Advancing the Global Agenda for Human Rights, Vulnerable Populations, and Environmental Sustainability Mary V. Alfred, Petra A. Robinson, Elizabeth A. Roumell, 2021-10-01 For over 70 years the United Nations has worked to advance human conditions globally through its historic agenda for a more peaceful prosperous and just world Through the work of the General Assembly and other programs like the UNESCO World Conferences on Adult Education the organization has taken a leading role in bringing world leaders together to dialogue on world issues and to set agendas for advancing social and economic justice among and within the regions of the world The underlying themes of the United Nations agenda over the years have been world peace economic justice addressing the needs of the world s most vulnerable populations and protecting the environment We draw from the two last two declarations from which the Millennium Development Goals September 2000 and the Sustainable Development Goals September 2015 were adopted by world leaders with a focus on addressing the needs of the most vulnerable populations. In this declaration, world leaders committed to uphold the long-standing principles of the organization and to combat extreme poverty, hunger, disease, illiteracy, environmental degradation, and discrimination and violence against women. The overall objective of the book is to highlight the conditions of vulnerable populations from various contexts globally and the role adult and higher education can play and is playing in advancing the United Nations agenda of social and economic justice and environmental sustainability. Adult education through research, teaching, and service engagements is contributing to this ongoing effort, but as many scholars have noted, our work remains invisible and undocumented. Therefore, this book highlights adult education's critical partnership in addressing these global issues. It will also begin to fill the void that exists in adult education literature on internationalization of the field.

IJER Vol 13-N4 International Journal of Educational Reform, 2005-02-23. The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform (IJER) is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities. As the only peer-reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors' voices without regard for the political affiliations, perspectives, or research methodologies, IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream. To this end, IJER includes, but is not limited to, inquiry-based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration, curriculum, instruction, law, and research. IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision-making roles and policymakers at all levels, since it provides a broad-based conversation between and among policymakers, practitioners, and academicians about reform goals, objectives, and methods for success throughout the world. Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked. IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes. Finally, it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U.S. and the world.

Governance in Higher Education Nehme Azoury, Georges Yahchouchi, 2023-12-27. Over the years, the education sector has witnessed substantial transformations and developments driven primarily by the rapid growth of technology and inventive pedagogical approaches. In the MENA region, these changes have been particularly noteworthy as educational institutions are striving to keep pace with global advancements while addressing unique regional challenges. Set against this context, this book delves into two pivotal dimensions that have surfaced as vital for thriving in today's educational sphere, with a strong emphasis on the MENA region's distinct characteristics and opportunities. The first dimension explores the evolution and challenges in governance encompassing the organizational frameworks, decision-making mechanisms, and policies that empower educational institutions in the MENA region to adapt to the shifting environment. The second dimension zeroes in on the metamorphosis of education itself, emphasizing the innovative tools assignments and methodologies that are accessible to educators in the region and discussing the balance between these elements and effective university governance By offering an exhaustive and up to date examination of these two dimensions this book imparts invaluable insights and pragmatic guidance to educational professionals policymakers and students alike all with a focus on the MENA region It aims to equip readers with the knowledge and abilities required to successfully navigate the new educational landscape and excel in the world of academia while highlighting the unique potential and prospects of the region s educational institutions Transforming Pedagogies Through Engagement with Learners, Teachers and Communities Dat Bao,Thanh Pham,2021-06-12 This book identifies three types of influential forces that pose challenges to innovations socio cultural dynamics teacher individuality and local circumstances It uses languages cultural traits and intellectual heritages in the Asia Pacific region as an example to show the resistance to Western based pedagogies due to disparities between the innovations and these local heritages It reveals personal and professional values that teachers hold and how these values while seemingly supporting creative ideologies happen to prevent them from incorporating innovations in their practices The book discusses how informal educational activities and services that a society possesses could impede pedagogical innovations There is therefore a need for institutions and educators to develop a positive relationship between these phenomena and teaching innovations Second International Handbook of Lifelong Learning

David N. Aspin,Judith Chapman,Karen Evans,Richard Bagnall,2012-01-18 The second edition of the International Handbook of Lifelong Learning is extensive innovative and international in scope remit and vision inviting its readers to engage in a critical re appraisal of the theme of lifelong learning It is a thorough going rigorous and scholarly work with profound and wide ranging implications for the future of educating institutions and agencies of all kinds in the conception planning and delivery of lifelong learning initiatives Lifelong learning requires a wholly new philosophy of learning education and training one that aims to facilitate a coherent set of links and pathways between work school and education and recognises the necessity for government to give incentives to industry and their employees so they can truly invest in lifelong learning It is also a concept that is premised on the understanding of a learning society in which everyone independent of race creed or gender is entitled to quality learning that is truly excellent This book recognises the need for profound changes in education and for goals that are critically important to education economic advancement and social involvement To those concerned about the future of our society our economy and educational provision this book provides a richly illuminating basis for powerful debate Drawing extensively on policy analyses conceptual thinking and examples of informed and world standard practice in lifelong learning endeavours in the field both editors and authors seek to focus readers attention on the many issues and decisions that must be addressed if lifelong learning is to become a reality for us all Universities and the Public Sphere Brian Pusser,Ken Kempner,Simon Marginson,Imanol Ordorika,2012-05-22 In this volume international contributors challenge prevalent views of the global marketplace to create a deeper understanding of higher education s role in knowledge creation and nation building
