Open All Hours Graham McCann, 2014-10-30 From its first episode in 1973 Open All Hours was an instant hit Audiences around Britain loved its familiar setting good natured humour and the hilarious partnership of Ronnie Barker and David Jason Whilst it only ran for 26 episodes it firmly cemented itself as a British comedy classic To celebrate the 40th anniversary of the show in 2014 the BBC revived it for a one off Christmas Special Still Open All Hours was swamped by a tsunami of audience affection and the BBC promptly commissioned a full series The first episode of the fifth series is expected to air in late 2014 With recollections from David Jason his fellow cast members and from the scriptwriter Roy Clarke plus never before seen BBC archive material acclaimed popular TV historian Graham McCann tells the inside story of this very British sitcom with wit insight and affection Do You Think That's Wise? Graham McCann, 2010-09-25 Best known for Dad's Army in which his Sergeant Wilson played the languid rakish foil to Arthur Lowe's pompous chippy Captain Mainwaring John Le Mesurier was one of Britain's favourite and most recognisable character actors. The epitome of insouciance and languor on screen, in real life this charming quietly spoken bon viveur was plagued by private turmoil and heartbreak. Married three times, he saw his first wife succumb to alcoholism, his second, the comedy diva Hattie Jacques, move her lover into the family home, and his third, enjoy a passionate dalliance with troubled comic Tony Hancock. As Graham McCann reveals in this fully authorised and moving biography, as an actor John Le Mesurier was a key ingredient in the success of Britain's greatest sitcom, but as a man he was far more courageous than Sergeant Wilson was ever meant to be. Sit Down and Cheer Martin Kelner, 2012-09-27

Television and sport is the ultimate marriage of convenience. The two circled each other warily for a while, sport anxious the sofa-bound might spurn the live product, TV reluctant in a limited channel world to hand over too much screen time to flannelled fools and muddled oafs. But they got together and stayed together for the sake of the money, and now you cannot imagine one without the other. They are indivisible, like an old couple sitting in a teashop, finishing each other's sentences, and there is little doubt which is the dominant partner. You have only to think of the recent sports stars who have left their muddy fields to don sequins, grab partners and tango their way across the stage in ultimate Saturday night television style to see how far the two have come on their journey together. In Sit Down and Cheer Martin Kelner traces the development of this relationship from its humble origins in the 1960 Olympics, by way of the first ever Match of the Day in 1964, through to the financial impact of Sky, right up to the high-tech gadgetry of our present-day viewing. Insightful and very funny, this is an entertaining exploration of two major national pastimes, and not to be missed. Docudrama on European Television Tobias Ebbrecht-Hartmann, Derek Paget, 2016-07-12

This book explores docudrama as a creative response to troubled times. With generic characteristics formed via traditions in theatre as well as film, and with claims to fact underscored by investigative journalism, television docudrama examines key events and personalities in unfolding national histories. Post-Fall of the Berlin Wall, docudrama has become a means for nations to work through traumatic experiences both within national borders and Europe-wide. In this regard, it is an important genre for television networks as they attempt to make sense of complex current events. These authors offer a template for further study and point towards ways in which European television cultures beyond those discussed here might be considered in the future.
