Schmid,Diego Salmerón,2013-03-09 Hans van Ginkel Rector United Nations University The challenges of the world s future are linked to the growing share of the global population that will reside in urban areas UN projections indicate that by 2030 the world s urban population share will rise to 60 percent Of the two billion added to the global population 99 percent will be added to the urban areas of the world Of this number 95 percent will be in countries of the developing world As most people will live in urban areas we had better work to build and organize them as both attractive and less resource consuming places That is to promote sustainable urban development is to promote the creation of dense human settlements that are livable and have reduced their impacts on larger scale ecosystems While much attention has been focused on the mega cities those with a population of over 10 million the amount of people living in these places will remain almost constant while the smaller and medium size cities will be the great absorbers of the world s urban population Indeed it is predicted that while the absolute number of people that will live in urban centers of 10 million or more will increase from approximately 263 to 375 million between 2000 and 20 IS their share of the total urban population will only increase from 9 2 percent to 9 8 percent a 6 34 percent increase Ghana: an Incomplete Independence or a Dysfunctional Democracy? Kwame Insaadoo,2012-12-20 Can anybody tell us why profound poverty continues to plague our nation of barely 25 million people in this modern era of globalization in 2012 Why do you think the vast majority of our beloved people live on less than a dollar a day and struggle from cradle to grave living in near squalor and eking out near subsistence existence Ask yourself why is it that in the midst of this profound abject poverty less than ten percent of our fellow countrymen and women live in opulence and wallow in untold riches with their mansions encased with six foot walls seek medical attention in luxurious medical facilities abroad Are the vast majority of our people in poverty ignorant and stupid while the few wealthy ones are perceived as more intelligent and wiser than all of us Threats of Force Francis Grimal,2012-12-12 Despite recent attempts by scholars to examine the absolute prohibition of threats of force under Article 2 4 of the UN Charter threats remain a largely un chartered area in international law when compared with actual uses of force Adopting an interdisciplinary approach and utilising strategic literature and international relations theory this book examines the theoretical nature behind a threat of force which helps to inform and explain why and how the normative structure operates in the way that it does In addition to considering the normative rules regarding threats of force this book focuses heavily on understanding the theory of threats of force or threat theory Drawing on strategic studies for an insight into practical workings of international law the heart of the book examines whether international law or indeed the international community should distinguish between a threat of force which is little more than mere sabre rattling and one that is serious enough to send a state to DEFCON 1 Finally the book considers the point at which a state pursuing nuclear capabilities may breach Article 2 4 with particular reference to both North Korean and Iranian efforts to pursue nuclear technology This topical book will be of great interest not only to scholars and postgraduates in international law but also to academics and students in the fields of political science international relations and strategic studies The Procurement and Supply Manager's Desk Reference Fred Sollish,John
