Fiji In The Pacific A History And Geography Of Fiji:

Fiji in the Pacific G. J. A. Kerr, T. A. Donnelly, 1976

Fiji in the Pacific T. A. Donnelly, Max Quanchi, Allan Kerr, 1994

This fourth edition of Fiji in the Pacific aims to provide students with an updated resource for their history and geography studies. Changes in this edition include more detail about the history of Rotuma and a move where possible away from a history of what Europeans were doing in Fiji to a history of all the peoples of Fiji. Part 2 Geography of Fiji has been extensively reshaped and extended to cover specific topics in the Fiji School Leaving Certificate. The Geography, Nature and History of the Tropical Pacific and its Islands Walter M. Goldberg, 2017-12-08 This volume provides an accessible scientific introduction to the historical geography of Tropical Pacific Islands assessing the environmental and cultural changes they have undergone and how they are affected currently by these shifts and alterations. The book emphasizes the roles of plants, animals, people and the environment in shaping the tropical Pacific through a cross disciplinary approach involving history, geography, biology, environmental science and anthropology. With these diverse scientific perspectives the eight chapters of the book provide a comprehensive overview of Tropical Pacific Islands from their initial colonization by native peoples to their occupation by colonial powers and the contemporary changes that have affected the natural history and social fabric of these islands. The Tropical Pacific Islands are introduced by a description of their geological formation, development and geography. From there the book details the origins of the island's original peoples and the dawn of the political economy of these islands including the domestication and trade of plants, animals and other natural resources. Next, readers will learn about the impact of missionaries on Pacific Islands and the effects of World War II and nuclear testing on natural resources and the health of its people. The final chapter discusses the islands in the context of natural resource extraction, population increases and global climate change. Working together, these factors are shown to affect rainfall and limited water resources as well as the ability to sustain traditional crops and the capacity of the islands to accommodate its residents. Levuka, 2001 Fiji Robyn Jones, Leonardo Pinheiro, 2000 With this indispensable guide at your side you will discover the true Fiji. Share in lovo feasts, hike on volcanic islands and explore this remarkable archipelago below and above the waterline. 43 detailed maps including a full colour country map, handy Fijian and Fijian Indian language guide, the best places to swim, snorkel, dive and surf, practical transport advice for island hoppers, where to rest your body and mind from simple island bure to lush resorts. South Pacific Handbook David Stanley, 1996 Whether it's the legends about breadfruit trees or ghosts inhabiting inland Tahiti, the endangered delicacies to avoid or the gift giving protocol when invited to a local's home, how to tour a vanilla plantation on Raiatea or when to find the Noum flame trees catch fire in hues of red and orange. South Pacific Handbook covers everything about this region of boundless ocean and scarce land. Drawing on two decades of editions and incorporating the comments of countless previous readers, this user friendly guide extends beyond the hot spots and steers readers off the beaten path throughout Polynesia and Melanesia. Environment, Development and Change in Rural Asia-Pacific John Connell, Eric Waddell, 2006-12-05 This volume examines the economic political social and environmental challenges facing rural communities in the Asia Pacific region as global issues intersect with local contexts Such challenges from climatic change and volcanic eruption to population growth and violent civil unrest have stimulated local resilience amongst communities and led to evolving regional institutions and environment management practices changing social relationships and producing new forms of stratification Bringing together case studies from across mainland Southeast Asia and the Island Pacific an expert team of international contributors reveal how communities at the periphery take charge of their lives champion the virtues of their own local systems of production and consumption and engage in the complexities of new structures of development that demand a response to the vacillations of global politics economy and society Inherent in this is the recognition that development as we have come to know it is far from over Each chapter emphasizes the growing recognition that ecological and environmental issues are key to any understanding and analysis of structures of sustainable development Providing diverse multidisciplinary theoretical and empirical perspectives Environment Development and Change in Rural Asia Pacific makes an important contribution to the revitalization of development studies and as such will be essential reading for scholars in the field as well as those with an interest in Asia Pacific studies economic geography and political economy The United Nations at Work in Asia Roy D. Morey, 2013-12-03 The groundwork for the Asian economic miracle was established in the last 25 or so years the time period covered in this book China and Vietnam started substituting pragmatism for communist ideology and Thailand started on a path toward greater democracy The timing was perfect for an American United Nations representative to arrive in the two communist countries because for the first time both placed a premium on improving relations with the U S and both were moving toward a market economy This book acquaints the reader with evolving political economic and social conditions in these countries and the role played by UN organizations A chapter on the South Pacific details the challenges of providing useful development assistance in small isolated countries The book also reveals a hidden side of the United Nations the role played by more than 30 UN agencies funds and programs in providing development and humanitarian assistance The past two or three decades were a period of great upheaval in Asia Enormous events and developments involving the United Nations are analyzed in the book These include the Tiananmen Square crisis in China 300 000 Cambodian refugees camped along the Thai border escaping the killing fields of the Khmer Rouge efforts to rid the Golden Triangle of opium production the sensitive diplomacy required in fostering cooperation among North Korea South Korea China and Mongolia and a firsthand account of negotiating the international agreement creating the Mekong River Commission The Indentured Archipelago Reshaad Durgah, 2022-02-03 A historical geographical comparison of the Indo Pacific Indian indenture labour experience revealing the hitherto unexplored movements of labourers between colonies The Best Books: D, Society. Geography William Swan Sonnenschein, 1912 An American Pioneer of Chinese Studies in Cross-Cultural Perspective Man Shun Yeung, 2021-10-05 Benjamin Bowen Carter 1771 1831 one of the first Americans to speak and read Chinese studied Chinese in Canton and advocated its use in diplomacy decades before America established a formal relationship with China Drawing on rediscovered manuscripts this book reconstructs Carter's multilingual learning experience reveals how he helped translate a diplomatic document into Chinese describes his interactions with European sinologists and traces his attempts to convince the US government and American academics of the practical and cultural value of Chinese studies The cross cultural perspective employed in this book emphasizes the reciprocal dynamics of Carter's relationships with Chinese and European others while Carter's story itself forces a rewriting of the earliest years of US China relations Australia's Arc of Instability Dennis Rumley, Vivian Louis Forbes, Christopher Griffin, 2006-06-30 The idea for this book emerged from a conversation between Vivian Forbes and Charles Eaton following two seminars held in the Department of Geography at the University of Western Australia given by Trevor Soeld and Christopher Griffin more than five years ago One seminar involved papers from Charles Eaton and Christopher Griffin on the recent Speight coup in Fiji the other given by Trevor Soeld was on the Solomon Islands The seminars were attended by among others Dennis Rumley who on getting involved in the conversation suggested the idea of a book and then followed through on its scope structure planning and possible contributors Looking back now we owe a special debt of gratitude to Charles Eaton both for his enthusiasm and his ideas then and for his continued support throughout the whole project Since that time five years ago many people have boarded and have left the Arc Indeed the very project itself exhibited a degree of instability At times it even looked as though it might not stay afloat Thankfully several early boarders remained firmly anchored Other authors were co-opted later some at relatively short notice one or two of them under mild duress We extend our heartfelt thanks to all of these contributors for remaining patient enthusiastic and keeping faith with the project Naturally a project like this dealing with such a large and dynamic region will always be out of date Decolonisation and the Pacific Tracey Banivanua Mar, 2016-04-26 This book charts the previously untold story of the mobility of Indigenous peoples across vast distances vividly reshaping what is known about decolonisation Pacific Islands Year Book, 1984 Locating Emerging Media Germaine R. Halegoua, Ben Aslinger, 2016-03-17 Locating Emerging Media focuses on the tensions between the local and global in the design distribution and use of emerging media forms building on scholarship on the cultural geography of new media networks and products and the relationships between the global and the local Authors consider new media practices texts services software policies infrastructures and design discourses that enrich existing relationships between creative industries and cultures of production reception and engagement This consideration highlights the relationships between global and local perspectives and new media technologies and practices emerging within and through the geography and culture of particular places Areas examined include East Asia Latin America Africa Europe South Asia the Pacific Islands and the Middle East Through all is the recognition that what is new or emergent around the globe is unique in each locality Oceania under steam Frances Steel, 2017-02-01 The age of steam was the age of Britain's global maritime dominance the age of enormous ocean liners and human mastery over the seas The world seemed to shrink as timetabled shipping mapped out faster more efficient and more reliable transoceanic networks But what did this transport revolution look like at the other end of the line at the edge of empire in the South Pacific Through the historical example of the largest and most important regional maritime enterprise the Union Steam Ship Company of New Zealand Frances Steel eloquently charts the diverse and often conflicting interests itineraries and experiences of commercial and political elites common seamen and stewardesses and Islander dock workers and passengers Drawing on a variety of sources including shipping company archives imperial conference proceedings diaries newspapers and photographs this book will appeal to cultural historians and geographers of British imperialism scholars of transport and mobility studies and historians of New Zealand and the Pacific A Historical Geography of the British Colonies Sir Charles Prestwood Lucas, 1925
