Film Real To Reel:

Film David Coynik,1976 An introduction to the techniques used by modern filmmakers to communicate with their audiences documented by examples and instructions for the amateur interested in making his own film World War II on Film David Luhrssen,2020-11-09 World War II on Film examines the war through the lens of 12 films The movies selected include productions made during World War II and in each succeeding decade providing a sense of how different generations perceive the war World War II on Film provides a succinct yet well grounded appraisal of that war as seen through 12 representative films The book separates fact from fiction showing where the movies were accurate and where they departed from reality and places them in the larger context of historical and social events Each movie chosen represents a particular aspect of the conflict including the air war over Europe the condition of prisoners of war Nazi atrocities and the British evacuation at Dunkirk Unlike most histories of Hollywood during World War II or the genre of war movies World War II on Film examines in depth the relation between the depictions of events beliefs attitudes and ways of life as seen on film with reality as documented by historians or recorded by journalists or eyewitnesses to the war The volume will appeal to high school and college readers as well as general interest readers and film buffs Movie Medievalism Nickolas Haydock,2014-01-10 This work offers a theoretical introduction to the portrayal of medievalism in popular film Employing the techniques of film criticism and theory it moves beyond the simple identification of error toward a poetics of this type of film sensitive to both cinema history and to the role these films play in constructing what the author terms the medieval imaginary The opening two chapters introduce the rapidly burgeoning field of medieval film studies viewed through the lenses of Lacanian psychoanalysis and the Deleuzian philosophy of the time image The first chapter explores how a vast array of films including both auteur cinema and popular movies contributes to the modern vision of life in the Middle Ages while the second is concerned with how time itself functions in cinematic representations of the medieval The remaining five chapters offer detailed considerations of specific examples of representations of medievalism in recent films including First Knight A Knight's Tale The Messenger The Story of Joan of Arc Kingdom of Heaven King Arthur Night Watch and The Da Vinci Code The book also surveys important benchmarks in the development of Deleuze's time image from classic examples like Bergman's The Seventh Seal and Kurosawa's Kagemusha through contemporary popular cinema in order to trace how movie medievalism constructs images of the multivalence of time in memory and representation Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Kemps Film, TV & Video Handbook ,2000 Resources in Education ,1974 International Encyclopedia of Geography, 15 Volume Set Noel Castree,Michael F.
