Good Intentions Writing Center Work For Postmodern Times:

Good Intentions Nancy Maloney Grimm, 1999 Writing centers cannot resolve the national confusion about literacy but over time they can contribute to a better understanding and more democratic approaches to literacy education But to do this writing centers need to be more fully engaged with the paradox of literacy the way that literacy both dominates and liberates both demands submission and offers the promise of agency Nancy Grimm believes that postmodern theory which emphasizes the diversity of our society offers the best opportunities for this engagement Her book offers a fundamental reconsideration of writing center work work she maintains that must be informed by an understanding of the cultural role of literacy education Because so many educational practices are based on tacit assumptions about the normal way to do things Grimm argues that both the teaching and tutoring of literacy must be informed by a radical reconsideration of academic fairness Change will depend on the willingness of comfortably situated people to open themselves to authentic listening and the possibilities of having their world views transformed by writing center students Good intentions alone particularly good intentions grounded in a missionary narrative are not enough to overcome the potentially oppressive nature of literacy education Grimm begins by positioning the debate about the function of the writing center in the larger cultural conflict created by postmodern conditions She locates writing center work within the historical contradictions of literacy then analyzes the way composition teaching regulates an academic identity She goes on to show how postmodern theories of subjectivity offer ways to intervene in that regulation After reconceptualizing the politics of writing center administration Grimm ultimately argues for a conception of fairness that holds writing center workers responsible for not only granting students membership to the academic literacy club but also for changing the gates of that club when change is necessary Good Intentions is essential reading for educators involved with writing centers in any capacity whether they be directors researchers professional and undergraduate staff or simply teachers of students who use writing centers

Around the Texts of Writing Center Work R. Mark Hall, 2017-05-01 Around the Texts of Writing Center Work reveals the conceptual frameworks found in and created by ordinary writing center documents The values and beliefs underlying course syllabi policy statements website copy and comments assessment plans promotional flyers and annual reports critically inform writing center practices including the vital undertaking of tutor education In each chapter author R Mark Hall focuses on a particular document He examines its origins its use by writing center instructors and tutors and its engagement with enduring disciplinary challenges in the field of composition such as tutoring and program assessment He then analyzes each document in the contexts of the conceptual framework at the heart of its creation and everyday application activity theory communities of practice discourse analysis reflective practice and inquiry based learning Around the Texts of Writing Center Work approaches the analysis of writing center documents with an inquiry stance a call for curiosity and skepticism toward existing and proposed conceptual frameworks in the hope that the theoretically conscious evaluation and revision of commonplace documents will lead to greater efficacy and more abundant research by writing center administrators and students

The Writing Center Director's Resource Book Christina Murphy, Byron Stay, 2012-11-12 The Writing Center Director's Resource Book has been developed to serve as a guide to writing center professionals in carrying out their various roles duties and responsibilities It is a resource for those whose jobs not only encompass a wide range of tasks but also require a broad knowledge of multiple issues The volume provides information on the most significant areas of writing center work that writing center professionals both new and seasoned are likely to encounter It is structured for use in diverse institutional settings providing both current knowledge as well as case studies of specific settings that represent the types of challenges and possible outcomes writing center professionals may experience This blend of theory with actual practice provides a multi dimensional view of writing center work In the end this book serves not only as a resource but also as a guide to future directions for the writing center which will continue to evolve in response to a myriad of new challenges that will lie ahead

Writing Centers and the New Racism Laura Greenfield, Karen Rowan, 2011-12-16 Noting a lack of sustained and productive dialogue about race in university writing center scholarship the editors of this volume have created a rich resource for writing center tutors administrators and scholars Motivated by a scholarly interest in race and whiteness studies and by an ethical commitment to anti racism work contributors address a series of related questions How does institutionalized racism in American education shape the culture of literacy and language education in the writing center How does racism operate in the discourses of writing center scholarship lore and how may writing centers be unwittingly complicit in racist practices How can they meaningfully operationalize anti racist work How do they persevere through the difficulty and messiness of negotiating race and racism in their daily practice The conscientious nuanced attention to race in this volume is meant to model what it means to be bold in engagement with these hard questions and to spur the kind of sustained productive multi vocal and challenging dialogue that with a few significant exceptions has been absent from the field

Writing Center Research Paula Gillespie, Alice Gillam, Lady Falls Brown, Byron Stay, 2001-12-01 There are writing centers at almost every college and university in the United States and there is an emerging body of professional discourse research and writing about them The goal of this book is to open formalize and further the dialogue about research in and about writing centers The original essays in this volume all written by writing center researchers directly address current concerns in several ways they encourage studies data collection and publication by offering detailed reflective accounts of research they encourage a diversity of approaches by demonstrating a range of methodologies e g ethnography longitudinal case study rhetorical analysis teacher research available to both veteran and novice writing center professionals they advance an ongoing conversation about writing center research by explicitly addressing epistemological and ethical issues The book aims to encourage and guide other researchers while at the same time offering new knowledge that has resulted from the studies it analyzes

collection writing program and writing center administrators from a range of academic institutions come together to explore their work through the lens of sensemaking Sensemaking is an organizational theory concept that enables institutions supervisors teachers tutors and others to better understand the work they do by using narrative metaphor and other theoretical lenses The book is divided into two sections Sensemaking with Tutors and Teachers and Sensemaking and Institutional Structures Chapter authors employ several theoretical approaches to sensemaking ranging from individual experience to institutional history to document design providing readers with ideas for how to administer and teach within their programs more effectively how to advocate for their programs within larger university contexts and how to positively influence the lives and careers of those they work with Sensemaking for Writing Programs and Writing Centers theorizes daily experiences from working lives and suggests problem solving strategies Writing program administrators writing department chairs and writing center directors tutors and staff will find value in its pages A Guide to Composition

Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies Andrea Alden, Kendall Gerdes, Judy Holiday, Ryan Skinnell, 2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley's body of work Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion For Crowley theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion invention The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently to discover new possibilities for thought and action and thereby to effect change in the world The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley s notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies It will be valuable to scholars teachers and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race gender and disability theories religious rhetorics digital rhetoric and the history of rhetoric Publication supported in part by the Texas Tech University Humanities Center Contributors Jason Barrett Fox Geoffrey Clegg Kirsti Cole Joshua Daniel Wariya Diane Davis Rebecca Disrud Bre Garrett Catherine C Gouge Debra Hawhee Matthew Heard Joshua C Hilst David G Holmes Bruce Horner William B Lalicker Jennifer Lin LeMesurier James C McDonald Timothy Oleksiak Dawn Penich Thacker J Blake Scott Victor J Vitanza Susan Wyche Unlimited Players Holly Ryan,Stephanie Vie,2022-06-15 Unlimited Players provides writing center scholars with new approaches to engaging with multimodality in the writing center through the lenses of games play and digital literacies Considering how game scholarship can productively deepen existing writing center conversations regarding the role of creativity play and engagement this book helps practitioners approach a variety of practices such as starting new writing centers engaging tutors and writers developing tutor education programs developing new ways to approach multimodal and digital compositions brought to the writing center and engaging with ongoing scholarly conversations in the field The collection opens with theoretically driven chapters that approach writing center work through the lens of games and play These chapters cover a range of topics including considerations of identity empathy and power productive language play during tutoring sessions and writing center heuristics The last section of the book includes games written in the form of tabletop game directions that directors can use for staff development or tutors can play with writers to help them develop their skills and practices No other text offers a theoretical and practical approach to theorizing and using games in the writing center Unlimited Players provides a new perspective on the long standing challenges facing writing center scholars and offers insight into the complex questions raised in issues of multimodality emerging technologies tutor education identity construction and many more It will be significant to writing center directors and administrators and those who teach tutor training courses Our Body of Work Melissa Nicolas,Anna Sicari,2022-09-15 Our Body of Work invites administrators and teachers to consider how physical bodies inform everyday work and labor as well as research and administrative practices in writing programs Combining academic and personal essays from a wide array of voices it opens a meaningful discussion about the physicality of bodily experiences in the academy Open exchanges enable complex and nuanced conversations about intersectionality and how racism sexism classism and ableism among other isms create systems of power Contributors examine how these conversations are framed around work practices policies and research and identify ways to create inclusive embodied practices in writing programs and classrooms The collection is organized to maximize representation in the areas of race gender identity ability and class by featuring scholarly chapters followed by narratively focused interchapters that respond to and engage with the scholarly work The honest and emotionally powerful stories in Our Body of Work expose problematic and normalizing policies practices and procedures and offer diverse theories and methodologies that provide multiple paths for individuals to follow to make the academy more inclusive and welcoming for all bodies It will be an important resource for researchers as well a valuable addition to graduate and undergraduate syllabi on embodiment writing instruction pedagogy and WPA work Contributors Dena Arendall Janel Atlas Hayat Bedaiwi Elizabeth Boquet Lauren Brentnell Triauna Carey Denise Comer Joshua Daniel Michael Faris Rebecca Gerdes McClain Morgan Gross Nabila Hijazi Jacquelyn Hoermann Elliott Maureen Johnson Jasmine Kar Tang Elitza Kotzeva Michelle LaFrance Jasmine Lee Lynn C Lewis Mary Lourdes Silva Rita Malenczyk Anna Rita Napoleone Julie Prebel Rebecca Rodriguez Carey Ryan Skinnell Trixie Smith Stacey Waite Kelsey Walker Shannon Walters Isaac Wang Jennie Young

Linguistic Justice on Campus Brooke R. Schreiber, Eunjeong Lee, Jennifer T. Johnson, Norah Fahim, 2021-12-06 This book supports writing educators on college campuses to work towards linguistic equity and social justice for multilingual students It demonstrates how recent advances in theories on language literacy and race can be translated into pedagogical and administrative practice in a variety of contexts within US higher educational institutions The chapters are split across three thematic sections translingual and anti discriminatory pedagogy and practices professional development and administrative work and advocacy in the writing center The book offers practice based examples which aim to counter linguistic racism and promote language pluralism in and out of classrooms including teacher training creating pedagogical spaces for multilingual students to negotiate language standards and enacting anti racist and translingual pedagogies across disciplines and in writing centers
