CORA LEE REAGAN, M.A.

*Director, Kennard School of Special Education
Anaheim, California
Director, Redcliffe Hall Private School
Anaheim, California*

Contained in this volume is a comprehensive program designed to serve as a guide in training for auditory perceptual dysfunction. Uniquely presented in behavioral objective form, the program can be easily followed with one overall objective or goal: to help the child to improve his expectancy level in reading readiness and/or reading and allied language arts after the trainer has presented a program of auditory perceptual training.

Handbook Of Auditory Perceptual Training:

Handbook of Auditory Perceptual Training Cora Lee Reagan, 1973      Handbook of Central Auditory Processing Disorder, Volume II, Second Edition Gail D. Chermak, Frank E. Musiek, 2013-11-06

Chermak and Musiek's two volume award winning handbooks are back in newly revised editions. Extensively revised and expanded, Volume II provides expanded coverage of rehabilitative and professional issues detailing intervention strategies for children and adults. Volume I provides comprehensive coverage of the auditory neuroscience and clinical science needed to accurately diagnose the range of developmental and acquired central auditory processing disorders in children, adults, and older adults. Building on the excellence achieved with the best selling 1st editions which earned the 2007 Speech Language and Hearing Book of the Year Award, the second editions include contributions from world renowned authors detailing major advances in auditory neuroscience and cognitive science, diagnosis, best practice intervention strategies in clinical and school settings, as well as emerging and future directions in diagnosis and intervention. Exciting new chapters for Volume II include:

- Evidence Supporting Auditory Training in Children by Jeffrey Weihs
- Gail D Chermak, Frank E Musiek and Teri James Bellis
- School Policies, Process and Services for Children with CAPD by Georgina T F Lynch and Cynthia M Richburg
- Historical Foundations/Pioneers by James W Hall III and Anuradha R Bantwal
- Remediation of Spatial Processing Issues in CAPD by Sharon Cameron and Harvey Dillon
- The Dichotic Interaural Intensity Difference (DIID) Training by Jeffrey Weihs and Frank E Musiek

Handbook of Reading Disability Research Anne McGill-Franzen, Richard Allington, 2010-09-17 Bringing together a wide range of research on reading disabilities this comprehensive Handbook extends current discussion and thinking beyond a narrowly defined psychometric perspective Emphasizing that learning to read proficiently is a long term developmental process involving many interventions of various kinds all keyed to individual developmental needs it addresses traditional questions What is the nature or causes of reading disabilities How are reading disabilities assessed How should reading disabilities be remediated To what extent is remediation possible but from multiple or alternative perspectives Taking incursions into the broader research literature represented by linguistic and anthropological paradigms as well as psychological and educational research the volume is on the front line in exploring the relation of reading disability to learning and language to poverty and prejudice and to instruction and schooling The editors and authors are distinguished scholars with extensive research experience and publication records and numerous honors and awards from professional organizations representing the range of disciplines in the field of reading disabilities Throughout their contributions are contextualized within the framework of educators struggling to develop concrete instructional practices that meet the learning needs of the lowest achieving readers Resources in Education, 1994 Serves as an index to Eric reports microform

An Ecological Approach to Perceptual Learning and Development Eleanor J. Gibson, Anne D. Pick, 2003-05-15 The essential nature of learning is primarily thought of as a verbal process or function but this notion conveys that pre linguistic infants do not learn Far from being blank slates that passively absorb environmental stimuli infants are active learners who perceptually engage their environments and extract information from them before language is available The ecological approach to perceiving defined as a theory about perceiving by active creatures who look and listen and move around was spearheaded by Eleanor and James Gibson in the 1950s and culminated in James Gibson's last book in 1979 Until now no comprehensive theoretical statement of ecological development has been published since Eleanor Gibson's Principles of Perceptual Learning and Development 1969 In An Ecological Approach to Perceptual Learning and Development distinguished experimental psychologists Eleanor J Gibson and Anne D Pick provide a unique theoretical framework for the ecological approach to understanding perceptual learning and development Perception in accordance with James Gibson's views entails a reciprocal relationship between a person and his or her environment The environment provides resources and opportunities for the person and the person gets information from and acts on the environment The concept of affordance is central to this idea the person acts on what the environment affords as it is appropriate This extraordinary volume covers the development of perception in detail from birth through toddlerhood beginning with the development of communication going on to perceiving and acting on objects and then to locomotion It is more than a presentation of facts about perception as it develops It outlines the ecological approach and shows how it underlies higher cognitive processes such as concept formation as well as discovery of the basic affordances of the environment This impressive work should serve as the capstone for Eleanor J Gibson's distinguished career as a developmental and experimental psychologist     Research in Education ,1974     The relationship between music and language Lutz Jäncke, Traditionally music and language have been treated as different psychological faculties This duality is reflected in older theories about the lateralization of speech and music in that speech functions were thought to be localized on the left and music functions on the right hemisphere But with the advent of modern brain imaging techniques and the improvement of neurophysiological measures to investigate brain functions an entirely new view on the neural and psychological underpinnings of music and speech has evolved The main point of convergence in the findings of these new studies is that music and speech functions have many aspects in common and that several neural modules are similarly involved in speech and music There is also emerging evidence that speech functions can benefit from music functions and vice versa This new research field has accumulated a lot of new information and it is therefore timely to bring together the work of those researchers who have been most visible productive and inspiring in this field and to ask them to present their new work or provide a summary of their laboratory's work     Journal of the Academy of Rehabilitative Audiology ,1987     *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
