an archetypal Australian folk hero But Morant was a complicated man Born in England and immigrating to Queensland in 1883 he established a reputation as a rider polo player and poet who submitted ballads to The Bulletin and counted Banjo Paterson as a friend Travelling on his wits and the goodwill of others Morant was quick to act when appeals were made for horsemen to serve in the war in South Africa He joined up first with the South

Australian Mounted Rifles and then with a South African irregular unit the Bushveldt Carbineers The adventure would not go as Breaker planned In October 1901 Lieutenant Harry Morant and two other Australians Lieutenants Peter Handcock and George Witton were arrested for the murder of Boer prisoners Morant and Handcock were court martialled and executed in February 1902 as the Boer War was in its closing stages but the debate over their convictions continues to this day With his masterful command of story Peter FitzSimons takes us to the harsh landscape of southern Africa and into the bloody action of war against an unpredictable force using modern commando tactics The truths FitzSimons uncovers about the Breaker and the part he played in the Boer War are astonishing and finally we will know if the Breaker was a hero a cad a scapegoat or a criminal Australian Book Review ,2006

Australia's Vietnam War Jeff Doyle,Jeffrey Grey,Peter Pierce,2002 Today the mere mention of Vietnam conjures up images of protest in American streets and tensions so strong they divided a country Yet the United States did not fight alone Comparatively little is known about Australia s experience its motives for entering the conflict national support for Australia s role there and how that nation dealt with the aftermath of war Here Jeff Doyle Jeffrey Grey and Peter Pierce chronicle Australia s complicated involvement in Vietnam Australia s decision to participate in the conflict was part of a collective Western effort to stop Communist expansion It was also a price willingly paid for assurances of American intervention in the event of an Indonesian attack on Australia Through an evaluation of the literature arising from Vietnam the manner in which Australia memorialized its fallen veterans and other expressions of the war s influences this book offers important insights into the healing process nations face following such conflicts

Genocide and Settler Society A. Dirk Moses,2005-03-01 Colonial Genocide has been seen increasingly as a stepping stone to the European genocides of the twentieth century yet it remains an under researched phenomenon This volume reconstructs instances of Australian genocide and for the first time places them in a global context Beginning with the arrival of the British in 1788 and extending to the 1960s the authors identify the moments of radicalization and the escalation of British violence and ethnic engineering aimed at the Indigenous populations while carefully distinguishing between local massacres cultural genocide and genocide itself These essays reflect a growing concern with the nature of settler society in Australia and in particular with the fate of the tens of thousands of children who were forcibly taken away from their Aboriginal families by state agencies Long considered a relatively peaceful settlement Australian society contained many of the pathologies that led to the exterminatory and eugenic policies of twentieth century

Europe Civilian-Driven Violence and the Genocide of Indigenous Peoples in Settler Societies Mohamed Adhikari, 2021-07-12 Existing studies of settler colonial genocides explicitly consider the roles of metropolitan and colonial states and their military forces in the perpetration of exterminatory violence in settler colonial situations yet rarely pay specific attention to the dynamics around civilian driven mass violence against indigenous peoples In many cases however civilians were major if not the main perpetrators of such violence The focus of this book is thus on the role of civilians as perpetrators of exterminatory violence and on those elements within settler colonial situations that promoted mass violence on their part A Bibliography of Australian Literary Responses to 'Asia' Lyn Jacobs, 1995 The Yellow Lady Alison Broinowski, 1992 The Yellow Lady is the first major critique of Australian impressions of Asia Alison Broinowski argues that Australians have been backward in developing an appropriate image of themselves because of their ignorance of and ambivalence towards Asians She traces the history of Australian ideas about Asia and the Pacific from pre colonial time to the present and concludes that some of these perceptions no matter how irrational or archaic continue to underlie the political and economic decisions Australians make about the Asia Pacific region No one has ever looked so exhaustively at Australian images of Asia Alison Broinowski a longtime diplomat and writer about Asian issues identifies these images where they come from and how they have changed or not changed She investigates artists who took an interest in Asia and why they did so They include visual artists novelists film makers composers architects poets potters playwrights photographers puppeteers and choreographers Japan receives the greatest attention as a continuing source of both modernity and tradition Beginning with early Aboriginal contact with Indonesians The Yellow Lady shows how chances for harmonious co existence with the neighbourhood were lost in the colonial period Successive wars set back this process of adaptation In the final section as increasing numbers of Asians migrate to Australia and Asian countries become economically dominant Australian images of Asia undergo rapid change Alison Broinowski argues that until Asia is accepted as part of the mainstream of Australian life Australians will remain uncertain about their status and that if Australia s international image is to change it must begin by acknowledging the reality of Asia
