Rethinking Lyric Communities Irene Fantappiè, Francesco Giusti, Laura Scuriatti, 2024-10-28 In contemporary Western societies lyric poetry is often considered an elitist or solipsistic literary genre Yet a closer look at its history reveals that lyric has always been intertwined with the politics of community formation from the imagining of national and transnational discursive communities to the use of poetry in episodes of collective action protest and social resistance Poetic forms have circulated between languages and traditions from around the world and across time But how does lyric poetry address or even create communities and of what kinds This volume takes a global perspective to investigate poetic communities in dialogue with recent developments in lyric theory and concepts of community In doing so it explores both the political potentialities and the perils of lyric poetry Sexuality, Intimacy, Power Muriel Dimen, 2013-06-17 Can contemporary psychoanalysis tell us anything about sexuality that is new and clinically meaningful It most certainly can answers Muriel Dimen in Sexuality Intimacy Power a compelling attempt to revivify Freud's core interest in sexual impulses in the ordinary sense of the term But there is nothing ordinary about Dimen's project Drawing on contemporary relational theory feminism and postmodernism she takes a sustained sometimes irreverent look at assumptions about psychosexuality For Dimen the shift from dualism to multiplicity that has reshaped a range of disciplines can also be brought to bear on our thinking about sexuality She urges us to return to the open mindedness hiding between the lines and buried in the footnotes of Freud's writings and to replace the determinism into which his thought has hardened with more fluid notions of contingency paradox and thirdness By unveiling the colloquy among psychoanalysis social theory and feminism Dimen challenges clinicians and academicians alike to rethink ideas about gender eroticism and perversion She explores among other topics the relations between Lust and libido the limitations of Darwinian thought in theorizing homosexuality the body as projective test and the intimate tangle of love and hate between women Generous clinical examples illustrate the ways in which a radical re-visioning of psychosexuality benefits therapists and patients alike Mixing medium and message Dimen draws on a variety of disciplines and styles to delineate the ambiguities contradictions and paradoxes that subtend sexuality in all its personal and clinical complexity A brilliant example of contemporary psychoanalytic theory at its destabilizing best Sexuality Intimacy Power is equally a historical document that will intrigue and enlighten students of women's gender and queer studies and will resonate deeply with everyone whether you are old or young rich or poor religious or not traditional or modern It will touch you deeply awaken your spirituality and connect you to your true self allowing you to become the best version you can be Why do I think so negatively How can I break out of negative patterns Negative thinking is a tragic pattern that many of us fall prey to Sadly we do it because we've been programmed to do it One part of it stems from our basic culture of education and discipline which is a system based on punishments rather than rewards The children who do well and behave are ignored and the kids who cause problems are the ones who get all the attention We constantly hear You're stupid you're bad you're this you're that and we internalize it The other part of it comes from the rest of the culture media politics etc that is rooted in and founded upon convincing us that we are lacking something in our lives that they are going to fulfil This is called marketing If you already have everything how am I going to sell you something If you're already satisfied you're not a very good customer especially if what I'm selling is not something you need I need you to feel that there is something missing in you which my product is going to solve Either you are too dark or too fair your hair is too straight or too curly you're too fat or too thin you're wearing last year's model of jeans This is how advertising works I feel anxiety in many situations Is anxiety a bad thing First of all it's important to remember that nothing we experience is bad The only bad thing is thinking that what we feel is wrong because then we end up separating ourselves from ourselves We want to be good we want to think and act in good ways so the minute we label something inside of us as bad we've cut ourselves off from it So when we examine anxiety it is not bad per se However what does it do It makes our heart race When we feel stressed and anxious our heart rate rushes our blood pressure goes up all of our energy literally rushes to the extremities It's our fight or flight response We are biologically primed and ready in that moment to either fight or flee That response would be very useful if we were living in a cave and had to protect ourselves from tigers or bears or warring tribes but it's not very helpful in the world we live in We need that rush of adrenaline to be able to outrun a threat or to climb a tree But we cannot live in a state of openness and expansion while simultaneously running or fighting Either the world is something to be afraid of or the world is something to be one with but it can't be both Every minute that we feel anxiety what our body is telling us on a physiological level is that this situation is dangerous And that's not a healthy way to live The question then becomes how do we stop feeling anxious Every time you feel anxious ask yourself Is this really a situation where I want to separate myself from the world And if not then ask yourself how you can expand the way you think of yourself Ground yourself in your breath Try to experience a state of oneness with the people around you rather than a sense of separation because where there's oneness there's no fear Where there's fear you feel separation Anxiety takes us away from the truth of who we are And on a spiritual path we want to be closer to who we are What is meditation Meditation is a noun not a verb It is more who we are than just what we do seated on a cushion for a few minutes or hours each day It is knowing and living as the True Self It is not a complex esoteric skill that only experts can perform such as feats of gymnastics or long division without using paper

Meditation is what gets us back in touch with who we really are but without judgement or analysis Meditation creates stillness in the mind so that we are able to genuinely live and experience the Truth of who we are Our problems are not outside they are inside Our minds run around and repeat stories to us stories that we've taken in from our culture our life Stories that we're too much of this not enough of that that we should be like this and not like that and so on It's that judging commentating voice We internalize that voice and most of us hear it all day long on repeat If we listened to our thoughts intently we would notice that the vast majority of them are utterly useless and make little sense Then there comes in thoughts about who others are who they should be what they're doing what they should be doing and all of the judgement yearning longing wishing and aversion that clog our minds It's not who we are it's just what our thinking mind has been habituated to doing mechanically Meditation gives us the experience of what it would be like if this weren't going on all the time It's not a very complex skill but the lack of complexity doesn't mean it's easy This is because of the games that the mind plays Don't think that unless you've got lots of free time to learn meditation you won't succeed If you're able to just breathe it out as it comes whatever it is that comes and bring your awareness back to the breath you are meditating and it will ground you back in the truth of who you are Meditation brings us back into a place of real awareness awareness without judgement and analysis open eyed witnessing of who we are and what's there when we remove the non self from our identification

Through meditation we are able to peel back layer after layer Across Generations Nancy Foner, 2009-05 Immigrants and their American born children represent about one quarter of the United States population Drawing on rich in depth ethnographic research the fascinating case studies in Across Generations examine the intricacies of relations between the generations in a broad range of immigrant groups from Latin America Asia the Caribbean and Africa and give a sense of what everyday life is like in immigrant families Moving beyond the cliché of the children of immigrants engaging in pitched battles against tradition bound parents from the old country these vivid essays offer a nuanced view that brings out the ties that bind the generations as well as the tensions that divide them Tackling key issues like parental discipline marriage choices educational and occupational expectations legal status and transnational family ties Across Generations brings crucial insights to our understanding of the United States as a nation of immigrants Contributors Leisy Abrego JoAnn D Alisera Joanna Dreby Yen Le Espiritu Greta Gilbertson Nazli Kibria Cecilia Menjivar Jennifer E Sykes Mary C Waters and Min Zhou

Women's Agency and Educational Policy mutindi mumbua kiluva-ndunda, 2000-10-19 This fascinating book examines rural African women's experiences of education in Kilome Kenya providing engrossing and oftentimes heartbreaking testimony on the cultural historical social economic and political factors that have shaped and continue to shape women's educational and economic opportunities there As a Kamba woman who grew up in rural Kenya and as one who received an education in the metropolitan cities of North America the author presents these women's stories not simply from an insider's perspective but as one who has shared experiences of the issues discussed in the book Highlighting the struggles these women face to provide their children particularly their daughters with educational opportunities the author draws attention to the gender and power issues that limit women's participation in the public sphere and illustrates how women in Kenya have been largely absent at the national level where educational policies are formulated

Feminist Nightmares: Women At Odds Susan Ostrov Weisser, Jennifer Fleischner, 1994-10 Though all women are women no woman is only a woman wrote Elizabeth Spelman in The Inessential Woman Gone are the days when feminism translated simply into the advocacy of equality for women Women's interests are not always aligned race class and sexuality complicate the equation In recent years feminist ideologies have become increasingly diverse Today one feminist's most ardent political opponent may well be another feminist As feminism grows increasingly diverse the time has come to ask a painful and frequently avoided question what does it mean for women to oppress women This pathbreaking provocative anthology addresses this troublesome dilemma from various feminist perspectives offering an interdisciplinary collection of writings that widens our understanding of oppression to take into account women who are at odds The book examines the social political and psychological ramifications of this phenomenon as evidenced in a range of texts from women's antislavery writing to women's anti-abortion writing from mother-daughter incest stories to maternal surrogacy narratives from the Bible to the popular romance novel from Jane Austen to Alice Walker The value of the volume is perhaps best summed up by an early response to the idea This is a book that should never be written feminists should concentrate on how men oppress women Ironically it is precisely because the subject triggers such responses the authors argue that a volume such as Feminist Nightmares has become a necessity
