Han Yong Un And Yi Kwang Su Two Pioneers Of Modern Korean Literature:

Han Yong-un & Yi Kwang-su Beongcheon Yu, 1992 No other modern Korean writers living under Japanese rule 1910-1945 experienced the history of their country more intimately and intensely than did Han Yong-un and Yi Kwang-su for they were more than writers Han was an eminent Buddhist monk and Yi was an equally prominent national leader Their careers crossed often involving politics journalism literature and religion And yet they lived a world apart pursuing opposite paths Han was revered for his fierce commitment to Korean independence and his single volume of poems The Silence of My Beloved Yi despite all his contributions to the development of modern Korean literature particularly his first novel Heartless has been branded a traitor for his collaboration with the Japanese Even during their lifetimes both attained a mythical status and have since become legends of modern Korea In this first book length study of Han and Yi in English Beongcheon Yu seeks to demythify them and reassess their achievements as writers He surveys their careers reviewing significant events and patterns in their lives and then confronts their literary works weighing whatever permanence they may claim Yu's introduction provides a historical background of modern Korea and his conclusion brings Han and Yi together pairing them as has never been done in an attempt to understand them more clearly as men and as writers As is evident in their biographical sketches Han and Yi had full careers so colorful and fascinating that they constantly disrupt our proper critical attention to their writings Yu in his deliberate contrast of their literary achievements provides a study of these two highly influential men that is informative and stimulating to general readers and at the same time provocative and challenging to specialists

Buddhist Postmodern Ethics and the editor of several books including Buddhisms and Deconstructions Everything Yearned For, 2013-02-08 Manhae 1879 1944 or Han Yongun was a Korean Buddhist Son monk during the era of Japanese colonial occupation 1910 1945 Manhae is a political and cultural hero in Korea and his works are studied by college students and school children alike Everything Yearned For is a collection of 88 love poems evocative of the mystical love poetry of Rumi and even reminiscent of the work of Pablo Neruda Though Manhae's poetry can be read allegorically on many levels political and religious it is completely unlike any other poetry in Buddhist or secular realm The first poem My Lover's Silence narrates the lover's departure and establishes the enduring themes of the work the happiness of meeting the sadness of separation the agony of longing and waiting and most of all the perfection of love in absence that demands the cost of one's ongoing life as opposed to the relief of death The Korean word translated in these poems as love and lover is nim though nim has many and broad interpretations Understandably the identity of Manhae's lover or nim has been the subject of much speculation Manhae writes in his own preface Nim is not only a human lover but everything yearned for All beings are nim for the Buddha and philosophy is the nim of Kant The spring rain is nim for the rose and Italy is the nim of Mazzini Nim is what I love but it also loves me If romantic love is freedom then so is my nim But aren't you attached to the lofty name of freedom Don't you also have a nim If so it's only your shadow I write these poems for the young lambs wandering lost on the road home from the darkening plains
