

Jill Tomlinson

A detailed illustration of a young gorilla hanging from a thick, brown vine. The gorilla is positioned horizontally, with its head to the right and its body extending to the left. It has dark brown, shaggy fur and a gentle expression. The vine is thick and textured, with a few small leaves visible. The background is a solid, light green color.

The Gorilla Who Wanted to Grow Up Jill Tomlinson, 1998-10      PSHE and Citizenship Judy Hunter, Sheila Phillips, 2002
For primary teachers this book covers the core and foundation subjects for National Curriculum PSHE and Citizenship courses The photocopiable activities cover key topics that are linked to the outcomes identified in the Crick report

Children and Primary Geography Patrick Wiegand, 1998-09-01 Primary teachers in the UK have to understand the National Curriculum and know how to implement it This text aims to provide primary teachers with a practical introduction to teaching geography at Key Stage 2 to Level 5 and beyond and is suitable for non specialists      Places In The Primary School Patrick Wiegand, 2012-10-12 Using a cross curricular approach Wiegand discusses the knowledge necessary for preparing children for life in a pluralist society Looking at theories of education for citizenship environment education and economic and industrial understanding it examines the evidence for what children know and feel about their own country other countries and people in distant places He offers practical suggestions for curriculum planning and classroom activities in the primary school and examines ways in which project work on different localities can be initiated and developed      The Waking Spell Carol Dawson, 2012-08-01 When Sarah Grissom is seven years old her brother and her cousins the Northgates play a trick on her They pretend there is a ghost in the attic of their grandmother's big rambling East Texas house and they take Sarah up to meet it It's just a game for the others but Sarah senses a frightening thing there a presence Is it a ghost Without a doubt there is something something cold something deadly lurking in the Northgate attic Carol Dawson's The Waking Spell is a penetrating look at the specter that has haunted the women of this East Texas family since the late 1890s when Sarah's vain well bred great grandmother found herself plunged suddenly into a raw rough edged wilderness across the Red River from civilization It was a place where no one understood manners or proper sentiments or refinement where the only thing a proper lady could do was retreat into silence and secrets Over the years silence and secrets have become an unspoken rule an invisible bond of repression and frustration passed down from mother to daughter In Carol Dawson's first novel we follow Sarah's long journey hope through her family's history to confront the malignant silence that has haunted the lives of the Northgate women for nearly a century Like Josephine Humphreys in Dreams of Sleep Carol Dawson writes of women struggling to find their own voices and identities in a male dominated world of convention that punishes daring stifles initiative and encourages silence      Quotation Index to Children's Literature Melanie Axel-Lute, 2001-04-15 Not just an anthology this extensive index offers keyword title and author name access to more than 1 800 quotations from nearly 500 classic award winning and popular works for children Pearls of humor and wisdom from authors such as the Brothers Grimm Dr Seuss Judith Viorst and Shel Silverstein are at your fingertips Very few quotations have been indexed in other works making this a unique tool to find that elusive quote A sure to please reference tool for school and public libraries not just in children's departments this book helps you identify the source of unusual terms or names such as tesseract or Who ville and

Dreamer Philip M. Bromberg,2013-06-17 In Awakening the Dreamer Clinical Journeys Philip Bromberg continues the illuminating explorations into dissociation and clinical process begun in Standing in the Spaces 1998 Bromberg is among our most gifted clinical writers especially in his unique ability to record peripheral variations in relatedness those subtle split second changes that capture the powerful workings of dissociation and chart the changing self states that analyst and patient bring to the moment For Bromberg a model of mind premised on the centrality of self states and dissociation not only offers the optimal lens for comprehending and interpreting clinical data it also provides maximum leverage for achieving true intersubjective relatedness And this manner of looking at clinical data offers the best vantage point for integrating psychoanalytic experience with the burgeoning findings of contemporary neuroscience cognitive and developmental psychology and attachment research Dreams are approached not as texts in need of deciphering but as means of contacting genuine but not yet fully conscious self states From here he explores how the patient s dreamer and the analyst s dreamer can come together to turn the real into the really real of mutative therapeutic dialogue The difficult frequently traumatized patient is newly appraised in terms of tensions within the therapeutic dyad And then there is the haunted patient who carries a sense of preordained doom through years of otherwise productive work until the analyst can finally feel the patient s doom as his or her own Laced with Bromberg s characteristic honesty humor and thoughtfulness these essays elegantly attest to the mind s reliance on dissociation in both normal and pathological variants in the ongoing effort to maintain self organization Awakening the Dreamer no less than Standing in the Spaces is destined to become a permanent part of the literature on therapeutic process and change Hearst's International ,1922 The British National Bibliography
