Figures Deurope Images And Myths Of Europe:

Images of Europe Francesco Mangiapane, Tiziana Migliore, 2021-05-20 This book deals with the fundamental semantics of images of Europe which consist of valences mirror beliefs and affectivities This is why it relaunches the importance of the European discourse in its symbolic dimension As such it explores the many images of Europe or rather the many images through which European discourse is actually constituted in daily life in search of their enunciative responsibility in today's world for determining the current State of the Union The identity of the European continent is based on a millenary tension between universalism and particularism images of Europe have in fact been alternately inspired over the centuries by a model of homogeneity Roman and Carolingian imperial disposition on the one hand and by a model of fragmentation a Europe of city states municipalities regions and small fatherlands on the other In the European Union a political and economic organism this issue has recently been amplified to the point that it has reentered public debate and political parties that are only recognizable for being Europeanists or anti Europeanists are now ubiquitous In this regard one major bone of contention is how to portray the quintessential aspects of the European territory which are either interpreted as thresholds to be overcome in the name of a model of United Europe integral totality or are instead regarded as insurmountable obstacles for a Europe that is irreparably and perhaps according to anti Europeanists fortunately fragmented partitive totality Further this is to be done without excluding the possibility of contradictory and complementary solutions to these binary visions In this context the book analyzes various texts in order to obtain a more precise picture of the clash reveal its semiotic forms and by doing so identify a way out of the crisis Figures D'Europe Luisa Passerini, European University Institute, 2003

In this publication scholars from various European countries address the symbolic deficit of the EU and the continent as a whole They examine the history and meanings of various myths surrounding Europe as well as discussing the cultural shift that will have to occur in order to give rise to a multicultural identity Representations of European Citizenship since 1951 Stefanie Pukallus, 2016-08-29 This book is a study of the multiple meanings of European citizenship which has been represented and publicly communicated by the European Commission in five distinctive ways Homo Oeconomicus 1951 1972 A People's Europe 1973 1992 Europe of Transparency 1993 2004 Europe of Agora 2005 2009 and Europe of Rights 2010 2014 The public communication of these five distinct representations of European citizenship reveal how the European Commission conceived of and attempted to facilitate the development of a Civil Europe Ultimately this history which is based upon an analysis of public communication policy papers and interviews with senior European Commission officials past and present tells a story about changing identities and about who we as Europeans might actually be and what kind of Europe we might actually belong to Imagining Europe Chiara Bottici, Benoît Challand, 2013-07-29

Geppert, 2010-10-01 In Europe love has been given a prominent place in European self representations from the Enlightenment onwards The category of love stemming from private and personal spheres was given a public function and used to distinguish European civilisation from others Contributors to this volume trace historical links and analyse specific connections between the two discourses on love and Europe over the course of the twentieth century exploring the distinctions made between the public and private the political and personal In doing so this volume develops an innovative historiography that includes such resources as autobiographies love letters and cinematic representations and takes issue with the exclusivity of Eurocentrism Its contributors put forth hypotheses about the historical pre eminence of emotions and consider this history as a basis for a non Eurocentric understanding of new possible European identities Images from

Paradise Eszter Salgó, 2017-08-01 Drawing upon the disciplines of politics anthropology psychoanalysis aesthetics and cinema studies Salgó presents a new way of looking at the art of European unification The official visual narratives of the European Union constitute the main object of inquiry the iconography of the new series of euro banknotes and the videos through which the supranational elite seek to generate collective effervescence allow for a European carnival to take place and prompt citizens to pledge allegiance to the sacred dogma of the ever closer union thereby strengthening the mythical sources of the organization s legitimacy The author seeks to illustrate how and why the federalist utopia turned into a political soteriology after the outbreak of the 2008 crisis National Myths Gérard Bouchard, 2013-05-02 National myths are now seriously questioned in a number of societies In the West for instance a number of factors have combined to destabilise the symbolic foundation of nations and collective identities As a result the diagnosis of a deep cultural crisis has become commonplace Indeed who today has not heard about the erosion of common values or the undermining of social cohesion But to efficiently address this issue do we know enough about the nature and role of myths in modern and postmodern societies Against this background National Myths Constructed Past Contested Present relies on a sample of nations from around the world and seeks to highlight the functioning of national myths both as representations that make sense of a collectivity and as socially grounded tools used in a web of power relations The collection draws together contributions from international experts to examine the present state of national myths and their fate in today s rapidly

Between Europe and Islam Almut Haffert, Armando Salvatore, 2000 In the last two decades of the 20th century theorising on modernity has entered a new stage The former dichotomy between an active West exporting its successful model of modernity on a global scale and passive non Westerners gratefully implementing this model in their own societies has been challenged by critical anthropology and postcolonial studies and further elaborated upon within social theory This volume focuses on Europe and the Islamic world as two historically constructed geo civilisational domains and shows that modernity was not achieved in splendid isolation in Europe but in the tensions and conflicts within the transcultural space between Europe and Islam The impact of Islam as a complex civilising tradition on the making of Europe and vice versa impinged on the building of political religious and scientific institutions and discourses These sustained a continuous process of drawing adjusting and transgressing symbolic and geo political boundaries between the two civilisational realms from medieval rivalries to present day migration related conflicts This volume assembles seven contributions by historians and sociologists covering the whole of the modern era and focusing on the notion of a transcultural space and the discussion of revised concepts concerning the genesis and shape of modernity In so doing they try to escape both the apories of cultural relativism and the militancy of the clash of civilizations
