Gossip Reputation And Knowledge In Zinacantan:

Gossip, Reputation, and Knowledge in Zinacantan John Beard Haviland, 1977 This book examines the creation of cultural rules via conversation specifically gossip Focusing on a linguistic analysis of the Mayan language Tzotzil the author provides both transcriptions and analysis of conversation focusing on how the language is used to gain perpetuate or ruin reputations and to manipulate opinions

The Decline of Community in Zinacantan Frank Cancian, 1994-10-01 This ambitious wide ranging work shows how national economic prosperity and government expansion in Mexico during the 1970 s transformed a relatively closed peasant community into a more outwardly connected socially differentiated society marked by dissension and overt conflict

Discreet Indiscretions J rg R. Bergmann, Although discourse theory tends to draw upon lofty examples Discreet Indiscretions draws instead on one many consider inconsequential Bergmann treats daily gossip both friendly and malicious as the genre of everyday communication and thereby in need of serious analysis Utilizing discourse theory and ethnomethodology this study shifts among several kinds of terrain the sociology of language the sociology of knowledge and the sociology of culture It rests on widespread individual observations on gossip in the existing literature of social science and on the investigation of real gossip recorded in conversations in the field and reproduced here as transcribed segments By exploring the complex relations of friendship and loyalty with respect to transmitting knowledge about the personal affairs of others he develops his thesis that gossip should be defined not as a control mechanism but rather as the social organization of discreet indiscretions

The Crimes of Women in Early Modern Germany Ulinka Rublack, 2001 The Crimes of Women in Early Modern Germany is a fascinating study of deviant women It is the first scholarly account of how women were prosecuted for theft infanticide and sexual crimes in early modern Germany and challenges the assumption that women were treated more leniently than men Ulinka Rublack uses criminal trials to illuminate the social status and conflicts of women living through the Reformation and Thirty Years War telling for the first time the stories of cutpurses maidservants dangerous liaisons and artisans troubled marriages She provides a thought provoking analysis of labelling and sentencing processes and of the punishments inflicted on those found guilty Above all she brilliantly engages with the way ordinary women experienced authority and sexuality household and community
