Alliteration

Alliteration is when there is a repetition of sound within a phrase or sentence.

E.g. She sells seashells on the seashore.

Anaphora

Anaphora is when a word is repeated multiple times within a phrase.

E.g. He had one apple, one banana and one pear.

Antithesis

Antithesis is applying a juxtaposition of ideas which are contrasting in a statement that is balanced.

E.g. Man proposes and God deposes.

Apostrophe

Apostrophe is speaking to an object or item that is not alive as if it were in fact, alive.

E.g. Come on trousers, you have to fit me.

Assonance

Assonance is the similarity in sound between vowels in the middle of neighbouring words.

E.g. How now, brown cow.

Chiasmus

Chiasmus is when two sentences are balanced against one another but with the words reversed.

E.g. Work to live and do not live to work.

Euphemism

Euphemism is the replacement of a phrase which might be deemed offensive by one which implies the same meaning but does not carry offence with it.

E.g. Instead of 'he died' you would say 'he passed away.'

Hyperbole

Hyperbole is a term which uses an exaggeration to add a more dramatic meaning to the sentence.

E.g. My bag weighs a tonne.

Irony

Irony is a statement which conveys the exact opposite meaning of what is literally being said.

E.g. The fire station burnt to the ground.

Litotes

Litotes is an understatement which applies a negative to express the meaning of the affirmative.

E.g. That dress is not too bad

Figures Of Speech:

Figures of Speech Christina Alm-Arvius, 2003-01-01 This book exemplifies analyses and describes different types of figurative meanings or tropes and rhythmical schemes in natural verbal language. It should be of interest to anyone who looks for linguistically oriented information about these questions. The book focuses on figurative language in standard English but the analyses and explanations given should be valid also for other languages. Simile personification oxymoron hyperbole understatement symbolic language and punning are dealt with and there is a chapter on rhythmical schemes but the main part of the book is about metaphor and metonymy including synecdoche. A number of theoretical attempts at explaining the character of these tropes are described and discussed. A more comprehensive analytical perspective is argued for however. Metaphorical and metonymic uses clearly connect to cognition and experience in general in a creative way but in this study it is also pointed out that there are obvious parallels between metaphor and metonymy and the non figurative types of relations in language systems termed hyponymy and meronymy. Accordingly language users seem to operate with general types of semantic strategies.

Figures of Speech Sarah Maria Burnham, 1901 Figures of Speech Arthur Quinn, 1995-11-01 Writing is not like chemical engineering. The figures of speech should not be learned the same way as the periodic table of elements. This is because figures of speech are not about hypothetical structures in things but about real potentialities within language and within ourselves. The figurings of speech reveal the apparently limitless plastic "Fire I the Blood" Richard E. Mezo, 1999-06 There are great differences between the oral use of figurative language and its written use. Nevertheless the only separately published textbook for figurative language is almost entirely concerned with oral figurative language offering such examples as you have a heart of stone or you make my blood boil. Much if not most oral language consists of long repetitious portions of cliché and platitude and not surprisingly the figurative language used follows the same pattern. Writing teachers generally ask their students not to use clichés and platitudes even though they may mistakenly I think advise students to write like you speak.

Renaissance Figures of Speech Sylvia Adamson, Gavin Alexander, Katrin Ettenhuber, 2007-12-20 The Renaissance saw a renewed and energetic engagement with classical rhetoric. Recent years have seen a similar revival of interest in Renaissance rhetoric. As Renaissance critics recognised figurative language is the key area of intersection between rhetoric and literature. This book is the first modern account of Renaissance rhetoric to focus solely on the figures of speech. It reflects a belief that the figures exemplify the larger concerns of rhetoric and connect directly or by analogy to broader cultural and philosophical concerns within early modern society. Thirteen authoritative contributors have selected a rhetorical figure with a special currency in Renaissance writing and have used it as a key to one of the period's characteristic modes of perception forms of argument states of feeling or styles of reading. It Figures! Marvin Terban, 1993 Aiming to illuminate the difference between a sentence that's merely correct and one that's dramatic evocative memorable or funny this is an introduction to the figure of speech a means of putting words together to create a vivid picture in the reader's or listener's mind The American author explains the simile metaphor onomatopoeia alliteration hyperbole and personification and provides examples from the work of great writers together with his own humorous originals The text is accompanied by whimsical line drawings

Dean Anderson, 2000 This Glossary was written as a companion volume to Anderson s Ancient Rhetorical Theory and Paul It is of course far more than a glossary in the strict sense of that word providing the reader with a brief overview of the varied use of a given term in the works of the rhetorical theorists from Anaximenes end of the 4th century BC through to Quintilian end of the first century AD For this time period an attempt has been made to provide the reader with an exhaustive list of references to the primary texts The Glossary is primarily intended as an aid to those attempting to use and apply Greek rhetorical methods of argumentation excluding the theoretical stasis terminology figures and tropes to literature of the Hellenistic and early Imperial period That is however not to say that use of this glossary may not be handy for those wishing to utilise later sources Whilst the Glossary also includes reference to later sources where these illuminate concepts functioning within the target period the use of this work in conjunction with the reading of late rhetorical sources should aid the reader in determining where theoretical or terminological development is taking place and where the sources are clearly relying upon traditional concepts The Glossary is not intended to replace the study of primary rhetorical texts but to facilitate this study by providing a brief overview and by pointing the reader to appropriate passages in various works which may then be further consulted      Exam Secrets in Literature-in-English: What JAMB, WAEC and NECO Want from Candidates Mazi

Mystery of the Eucharist Hilary Arthur Nixon PhD, 2022-10-07 For Christ did not enter a holy place made by hands a mere copy of the true one but into heaven itself now to appear in the presence of God for us nor was it that He would offer Himself often as the high priest enters the Holy Place year by year with blood that is not his own Otherwise He would have needed to suffer often since the foundation of the world but now once at the consummation of the ages He has been revealed to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself Hebrews 9 24 25 NASB Jesus interrupted their Seder meal celebrating Passover Using unleavened bread and a cup of wine he instituted the Lord s Supper Why does the bread represent Christ s body God passes over the believer s sin because the Lamb of God s body carried our sin He suffered and died His body was broken like bread What represents His death Life is with the blood Life ceases when blood stops pouring out of the sacrifice Wine represents Christ s blood Wine poured into the cup represents his death The cup Jesus used probably was a wooden bowl What cup represents the new covenant Once a year on the Day of Atonement the high priest entered the Holy of Holies With his finger he sprinkled blood from the bowl onto the mercy seat Seven times he did this This ritual shows God s intent to cleanse sin from his people In the heavenly temple Jesus the Christ cleansed us from sin By showing His blood He showed his death on our behalf The cup is only a tiny piece of the new covenant s inauguration ritual Yet the cup represents the entire new covenant relationship between God and his people This figure of speech is a synecdoche where a part represents the whole It is a specialized form of metonym
