Elegiac Fictions:

Elegiac Fictions Edward Engelberg, 1989 In dealing with the motif of the unlived life Edward Engelberg explores an important and hitherto neglected chapter in the history of modern thought He analyzes literary works chiefly from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries novels short stories and some plays within the context of a number of psychological and philosophical concepts to sustain his argument Engelberg's premise is that in this period we begin to see what he calls the elegizing of the self that is mourning over one's shortcomings failures disappointments in short the unlived life the perception that the hero or heroine has missed the opportunities of living that it is now too late to achieve what has become known today as self actualization Engelberg also analyzes how the motif was acted out and what symptoms accompanied its expression To this end he makes use of Freud's essays Mourning and Melancholia and On Narcissism as well as the idea of narcissistic rage advanced by Heinz Kohut In addition he draws upon Schopenhauer's pessimism Nietzsche's conception of history and Max Scheler's theory of resentment This study then identifies a special state of mind the elegiac cries of despair that emanate from a wide variety of fictional personae There are no simple answers as to why these feelings were expressed so frequently and passionately from the Romantics onward but one cause is surely the double edged effect of the emergence of the autonomous self With autonomy came anxiety fear and a feeling of impotence And these states in turn generated a variety of reactions self images of superfluousness expressions of narcissistic rage and states of mourning and melancholia The book will interest a variety of constituencies beyond the literary establishment psychologists intellectual historians philosophers in short all who are interested in cultural phenomena and their literary expression Lost Loss in American Elegiac Poetry Toshiaki Komura, 2020-10-07 Lost Loss in American Elegiac Poetry Tracing Inaccessible Grief from Stevens to Post 9/11 examines contemporary literary expressions of losses that are lost on us inquiring what it means to lose loss and what happens when dispossessory experiences go unacknowledged or become inaccessible Toshiaki Komura analyzes a range of elegiac poetry that does not neatly align with conventional assumptions about the genre including Wallace Stevens's The Owl in the Sarcophagus Sylvia Plath's last poems Elizabeth Bishop's Geography III Sharon Olds's The Dead and the Living Louise Glück's Averno and poems written after 9/11 What these poems reveal at the intersection of personal and communal mourning are the mechanism of cognitive myth making involved in denied grief and its social and ethical implications Engaging with an assortment of philosophical psychoanalytic and psychological theories Lost Loss in American Elegiac Poetry elucidates how poetry gives shape to the vague despondency of unrecognized loss and what kind of phantomic effects these equivocal grieving experiences may create Figuring Grief Karen Elizabeth Smythe, 1992 Karen Smythe's theoretical study is concerned largely with the works of two of the best short story writers in the English language Mavis Gallant and Alice Munro Although Gallant and Munro have received increasing attention in recent years most critics have taken a general approach to their works usually discussing the themes of memory and loss In contrast Smythe focuses specifically on the importance of elegy in these fictions and on the role the reader plays in reading them A Companion to Roman Love Elegy Barbara K. Gold, 2012-04-25 A Companion to Roman Love Elegy is the first comprehensive work dedicated solely to the study of love elegy The genre is explored through 33 original essays that offer new and innovative approaches to specific elegists and the discipline as a whole Contributors represent a range of established names and younger scholars all of whom are respected experts in their fields Contains original never before published essays which are both accessible to a wide audience and offer a new approach to the love elegists and their work Includes 33 essays on the Roman elegists Catullus Tibullus Propertius Sulpicia and Ovid as well as their Greek and Roman predecessors and later writers who were influenced by their work Recent years have seen an explosion of interest in Roman elegy from scholars who have used a variety of critical approaches to open up new avenues of understanding The Contemporary Elegy in World Literature, 2025-01-20 This volume navigates the entangled expressions of mourning across languages cultures and traditions shedding light on the evolving shapes and discourses of contemporary elegy in world literature By adopting a transnational approach this collection offers a much needed conceptualization of what elegy has become today Contributors are Nick Admussen Adele Bardazzi Roberto Binetti Emily Drumsta Francesco Giusti Roberto Gaudio Gail Holst Warhaft Karen Leeder Brandon Menke Jahan Ramazani Rachel Elizabeth Robinson David Sherman and Ivanna Sang Eon Yi American Fiction in Transition Adam Kelly, 2013-04-25 American Fiction in Transition is a study of the observer hero narrative a highly significant but critically neglected genre of the American novel Through the lens of this transitional genre the book explores the 1990s in relation to debates about the end of postmodernism and connects the decade to other transitional periods in US literature Novels by four major contemporary writers are examined Philip Roth Paul Auster E L Doctorow and Jeffrey Eugenides Each novel has a similar structure an observer narrator tells the story of an important person in his life who has died But each story is equally about the struggle to tell the story to find adequate means to narrate the transitional quality of the hero's life In playing out this narrative struggle each novel thereby addresses the broader problem of historical transition a problem that marks the legacy of the postmodern era in American literature and culture The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature, 3 Volume Set Frederick Burwick, Nancy Moore Goslee, Diane Long Hoeveler, 2012-01-30 The Encyclopedia of Romantic Literature is an authoritative three volume reference work that covers British artistic literary and intellectual movements between 1780 and 1830 within the context of European transatlantic and colonial historical and cultural interaction Comprises over 275 entries ranging from 1 000 to 6 500 words arranged in A Z format across three fully cross referenced volumes Written by an international cast of leading and emerging scholars Entries explore genre development in prose poetry and drama of the Romantic period key authors and their works and key themes Also available online as part of the Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Literature providing 24 7 access and powerful searching browsing and cross referencing capabilities Solitude and its Ambiguities in Modernist Fiction E. Engelberg, 2016-04-30 In this study of solitude in high modernist writing Edward Engelberg explores the ways in which solitude functions thematically to shape meaning in literary works as well as what solitude as a condition has contributed to the making of a trope Selected novels are analyzed for the ambiguities that solitude injects into their meanings The freedom of solitude also becomes a burden from which the protagonists seek liberation Although such ambiguities about solitude exist from the Bible and the Ancients through the centuries following they change within the context of time The story of solitude in the twentieth century moves from the self s removal from society and retreat into nature to an extra social position within which the self confronts itself A chapter is devoted to the synoptic analysis of solitude in the West with emphasis on the Renaissance to the twentieth century and another chapter analyzes the ambiguities that set the stage for modernism Defoe s Robinson Crusoe Selected works by Woolf Mann Camus Sartre and Beckett highlight particular modernist issues of solitude and how their authors sought to resolve them

Myth and Fairy Tale in Contemporary Fiction Alexandra Cheira,2023-03-28 This volume provides more sustained critical attention on the use of myth and fairy tales in contemporary fiction both stand alone tales and those which are embedded in the wider frame of a novel or novella In this light the book examines contemporary retellings of myths and fairy tales in a productive dialogue with tradition as an extended appreciation of this productive creative and theoretical dialogue The individual chapters evince a robust variety of conceptions and approaches all thoroughly observant of the nature and workings of the relationship between story and genre and theoretically informed by innovative critical approaches Hence the volume demonstrates the undeniable importance of myth and fairy tales in contemporary fiction suggesting questions for future consideration and hopefully pointing towards new texts and new critical inquiries
