British Warship Losses in the Modern Era David Hepper, 2022-07-31 This important new reference work details all those ships and vessels of the Royal Navy large and small which were lost by accident or enemy action during the twentieth century from the end of the First World War to the last years of the century In all the fates of over 2 000 ships and small craft are covered from aircraft carriers and battleships to motor launches harbour tenders and tugs Those vessels hired or purchased for wartime service such as trawlers paddle steamers and yachts are also listed During wartime ships are lost it is their purpose to go in harm s way Hostile gunfire torpedoes and mines were established threats throughout the period while the increasing threat of air attack and the introduction of weapons employing new technology such as influence triggered mines homing torpedoes or air launched guided weapons added to the risks of operating in a hostile environment Ships operating in extremely hazardous conditions such as at Dunkirk in 1940 or Singapore in 1942 suffered heavy losses in brief concentrated conflicts but the long continuous campaigns such as the Atlantic convoys or the constant need to sweep for mines also took their toll Peacetime losses are dominated by submarine casualties demonstrating the dangerous character of that service To this may be added the hazardous nature of the sea itself when ships are lost in heavy weather sometimes human error or plain foolishness may play a part The core of the book is taken up by those losses experienced during the Second World War but peacetime losses and more recent conflicts such as the Falklands War of 1982 are included Arranged chronologically every entry notes the outline details of the vessel identifies the Commanding Officer where known and gives a full and often harrowing account of the circumstances of the loss and the number of casualties The details come from extensive original research using primary source material wherever possible particularly the relevant War Diaries and the collected loss and damage reports casualty reports and reports of proceedings now in the National Archives Wartime losses of the Dominions are included to ensure completeness This comprehensive record of warship losses from all causes suffered by the Royal Navy over the past one hundred years is the first single volume work on the subject and represents a major milestone in naval research and publishing      Dictionary of American Naval Fighting Ships: Historical sketches: Letters N through S. Appendices: Submarine chasers (SC), Eagle-class patrol craft (PE) United States. Naval History Division,1959

British Warships in the Age of Sail, 1714-1792 Rif Winfield,2007-12-12 The 2nd volume in this comprehensive naval history details the design and employment of British warships through the 18th century The Hanoverian dynasty that came to power with the accession of George I in 1714 inherited the largest navy in the world In the course of the century this force would see a vast amount of action against nearly every major navy reaching a pinnacle of success in the Seven Years War only to taste defeat in the American Revolution This superb reference book outlines the service history of every ship that fought for the Royal Navy in the great wars of the eighteenth century well over 2000 vessels The book is organized by Rate classification and class The technical and building data of each ship is followed by a concise summary of its career This includes commissioning dates refit periods changes of captain the stations where they served and details of any noteworthy actions in which they took part It will enable anyone to follow up a casual reference to any warship and will provide the researcher with a solid core of information on which to base further study With its unique depth of information this is a work of the utmost importance to every naval historian and general reader interested in the navy of the sailing era      Jane's
