Goona Goona:

The British Expedition to Abyssinia Henry Montague Hozier, 1869 The Third Eye Fatimah Tobing Rony, 1996 Charting the intersection of technology and ideology cultural production and social science Fatimah Tobing Rony explores early twentieth century representations of non Western indigenous peoples in films ranging from the documentary to the spectacular to the scientific Turning the gaze of the ethnographic camera back onto itself bringing the perspective of a third eye to bear on the invention of the primitive other Rony reveals the collaboration of anthropology and popular culture in Western constructions of race gender nation and empire Her work demonstrates the significance of these constructions and more generally of ethnographic cinema for understanding issues of identity In films as seemingly dissimilar as Nanook of the North King Kong and research footage of West Africans from an 1895 Paris ethnographic exposition Rony exposes a shared fascination with and anxiety over race She shows how photographic realism contributed to popular and scientific notions of evolution race and civilization and how in turn anthropology understood and critiqued its own use of photographic technology Looking beyond negative Western images of the Other Rony considers performance strategies that disrupt these images for example the use of open resistance recontextualization and parody in the films of Katherine Dunham and Zora Neale Hurston or the performances of Josephine Baker She also draws on the work of contemporary artists such as Lorna Simpson and Victor Masayesva Jr and writers such as Frantz Fanon and James Baldwin who unveil the language of racialization in ethnographic cinema Elegantly written and richly illustrated innovative in theory and original in method The Third Eye is a remarkable interdisciplinary contribution to critical thought in film studies anthropology cultural studies art history postcolonial studies and women s studies New York Supreme Court, Sites. Bodies and Stories Susan Legêne, Bambang Purwanto, Henk Schulte Nordholt, 2015-06-22 Sites Bodies and Stories examines the intimate links between history and heritage as they have developed in postcolonial Indonesia Sites discussed in the book include Borobudur in Central Java a village in Flores built around megalithic formations and ancestral houses in Alor Bodies refers to legacies of physical anthropology exhibition practices and Hollywood movies The Stories are accounts of the Mambesak movement in Papua the inclusion of wayang puppetry in UNESCO's List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity and subaltern history as written by the people of Blambangan in their search for national heroes Throughout the book citizenship entitlement figures as a leitmotif in heritage initiatives Contemporary heritage formation in Indonesia is intrinsically linked to a canon of Indonesian art and culture developed during Dutch colonial rule institutionalized within Indonesia s heritage infrastructure and in the Netherlands and echoed in museums and exhibitions throughout the world The authors in this volume acknowledge colonial legacies but argue against a colonial determinism considering instead how contemporary heritage initiatives can lead to new interpretations of the past Thrills Untapped 2 Michael R.
