Filmography of Social Issues Charles P. Mitchell, 2004      Filmography of Social Issues Charles P.

Mitchell, 2004-12-30 Examines twenty specific social themes and shows how they are examined in a hundred motion pictures. Intended to serve as a guide for individuals interested in motion pictures and how they reflect and comment on the major issues of our time. Coming of Age in Popular Culture Donald C. Miller, 2018-10-25 Documenting the evolution of teens and media from the 1950s through 2010, this book examines the films, books, television shows, and musical artists that impacted American culture and shaped the coming of age experience for each generation. The teenage years are fraught with drama and emotional ups and downs, coinciding with bewildering new social situations and sexual tension. For these reasons, pop culture and media have repeatedly created entertainment that depicts, celebrates, or lampoons coming of age experiences through sitcoms like The Wonder Years to the brat pack films of the 1980s to the teen-centered television series of today. Coming of Age in Popular Culture: Teenagers, Adolescence, and the Art of Growing Up covers a breadth of media presentations of the transition from childhood to adulthood from the 1950s to the year 2010. It explores the ways that adolescence is characterized in pop culture by drawing on these representations, shows how powerful media and entertainment are in establishing societal norms, and considers how American society views and values adolescence. Topics addressed include race relations, gender roles, religion, and sexual identity. Young adult readers will come away with a heightened sense of media literacy through the examination of a topic that inherently interests them.

Recommended Reference Books for Small and Medium-Sized Libraries and Media Centers Shannon Graff Hysell, 2006-04 Based on the highly acclaimed reviews of American Reference Books Annual, RRB features only those resources that have been recommended for purchase by small and medium-sized academic, public, or school libraries. Written by over 200 subject specialists, the reviews will help librarians quickly identify the best, most affordable, and most appropriate new reference materials in any given field. All reviewer comments, both positive and negative, have been retained since even recommended works may be weak in one respect or another. If your budget precludes ARBA, this tool will provide you with the necessary information for the development of your collection. Features 530 critical reviews of reference books, CD-ROMs, and Web sites from the years 2004-2006, written by academic, public, and school librarians or professionals in the field. The reviews are selected based on their appropriateness for school libraries, small college libraries, or small public libraries, i.e., lower priced, highest quality, etc., and feature a coded letter, i.e., C, P, S, indicating the type of library for which the medium is recommended. The reviews are pulled from ARBA 2006.

Imagining the American Death Penalty Birte Christ, 2025-04-29 Imagining the American Death Penalty traces the US American cultural imaginary of capital punishment through popular visual representations from the 1890s to the twenty-first century. The book focuses on three generic and historical clusters of representations: early film from the 1890s through Intolerance (1916), crime film/noir of the 1950s and 1960s, and legal TV series from the 1990s through the early 2000s. The book makes two central arguments First it demonstrates that an increased concern with the death penalty in popular media does not mean that these texts promote an abolitionist agenda their cultural work is ambiguous at best This ambiguity is always contingent upon both the affordances of the particular genre and medium in question and on political legal discursive context The book explores both in detail Early film is enchanted with its own representational possibilities due to the progress of technology and in analogy with the progress in execution technique specifically the electric chair In film noir genre conventions and the legal back and forth before and after Furman predicate ambiguity In legal TV series the genre s ensemble casts and its focus on conversational exchange invite open debate The second argument is that popular visual representations consistently whitewash the death penalty The book demonstrates that this is the case because the most common narrative around executions in film and TV is to cast the condemned man as a hero who defies the violence of the state gains dignity by accepting his fate and faults and in some ways triumphs over death The American imaginary until very recently did or could not imagine Black men to possess that measure of agency that it attributed to its white heroes

Israeli Film Amy Kronish, Costel Safirman, 2003-05-30 Israeli cinema is a central tool for understanding the contemporary challenges facing Israeli society as it has developed its identity during the past decades Although films can be considered individual pieces of work we can gain a unique perspective on the nation s society through a careful analysis of the subject matter issues and styles of expression of this unique medium Since its inception Israeli cinema has been occupied with the hardships of an ongoing war problems of Jewish Arab relations and the major survival issues of the state Despite this focus Israeli filmmaking is in fact much more complex and varied Indeed it covers a wide spectrum of issues that have developed during the 70 years during the production of its first feature film Israeli Film A Reference Guide provides a survey of all major films made in Israel as well as biographies of major Israeli filmmakers and an overview essay summarizing major trends in Israeli film and in doing so offers a commentary on social trends historical challenges and societal issues

Resources in Education ,1998-07 Uplift Cinema Allyson Nadia Field,2015-05-22 In Uplift Cinema Allyson Nadia Field recovers the significant yet forgotten legacy of African American filmmaking in the 1910s Like the racial uplift project this cinema emphasized economic self sufficiency education and respectability as the keys to African American progress Field discusses films made at the Tuskegee and Hampton Institutes to promote education as well as the controversial The New Era which was an antiracist response to D W Griffith s The Birth of a Nation She also shows how Black filmmakers in New York and Chicago engaged with uplift through the promotion of Black modernity Uplift cinema developed not just as a response to onscreen racism but constituted an original engagement with the new medium that has had a deep and lasting significance for African American cinema Although none of these films survived Field s examination of archival film ephemera presents a method for studying lost films that opens up new frontiers for exploring early film culture
