Gullibles Travails:

Gullibles James Kennedy, 2018-11-15 This is a humorous memory of a boy growing up in Norfolk from the thirties to the present day about relationships the Second World War and its effect on ordinary folk on the Home Front and life after the war as I grew up The terror of being bombed the uncertainty of where the next meal came from and the stoicism of women trying to manage the needs of their families while their menfolk were fighting in other countries We kids mainly thought the war was exciting better than the Cinema until we realised the realities of it Despite all the dark side of war the Brits never lost their sense of humour I'm sure it helped us to cope with whatever was thrown at us by Adolph and his gang discovers that she is emphatically not neurotypical She has prosopagnosia faceblindness stereoblindness aphantasia an inability to create mental imagery and a condition called severely deficient autobiographical memory As Dingfelder begins to see herself more clearly she discovers a vast well of hidden neurodiversity in the world at large There are so many different flavors of human consciousness and most of us just assume that ours is the norm Can you visualize Do you have an inner monologue Are you always 100 percent sure whether you know someone or not If you can perform any of these mental feats you may be surprised to learn that many people including Dingfelder can't A lively blend of personal narrative and popular science Do I Know You is the story of one unusual mind's attempt to understand itself and a fascinating exploration of the remarkable breadth of human experience The Weariness, the Fever, and the Fret Katherine McCuaig, 1999 An ancient disease which predates man tuberculosis was one of the earliest chronic life threatening diseases faced by Canadians By 1900 The White Plague was the number one cause of death for Canadians between fifteen and forty five years of age Racked by incessant coughing barely able to catch their breath tuberculosis sufferers seemed to literally waste away Body and Mind Graeme Davison, Pat Jalland, Wilfrid Prest, 2009-07-15 Body and Mind pays tribute to one of Australia's most outstanding and influential historians F B Barry Smith Barry has made pioneering contributions to the political social and cultural histories of Britain and Australia and these essays range across the fields he made his own especially the interconnected histories of medicine body and ideas mind The editors bring together several generations of Barry's admirers colleagues friends and pupils including Joanna Bourke writing on war and industrial trauma Peter Edwards on the Agent Orange controversy Pat Jalland on death in the London Blitz and Phillipa Mein Smith on the idea of Australasia Body and Mind is a salute to the inestimable work and the life and times of F B Smith The New Age, 1925 Blunt Offerings Don Addis, 2001-09-14 A collection of the best and most durable humor columns by St Petersburg Times editorial cartoonist humorist Don Addis whose gift for writing humor has been recognized and exploited by his happy employers for over a quarter of a century Politics government love social habits fads foolish behaviors news events whose silliness grows more comical with time rhapsodizations on the wacky way we are all seen through the uniquely warped vision of a professional comic artist who knows absurdity when he sees it and knows how to put a point on it Franz Kafka, The Jewish Patient Sander Gilman, 2023-01-06 This is the first book about Kafka that uses the writer's medical records Gilman explores the relation of the body to cultural myths and brings a unique and fascinating perspective to Kafka's life and writings Annals of Gullibility Stephen Greenspan, 2008-12-30 The first book to provide a comprehensive look at the problem of gullibility this groundbreaking work covers how and why we are fooled in areas that range from religion politics science and medicine to personal finance and relationships First laying the groundwork by showing gullibility at play in the writings of historic authors we all know developmental psychologist Stephen Greenspan follows with chapters that describe social duping across the gamut of human conduct From people who pour bucks into investment scams to those who follow the faith of
