Religious Militancy and Security in South Asia Mufleh R. Osmany,Shaheen Afroze,2006 Contemporary Conflict Resolution Oliver Ramsbotham,Tom Woodhouse,Hugh Miall,2005-12-08 Offering an assessment of the theory and practice of conflict resolution in post Cold War conflicts this book addresses a number of questions It explores the nature of contemporary conflict and the development of conflict resolution Autonomy and Armed Separatism in South and Southeast Asia Michelle Ann Miller,2012 Armed separatist insurgencies have created a real dilemma for many national governments of how much freedom to grant aggrieved minorities without releasing territorial sovereignty over the nation state This book examines different approaches that have been taken by seven states in South and Southeast Asia to try and resolve this dilemma through various offers of autonomy Providing new insights into the conditions under which autonomy arrangements exacerbate or alleviate the problem of armed separatism this comprehensive book includes in depth analysis of the circumstances that lead men and women to take up arms in an effort to remove themselves from the state s borders by creating their own independent polity Youth and Political Violence in India Sramana Majumdar, 2019-09-06 This book offers a socio cultural and interdisciplinary understanding of the impact of political violence on youth behaviour Drawing on extensive fieldwork in the Kashmir valley and reports from conflict areas across the globe the volume brings to focus the ways in which violence affects social and psychological dynamics within the individual and the community It develops a social psychological approach to the study of youth and violent conflict in South Asia and offers new insights into the intricacies within the discourse Focussing on the emotions and behaviour of people in large scale conflict it expands the discourse on the psychological dimensions of hope aggression emotion regulation the extremist mindset and policy and intervention for peace building Moving beyond western psychiatric models this book proposes a more culturally and historically rooted analysis that focuses on collective experiences of violence to de colonise psychological science and expand the understanding of youth s experiences with political violence The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of politics psychology peace and conflict studies sociology and social anthropology What Do We Know about Civil Wars? T. David Mason, Sara McLaughlin Mitchell, 2023-02-13 Since World War II civil wars have replaced interstate wars as the most frequent and deadly form of armed conflict globally How do we account for when and where civil wars are likely to occur when and how they are likely to end and whether or not they will recur In this timely book leading scholars accessibly guide students through cutting edge research on the onset duration outcomes and recurrence of civil wars as well as the ongoing consequences of conflicts in war torn countries such as Syria Sudan and Rwanda In mapping out the current state of our knowledge about civil conflicts the authors also identify what we do not know about civil wars With a consistent approach across chapters and through a wide variety of cases the contributors collectively help readers understand some of the most pressing questions in conflict and security studies and illustrates how scholars answer them This authoritative text offers both an accessible and current overview of the state of the field and an agenda for future research The second features An entirely new chapter on pro government militias and rebels as criminal groups Chapter 16 Analysis of new trends in civil war data collection that have enabled us to understand geographic and temporal patterns of armed conflict New directions in transitional justice institutions in post conflict environments the resource curse the role of women and the relationship between the environment and civil conflict New material on mediation of conflict and peace agreement implementation and peacekeeping Examples drawn from the Russia Ukraine conflict International Relations in Southeast Asia Donald E. Weatherbee, 2014-11-25 This fully revised and updated edition of Donald E Weatherbee s widely praised text offers a clear and comprehensive introduction to international relations in contemporary Southeast Asia The author analyzes the efforts of the Southeast Asian states to adapt collectively through the ASEAN Community building process to the challenges of traditional intraregional security issues the requirements of the international economy and the political demands of nontraditional issues such as democracy human rights and environmental degradation Weatherbee warns that autonomy expressed in the claim to the ASEAN Community's centrality to Asia could be threatened by the strategic impact of China's rise and America's recommitment to regional strategic balance. An invaluable guide to the region, this thoughtful and lucid work will be an essential text for courses on Southeast Asia and on the international relations of the Asia Pacific. Asian Yearbook of International Law B.S. Chimni, Miyoshi Masahiro, Li-ann Thio, 2009-06-02. Launched in 1991, the Asian Yearbook of International Law is a major refereed publication dedicated to international law issues as seen primarily from an Asian perspective under the auspices of the Foundation for the Development of International Law in Asia (DILA). It is the first publication of its kind, edited by a team of leading international law scholars from across Asia. The Yearbook provides a forum for the publication of articles in the field of international law and other Asian international law topics written by experts from the region and elsewhere. Its aim is twofold: to promote international law in Asia and to provide an intellectual platform for the discussion and dissemination of Asian views and practices on contemporary international legal issues. Each volume of the Yearbook normally contains articles and shorter notes, a section on State practice, an overview of Asian states' participation in multilateral treaties, succinct analysis of recent international legal developments in Asia, an agenda section devoted to critical perspectives on international law issues, surveys of the activities of international organizations of special relevance to Asia, and book review, bibliography, and documents sections. It will be of interest to students and academics interested in international law and Asian studies.

Asia's Trouble Spots A. S. Bhalla, 2019-08-06. The art of successful negotiations over protracted conflicts presupposes a political commitment to peace and a willingness to compromise, which are sorely lacking in the current disorderly world. Part of the blame for this lies in weak and ineffective national and global leadership. This book's sharp focus on the role of leadership at different levels—national government, rebel, and Western regional government mediators, as well as that of the UN and non-governmental players in settling intra-state disputes—is a unique feature which sets it apart from others. Much of the existing literature does not adequately discuss the role of the above actors in developing countries. Asia's Trouble Spots is a serious attempt to fill this gap. The seven country studies in Asia—Myanmar, Indonesia, Philippines, Thailand, Sri Lanka, India, and China—discuss inter alia how peace negotiations between national political and rebel leaders have unfolded. The role of state-sponsored cross-border terrorists and non-state spoilers such as Al Qaeda and ISIS is addressed in the context of geopolitical rivalry among regional and global powers. A. S. Bhalla challenges the view that Western leaders can act as impartial mediators in intra-state and inter-state disputes. With few exceptions, their record has been dismal at best. Their failure in conflict resolution arises from a loss of moral authority and credibility which follows the gradual erosion over the years of such liberal values as the rule of law and respect for democracy and human rights. Commercial and strategic self-interests have also tended to undermine peacebuilding efforts.

Different Perceptions on Conflict Resolution Moonis Ahmar, 2005. Proceedings of the Workshop on Teaching and Research Methods in Conflict Resolution held at Karachi during 9–10 October 2004.

Gender and Peacebuilding Maureen P. Flaherty, Thomas G.

Matyók, Sean Byrne, Hamdesa Tuso, 2015-10-16 The twenty first century has brought with it a shift from the notion of human security being located in secure national borders to the need to secure the safety freedom and dignity of all Despite efforts to equalize women s status in the world evidenced by changes in many international projects requiring a gender focus women and men experience most of the world in very different ways according to gender Further the reality is that humans who do not all fall neatly into one of these categories male or female often find their lives further challenged In the 1980s Peace and Conflict Studies first began to acknowledge and study the different experiences males and females have during war and peace Since then there have been books about women and war women working at grassroots levels to build peace women and transitional justice women and peace education and women s views of human security All of these works have contributed to the discourse of our changing world This book brings together some of those themes and voices and adds more with the final product being more than the sum of its parts We add to the conversation a book that considers foundational fundamental issues that span from the interpersonal to the global Many of the chapters describe empirical research completed with author and community shared here for the first time Part One is a collection of case studies documenting challenges and responses to peacebuilding by women from various parts of the world Part Two focuses on Peace and Conflict Studies PACS as a discipline examining not only what is but also what should be taught This section critiques today s efforts at teaching Peace and Conflict Studies and provides suggestions of how this important work might be shared in more open and equitable ways Part Three enters territory found even less in the PACS literature In this section our authors confront patriarchy engage in a discussion about the contribution queer theory makes to PACS and tussle with the notion of inclusivity with considerations of both gender and disability It then ends with a discussion about the contribution feminist methodologies make to PACS
