The Holocaust Bystander in Polish Culture, 1942-2015 Maryla Hopfinger, Tomasz Żukowski, 2021-03-16 This book concerns building an idealized image of the society in which the Holocaust occurred. It inspects the category of the bystander in Polish culture closely related to the witness since the war recognized as the axis of self presentation and majority politics of memory. The category is of performative character since it defines the roles of event participants, assumes passivity of the non Jewish environment and alienates the exterminated, thus making it impossible to speak about the bystanders violence at the border between the ghetto and the Aryan side. Bystanders were neither passive nor distanced rather they participated and played important roles in Nazi plans. Starting with the war the authors analyze the functions of this category in the Polish discourse of memory through following its changing forms and showing links with social practices organizing the collective memory. Despite being often critiqued this point of dispute about Polish memory rarely belongs to mainstream culture. It also blocks the memory of Polish violence against Jews. The book is intended for students and researchers interested in memory studies, the history of the Holocaust, the memory of genocide and the war and postwar cultures of Poland and Eastern Europe.

Polish National Cinema Marek Haltof, 2002-04-01 In the years since World War II Poland has developed one of Europe's most distinguished film cultures. However in spite of the importance of Polish cinema this is a domain in need of systematic study. This book is the first comprehensive study of Polish cinema from the end of the 19th century to the present. It provides not only an introduction to Polish cinema within a socio political and economic context but also to the complexities of East Central European cinema and politics. Literature of the Holocaust Alan Rosen, 2013-11-14 During and in the aftermath of the dark period of the Holocaust writers across Europe and America sought to express their feelings and experiences through their writings. This book provides a comprehensive account of these writings through essays from expert scholars covering a wide geographic linguistic thematic and generic range of materials. Such an overview is particularly appropriate at a time when the corpus of Holocaust literature has grown to immense proportions and when guidance is needed in determining a canon of essential readings, a context to interpret them and a paradigm for the evolution of writing on the Holocaust. The expert contributors to this volume who negotiate the literature in the original languages provide insight into the influence of national traditions and the importance of language especially but not exclusively Yiddish and Hebrew to the literary response arising from the Holocaust. An Iron Wind Peter Fritzsche, 2016-10-25 From a prize winning historian a vivid account of German occupied Europe during World War II that reveals civilians struggle to understand. Pack of Thieves Richard Z. Chesnoff, 2011-07-27 It was the largest organized robbery in history the systematic looting of Europe's Jews by the Nazis in cooperation with most of the nations in Europe Axis Allied and neutral. Award winning journalist Richard Z Chesnoff one of the first reporters to break the story that Swiss banks had hoarded the assets of Holocaust victims traveled to fourteen countries to research this heartbreaking compelling story of human greed. Through exclusive interviews and information from hitherto classified files Chesnoff tells a tragic tale the vast scope of which is only beginning to be known. Revealing new details that many would prefer remained secret Pack of Thieves describes the detective work used to trace Holocaust assets.

that continue to be hidden inside the financial systems of such Allied nations as France and the Netherlands Daring insightful and necessary Pack of Thieves is at once a fascinating piece of investigative journalism and an enraging account of one of history's greatest crimes

In the Shadow of the Polish Eagle L. Cooper, 2000-10-31 The behaviour of many Poles towards the Jewish population during the Nazi occupation of Poland has always been a controversial issue Although the Poles are supposed not to have collaborated with the invaders there is evidence to show that in respect of the Jewish population the behaviour of many Poles including members of the underground was far from exemplary Poland is also the only European country where Jews were being murdered after the end of the war and where strong anti Semitic tendencies are still present This book analyses this question in an historical context and attempts to offer an explanation for the phenomenon of Polish anti Semitism during and after the end of the war The work is based on recently uncovered documents as well as on personal accounts of witnesses to the events during the war

Phototextualities Alex Hughes, Andrea Noble, 2003 How are photographs understood as narratives In this book twenty two original critical essays tackle this overarching question in a series of case studies moving chronologically across the history of photography from the 1840s to the twenty first century The contributors explore the intersections of photography with history memory autobiography time death mapping the discourse of Orientalism digital technology and representations of race and gender The essays range in focus from the role of photographic images in the memorialization of the Holocaust the Argentine Dirty War and Japanese American internment camps through Man Ray's classic image Noire et blanche and Nan Goldin's The Ballad of Sexual Dependency to the function of family albums in nineteenth century England and America

Mirrors of Destruction Omer Bartov, 2000 He then examines the pacifist reaction in interwar France to show how it contributed to a climate of collaboration with dictatorship and mass murder

Re-examining the Holocaust through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E. Williams, 2009-03-26 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature which have been the subject of controversies in the US Europe and the Middle East Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism national and comparative literatures theater film history literary criticism religion and Holocaust studies this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context

The Generation of Postmemory Marianne Hirsch, 2012-06-26 Can we remember other people's memories The Generation of Postmemory argues we can that memories of traumatic events live on to mark the lives of those who were not there to experience them Children of survivors and their contemporaries inherit catastrophic histories not through direct recollection but through haunting postmemories multiply mediated images objects stories behaviors and affects passed down within the family and the culture at large In these new and revised critical readings of the literary and visual legacies of the Holocaust and other related sites of memory Marianne Hirsch builds on her influential concept of postmemory The book's chapters two of which were written collaboratively with the historian Leo Spitzer engage the work of postgeneration artists and writers such as Art Spiegelman W G Sebald Eva Hoffman Tatana Kellner Muriel Hasbun Anne Karpff Lily Brett Lorie Novak David Levinthal Nancy Spero and Susan Meiselas Grappling with the ethics of empathy and identification these artists attempt to forge a creative postmemorial aesthetic that reanimates the past without appropriating it In her analyses of their fractured texts Hirsch locates the roots of the familial and affiliative practices of postmemory in feminism and other movements for social change Using feminist critical strategies to connect past and present words and images and memory and gender she brings the entangled strands of disparate traumatic histories into more intimate contact With more than fifty illustrations her text enables a multifaceted encounter with foundational and cutting edge theories in memory trauma gender and visual culture eliciting a new understanding of history and our place in it

Traumatizing Theory Karyn Ball, 2021-05-04 A volume in the Contemporary Theory Series edited by Frances Restuccia An interdisciplinary collection of essays that critically reflect on the value and limits of psychoanalysis for conceptualizing traumatic affect A page turner for anyone even remotely drawn to the subject of trauma Traumatizing Theory includes essays that go beyond psychoanalysis in rethinking the cultural significance of traumatic anxiety melancholy and the representation of suffering in testimony self narration and politics Traumatizing Theory is unmistakably on the cutting edge and moves trauma theory into a new postmodern phase Karyn Ball's introduction reframes debates about psychoanalysis within trauma studies Bettina Bergo's essay revisits the historical development of hysteria as Freud's model for traumatic anxiety in both men and women Dorothea Olkowski also focuses on traumatic anxiety but problematizes Freud's masculinist and scientific premises Sarah Murphy and Susannah Radstone examine the disciplinary effects of public confession and testimony while Ball and Kligerman critique Deleuze's post psychoanalytic Cinema books and Gerhard Richter's haunted October 18 1977 Cycle respectively as testimonies to the latent impact of traumatic history For Astrid Deuber Mankowsky philosophy serves ineluctably as a medium of testimony in

Sarah Kofman's autobiographical writings about ambivalence toward her biological Jewish mother and guilty love for the French woman who adopted Sarah during the Nazi occupation. Drucilla Cornell also explores conflicted self-narrations among transnationally adopted children and their parents. The collection concludes with essays by Juliet Flower MacCannell, Lauren Berlant, and John Mowitt on the politics of traumatic identification in the public sphere.

Troubled Memory, Second Edition Lawrence N. Powell, 2019-01-09 This powerful book tells the story of Anne Skorecki Levy, a Holocaust survivor who transformed the horrors of her childhood into a passionate mission to defeat the political menace of reputed neo-Nazi and Ku Klux Klan leader David Duke. The first book to connect the prewar and wartime experiences of Jewish survivors to the lives they subsequently made for themselves in the United States, Troubled Memory is also a dramatic testament to how the experiences of survivors as new Americans spurred their willingness to bear witness. Perhaps the only family to survive the liquidation of the Warsaw Ghetto as a group, the Skoreckis evaded deportation to Treblinka by posing as Aryans. The family eventually made their way to New Orleans, where they became part of a vibrant Jewish community. Lawrence Powell traces their dramatic odyssey and explores the events that eventually triggered Anne Skorecki Levy's brave decision to honor the suffering of the past by confronting the recurring specter of racist hatred.
