Children, Film and Literacy Becky Parry, 2013-10-22 Children Film and Literacy explores the role of film in children's lives The films children engage in provide them with imaginative spaces in which they create play and perform familiar and unfamiliar fantasy and everyday narratives and this narrative play is closely connected to identity literacy and textual practices Family is key to the encouragement of this social play and at school the playground is also an important site for this activity However in the literacy classroom some children encounter a discontinuity between their experiences of narrative at home and those that are valued in school Through film children develop understandings of the common characteristics of narrative and the particular language of film This book demonstrates the ways in which children are able to express and develop distinct and complex understandings of narrative that is to say where they can draw on their own experiences including those in a moving image form Children whose primary experiences of narrative are moving images face particular challenges when their experiences are not given opportunities for expression in the classroom and this has urgent implications for the teaching of literacy

 Feng Yue, 2023-01-02 This book explores translation strategies for films and TV programs On the basis of case studies on subtitle translations it argues that translators are expected to take into consideration not only linguistic and cultural differences but also the limits of time and space Based on the editor's experience working as a translator for TV journalist and narrator this book proposes employing editorial translation for TV translation Further in light of statistics on international audiences views on Chinese films it suggests striking a balance between conveying cultural messages and providing good entertainment The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments Science Fiction Film, Television, and Adaptation J. P. Telotte, Gerald Duchovnay, 2011-08-02 The book examines the difficulty of adapting from one screen medium to another by looking at both successful and unsuccessful efforts in the area of science fiction Those difficult efforts at moving from film to TV and from TV to film reveal much about the technologies involved and this highly
