Final Touch A True Story Of Irony And Loss:

Final Touch Judith Cain Dotson, 2000 Date of Death October 1 1985 Forklifts operating in a working warehouse store A new retail marketing concept then an accepted part of American shopping today But the danger is real over thirty thousand accidents a number of deaths say those with access to court records Television newspaper reports about failing merchandise accidents are becoming commonplace Few of the millions of shoppers who each day crowd into retail canyons of big discounters such as Home Depot Wal Mart expect to be crushed in an avalanche of merchandise says the Los Angeles Times The incidents have been piling up for at least 15 years since boxes of Final Touch fabric softener toppled from a shelf at Sam's Club store in Tulsa Oklahoma Small town trial lawyers called this case the killing of Dolly Cain battled the corporate giant of customer clubs in a search for justice healing Dotson spent years pulling together family stores personal memories trial testimony into a poignant courageous account of mother loss a family's triumph over unexpected tragedy This story is painfully true It provokes tears laughter thought in its readers Will appeal to readers interested in mystery law courtroom drama grief family relationships The King of Lies John Hart, 2006-05-16 When Work Pickens finds his father murdered the investigation pushes a repressed family history to the surface and he sees his own carefully constructed facade begin to crack

Othello. Coriolanus. Romeo and Juliet. Julius Caesar. Love's labour's lost Harley Granville-Barker, 1958 Studies in the Short Fiction of Mahfouz and Idris Mona Mikhail, 1992-05 In this comparative approach to the works of two major contemporary Egyptian writers Mona Mikhail identifies existentialism as a major force in their work Her close examination of the images and metaphors that recur in the short fiction of those two writers shows strong affinities with the works of Ernest Hemingway and Albert Camus concentrating on a central preoccupation with the theme of death as a constant in the works of all four writers Mikhail shows how Mahfouz and Idris not only successfully incorporate myth and folklore but also draw upon the rich heritage of classical Arabic Literature as a source for their work The Woman's Hand Paul Gordon Schalow, Janet A. Walker, 1996 This volume has a dual purpose It aims to define the state of Japanese literary studies in the field of women's writing and to present cross cultural interpretations of Japanese material of relevance to contemporary work in gender studies and comparative literature *Love's labour's lost. Review Clifford Smyth,1923 The Lost Whale Michael Parfit,Suzanne Chisholm,2013-06-25 The heartbreaking and true story of a lonely orca named Luna who befriended humans in Nootka Sound off the coast of Vancouver Island by Michael Parfit and Suzanne Chisholm One summer in Nootka Sound on the west coast of Vancouver Island British Columbia a young killer whale called Luna got separated from his pod Like humans orcas are highly social and depend on their families but Luna found himself desperately alone So he tried to make contact with people He begged for attention at boats and docks He looked soulfully into people s eyes He wanted to have his tongue rubbed When someone whistled at him he squeaked and whistled back People fell in love with him but the government decided that being friendly with Luna was bad for him and tried to keep him away from humans Policemen arrested people for rubbing Luna s nose Fines were levied Undaunted Luna refused to give up his search for connection and people went out to meet him like smugglers carrying friendship through the dark But does friendship work between species People who loved Luna couldn t agree on how to help him Conflict came to Nootka Sound The government built a huge net The First Nations members brought out their canoes Nothing went as planned and the ensuing events caught everyone by surprise and challenged the very nature of that special and mysterious bond we humans call friendship The Lost Whale celebrates the life of a smart friendly determined transcendent being from the sea who appeared among us like a promise out of the blue that the greatest secrets in life are still to be discovered

Fancies Versus Fads G. K. Chesterton,2019-11-19 In Fancies Versus Fads G K Chesterton embarks on a spirited exploration of the conflicting nature of human thought wherein he juxtaposes whimsical fancy with the rigid dogmas of contemporary fads Through a series of essays Chesterton employs his characteristic wit and keen insight to examine various cultural and philosophical trends of early 20th century England His prose is marked by an engaging conversational tone and rich imagery blending humor with profound social critique making this work a compelling commentary on the complexities of modern life The essays weave through musings on art religion and the absurdity of certain societal norms situating Chesterton firmly within the literary canon of the period as both a critic and a celebrant of life s eccentricities G K Chesterton a prolific writer and influential philosopher is often recognized for his paradoxical views and advocacy for the joy of the ordinary His experiences as a journalist and a public thinker during a time of rapid change in Victorian society likely inspired his exploration of fancies versus fads An ardent defender of traditional values amid the encroaching modernist sentiments Chesterton's works reveal his deep understanding of human nature informed by his Catholic faith and personal convictions Readers seeking an intellectually stimulating yet humorously introspective examination of culture will find Fancies Versus Fads to be an enriching read Chesterton's incisive observations encourage reflection on our own beliefs and the ephemeral nature of societal trends making this book a timely invitation to cherish the authenticity of human experience over the superficialities of modernity
