Martinez, 1998-10-13 Dolores Martinez heads an international team of scholars in this lively discussion of Japanese popular culture The book s contributors include Japanese as well as British Icelandic and North American writers offering a diversity of views of what Japanese popular culture is and how it is best approached and understood They bring an anthropological perspective to a broad range of topics including sumo karaoke manga vampires women s magazines soccer and morning television Through these topics many of which have never previously been addressed by scholars the contributors also explore several deeper themes the construction of gender in Japan the impact of globalisation and modern consumerism and the rapidly shifting boundaries of Japanese culture and identity This innovative study will appeal to those interested in Japanese culture sociology and cultural anthropology

Religion in Japanese Daily Life David C. Lewis, 2017-09-22 Are Japanese people religious and if so in what ways David Lewis addresses this question from the perspective of ordinary Japanese people in the context of their life cycles and explores why they engage in religious activities He not only discusses how Japanese people engage in different religious practices as they encounter new events in their lives but also analyses the attitudes and motivations behind their behaviour Activities such as fortune telling religious rites in the workplace ancestral rites and visits to shrines and temples are actually engaged in by many people who view themselves as non religious but express their motivations in terms other than the conventional religious ones This book outlines the religious options available and assesses why people choose particular religious activities at various times in their lives or in specific circumstances The author challenges some widespread assumptions about religion in urban and industrial contexts and also shows how some of the underlying motivations behind Japanese behaviour are expressed both in religious and non religious forms     The Christian Century ,1925     Simmon's Spice Mill ,1916     The National Magazine ,1917
