Townes,2002-02-28 In How the Laser Happened Nobel laureate Charles Townes provides a highly personal look at some of the leading events in twentieth century physics Townes was inventor of the maser of which the laser is one example an originator of spectroscopy using microwaves and a pioneer in the study of gas clouds in galaxies and around stars Throughout his career he has also been deeply engaged with issues outside of academic research He worked on applied research projects for Bell Labs served on the board of directors for General Motors and devoted extensive effort to advising the government on science policy and defense This memoir traces his multifaceted career from its beginnings on the family farm in South Carolina Spanning decades of ground breaking research the book provides a hands on description of how working scientists and inventors get their ideas It also gives a behind the scenes look at the scientific community showing how scientists respond to new ideas and how they approach a variety of issues from priority and patents to the social and political implications of their work In addition Townes touches on the sociology of science uncovering some of the traditions and values that are invisible to an outsider A towering and energetic figure Townes has explored or pioneered most of the roles available to the modern scientist In addition to fundamental research he was actively involved in the practical uses of the laser and in the court cases to defend the patent rights He was a founding member of the JASONs an influential group of scientists that independently advises the government on defense policy and he played an active part in scientific decisions and policies from the Truman through the Reagan administration This lively memoir packed with first hand accounts and historical anecdotes is an invaluable resource for anyone interested in the history of science and an inspiring example for students considering scientific careers

Laser Nick Taylor, 2002-01-09 The fascinating true story of Gordon Gould s successful thirty year struggle to assert himself as the rightful inventor of the laser and a myth shattering behind the scenes account of the American patent process The insight struck Gould with the force of revelation He sat bolt upright in bed marveling at its perfection Soon he was at his desk writing at the top of a page in his laboratory notebook Some rough calculations on the feasibility of a Laser Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation So began the invention of the laser in 1957 a machine that changed industry medicine and science and much of modern life Gordon Gould was a graduate student with a checkered past and a yen to invent but he had a blind spot when it came to patent rights And when a respected professor with an office next to Gould s electrified the scientific world with his own claims on the laser Gould was in for the fight of a lifetime For the next thirty years Gould battled the U S Patent Office and manufacturers to enforce his rights as the laser s inventor Rebuffed he was even denied security clearance to work on his own in iDisrupted Michael Baxter,2015-10-16 iDisrupted changing the human race forever Technology is set to transform the world Its likely impact is both terrifying and incredibly exciting We all need to understand the great changes that are just beginning to re shape the human domain and our daily lives Then we need to draw up plans There are few challenges more important This book is for People who want a job in ten years time Employers who want to hire the right talent for the future Students of business and business professionals who want to understand how technology will transform the commercial world Business leaders and shareholders who want the business they run or own to flourish and not get swept away Investors endeavouring to understand the possible impact of new technology and to place the right bets Policy makers needing to understand the potentially devastating impact of tech economics and tech politics to make the right decision for their country And above all those of us who care about the future of the human race Technologies to watch Robotics internet of things technologies for the promotion of a sharing economy artificial intelligence 3D printing stem cell research genome sequencing energy storage lasers solar power new materials virtual reality nanotechnology brain interfaces to computers and above all else the internet mixed with computers following the evolutionary trajectory described by Moore s Law Principles and Practices in Cutaneous Laser Surgery Arielle Kauvar,George Hruza,2005-09-20 Will full color photographs throughout this reference demonstrates and assesses various technologies and methods to effectively perform laser treatments for a variety of cutaneous disorders emphasizing the selection of the appropriate laser for each clinical situation practical treatment guidelines and the avoidance of complications in the pract Beam : The Race to Make the Laser Jeff Hecht,2005-02-11 In 1954 Charles Townes invented the laser s microwave cousin the maser The next logical step was to extend the same physical principles to the shorter wavelengths of light but the idea did not catch fire until October 1957 when Townes asked Gordon Gould about Gould s research on using light to excite thallium atoms Each took the idea and ran with it The independent minded Gould sought the fortune of an independent inventor the professorial Townes sought the fame of scientific recognition Townes enlisted the help of his brother in law Arthur Schawlow and got Bell Labs into the race Gould turned his ideas into a patent application and a million dollar defense contract They soon had company Ali Javan one of Townes s former students began pulling 90 hour weeks at Bell Labs with colleague Bill Bennett And far away in California a bright young physicist named Ted Maiman became a very dark horse in the race While Schawlow proclaimed that ruby could never make a laser Maiman slowly convinced himself it would As others struggled with recalcitrant equipment and military secrecy Maiman built a tiny and elegant device that fit in the palm of his hand His ruby laser worked the first time he tried it on May 16 1960 but afterwards he had to battle for acceptance as the man who made the first laser Beam is a fascinating tale of a remarkable and powerful invention that has become a symbol of modern technology Amazing American Inventors of the 20th Century Laura S.
