Final Refuge James L. Haley, 1994 In Texas a new kind of zoo opens the life work of Eric Jackson who has recreated the animals natural habitat The zoo is full of rare and valuable species and not surprisingly it attracts the attention of a criminal organization By the author of The Lions of Tsavo Conversations with Texas Writers Frances Leonard, Ramona Cearley, 2010-01-01 Larry McMurtry declares Texas itself doesn't have anything to do with why I write It never did Horton Foote on the other hand says I've just never had a desire to write about any place else In between those figurative bookends are hundreds of other writers some internationally recognized others just becoming known who draw inspiration and often subject matter from the unique places and people that are Texas To give everyone who is interested in Texas writing a representative sampling of the breadth and vitality of the state's current literary production this volume features conversations with fifty of Texas's most notable established writers and emerging talents The writers included here work in a wide variety of genres novels short stories poetry plays screenplays essays nonfiction and magazine journalism In their conversations with interviewers from the Writers League of Texas and other authors organizations the writers speak of their apprenticeships literary influences working habits connections with their readers and the domestic and public events that have shaped their writing Accompanying the interviews are excerpts from the writers work as well as their photographs biographies and bibliographies Joe Holley's introductory essay an overview of Texas writing from Cabeza de Vaca's 1542 Relation to the work of today's generation of writers who are equally at home in Hollywood as in Texas provides the necessary context to appreciate such a diverse collection of literary voices A sampling from the book This land has been my subject matter One thing that distinguishes me from the true naturalist is that I've never been able to look at land without thinking of the people who've been on it It's fundamental to me John Graves Writing is a way to keep ourselves more in touch with everything we experience It seems the best gifts and thoughts are given to us when we pause take a deep breath look around see what's there and return to where we were revived Naomi Shihab Nye I've said this many times in print the novel is the middle age genre Very few people have written really good novels when they are young and few people have written really good novels when they are old You just tail off and lose a certain level of concentration Your imaginative energy begins to lag I feel like I'm repeating myself and most writers do repeat themselves Larry McMurtry I was a pretty poor cowhand I grew up on the Macaraw Ranch east of Crane Texas My father tried very hard to make a cowboy out of me but in my case it never seemed to work too well I had more of a literary bent I loved to read and very early on I began to write small stories short stories out of the things I liked to read Elmer Kelton The Last Refuge Craig Robertson, 2014-05-22 You can run from your past but you can never hide from yourself When John Callum arrives on the wild and desolate Faroe Islands he vows to sever all ties with his previous life He desperately wants to make a new start and is surprised by how quickly he is welcomed into the close knit community But still the terrifying debilitating nightmares just won't stop Then the solitude is shattered by an almost unheard of crime on the islands murder A specialist team of detectives arrives from Denmark to help the local police who seem completely ill equipped for an investigation of this scale But as tensions rise and the community closes rank to protect its own John has to watch his back But far more disquieting than that John s nightmares have taken an even more disturbing turn and he can t be certain about the one thing he needs to know above all else Whether he is the killer Cassette Books Library of Congress. thirty years through the lens of insurgent poetics Author Hannah Burdette is interested in how Indigenous literature and social movements are intertwined and why these phenomena arise almost simultaneously in disparate contexts across the Americas Literature constitutes a key weapon in political struggles as it provides a means to render subjugated knowledge visible and to envision alternatives to modernity and coloniality The surge in Indigenous literature and social movements is arguably one of the most significant occurrences of the twenty first century and yet it remains understudied Revealing Rebellion in Abiyala bridges that gap by using the concept of Abiyala as a powerful starting point for rethinking inter American studies through the lens of Indigenous sovereignty
